Napoleon in Sing Sing.

It is not generally known to the world at large, says the New York Times, that Emperor Napoleon III., of France, was once behind the bars in Sing Sing prison. In the spring of 1837 Prince Louis Napoleon, afterwards Napoleon III., Emperor of France, made a visit to Washington Irving at Sunnyside, a little north of Irvington-on-the Hudson, accompanied by a young French count, and escorted by Anthony Constant, of Hastings. Prince Napoleon expressed a desire to visit the prison at Sing Sing, and Mr. Constant drove him there. Upon arriving at the prison, the party was welcomed by Warden Rowel, who, after taking them into his apartments, explained the means that had been attended with the most successful and beneficial results in the government of the prison. The warden told the prince, who had been an interested listener, that he had a convict in the prison, a Frenchman, who was an old soldier, claiming to have fought at Waterloo and to have been in several battles with Napoleon, the first Emperor. The prince naturally asked to see the man. The warden then explained that the prisoner was in a dark cell for misconduct; that it was contrary to prison rules to take him out, but as the guests were going to visit the cells he would open the door of the Frenchman's cell.

Then all followed the warden down the stairs and across the keyroom and the narrow passages to the galleries, where the cells were and are to this day. He paused at the second cell on the right-hand tier of the main galleries and unlocked and opened the door. Louis Napoleon stepped inside. The warden, with a merry twinkle in his eye, turned the key and locked him in. It was too good an opportunity to be lost. The gentlemen were amused and brimming over with fun, when, after a momentary detention, the door was opened and the noble Frenchman joined them once more. They all enjoyed the joke except the subject of it. His sallow countenance reddened perceptibly for a time and then he joined in the laugh raised at his expense.

Ben Franklin's Wit.

One of the anecdotes told of Ben Franklin's youth is in connection with his visit to London when he was 19 years of age. He was in search of work, and having learned the printer's trade went straight to a printing office and made known his errand. The foreman said, rather superciliously:

"Ah, a lad from America seeking employment as a printer! Well, do you really understand the art of printing? Can you set type?"

Young Franklin stepped to one of the cases and in a brief space set up these words from John's gospel: "Nathaniel said unto him, can any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip saith unto him, come and see." The test conveyed such a delicate rebuke, and the work was so quickly and accurately done that a position was given him at once.

From Sea to Land.

The West Indian migratory crab is the only creature that is born in the sea, matures in fresh waters and passes its adult life on land. Once a year these creatures migrate in thousands from the uplands of Jamaica, deposit their larvæ in the sea, then migrate to the rivers and streams, pass through a fresh water stage, after which they follow their parents to land until the time comes for them to return to the sea to lay their eggs.

The Salmon's Annual Migration.

Every year, as the summer season approaches, the salmon of the Atlantic Ocean leave their feeding grounds in the northern seas and enter the clear, cool rivers of the extreme eastern United States and the Canadian provinces. Impelled by a singular instinct, this noble fish, day after day, week after week, works its way toward the heads of the streams, up the swiftest rapids and through the quiet pools, leaping every obstruction. During the whole summer this great army pushes onward, dividing at the forks of a river and breaking up into still smaller bands where tributaries enter. Of the great multitude that left the ocean, every fish has reached the very spot, the very pool where it was born and lived the first eight months of its life—except the many that never passed the cruel nets, and those that jumped at the beautiful flies which are tied to long silken lines, or else, dazzled by the gleam of torches, were pulled into canoes by men with spears.

At length the object of their weary march is attained, and so the army disbands. The long journey has been conducted in a leisurely way, only a few miles each day, but with wonderful persistence. Enemies in the water, fishermen with rods and reels, and poachers with spears thin their ranks; but those that reach their homes at the heads of the rivers are protected by a wise law, which prohibits their capture from the time when they begin to lay their eggs until the anchor ice, choking the streams, drives back to the sea the fish, now lean and hungry with long fasting; for the salmon is a dainty feeder in its summer home, reaching the most tempting and alluring flies only occasionally. Yet a tiny young salmon, called a "parr," having attained the first six or eight inches of its length in fresh water, returns the following year a year-old salmon, or "grilse," of four pounds weight.

Japanese Types.

There are two totally distinct types in Japan, which may almost be said to be each other's opposites. The first, which the Japanese themselves call the Chinese or Corean, is the more common. Those belonging to it have round faces, flat noses, full cheeks, rather thick lips—very pretty ones of en—and very good white teeth. Those belonging to the second, or true Japanese type have long and comparatively pale faces, noses arched like the beak of a bird, thin lips, large eyes with not very strongly marked eyebrows, teeth mostly good, always very white, but often long and irregular. This is the aristocratic type, which when at its best is really worthy of admiration. To be called handsome a Japanese must belong to it, whilst those of the Chinese cast of countenance are never more than pretty.

Strange to say, the moral character of the sections of the community differs as much as does their appearance. I have noticed that, as a general rule, those with Chinese faces are gay, laughing and restless, full of careless good humor, whilst the others are silent, indifferent, melancholy, sometimes even dismal.

The Bachelor and the Baby.

It is hard enough, anyway, for a bachelor to hold a baby, but is simply torture when it is the baby of the girl who jilted him heartlessly only three years before.

ALL THREE CURED.

Neil McKechnie, with his wife and mother-in-law Cured of Constipation by Dodd's Kidney Pills—These Pills better Than Ordinary Cathartics.

TORONTO, Feb. 19.—Neil McKechnie, a popular barber of this city, has been a sufferer from chronic constipation for years. He used Dodd's Kidney Pills and not only obtained immediate relief, but a permanent cure. His wife and mother-in-law were similarly afflicted, and used these pills with the same good result. Ordinary cathartics give only temporary relief and leave the patient worse than before using them. While Dodd's Kidney Pills are not cathartics, their peculiar action on the liver and kidneys is such that the causes of constipation are permanently removed. These pills are manufactured by Dr. L. A. Smith & Co., Toronto, and are sold by all dealers, or will be mailed on receipt of price; fifty cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50.

Senator Hill's declaration of his opposition to the income tax feature of the tariff bill, and his statement in regard to protection, show clearly enough that there was some truth in the rumors that were in circulation some time ago that he had made a deal with the Republican senators.

AN OLD TRANSLATION.

The following Scotch translation of the 23rd psalm is said to be 200 years old:

The sheep-keepin o' the Lord 's kind an' canny, and he gets a howff at lang last: David keeps his sheep; the Lord keeps David.

Ane heigh-lilt o' David's.

6. E'en sae, sal gude-guidin an' gude-gree gang wi' me, ilk day o' my livin; an' evir mair syne, i' the Lord's ain howff, at lang last, sal I mak bydan.

Too Late for the Train.

It is impossible to "catch a train" when you are a minute too late, while on the other hand "catching a cold" is almost impossible to avoid. If you have "caught a cold" obtain at once a bottle of Hawker's Tolu and Wild Cherry Balsam; it will quickly put it to flight. It is a certain cure for Coughs Colds, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness and all throat and lung troubles. Safe and pleasant to take, sure to cure. Sold everywhere, 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

NEARLY COST A LIFE.

"Education," said Farmer Williams, "is a mighty good thing, but sometimes it does more harm than good. I oncet knowed of a case where edication came pretty nigh drowndin' a pretty young lady," he went on.

"How was that?"

"Why she fell into the water, an' bein' too polite to holler 'Help,' she yelled out 'Assistance.' An' the fool of a farm hand that heard her lost about five minutes makin' up 'is mind whether to pull her out or go home fur a dictionary."

The modiste may have the artistic and aesthetic sense, but except she have the right material to work upon, the result will be, not a creation, which every lady desires in a costume. Priestley's well known dress fabrics, by their softness, richness and wonderful quality of perfect fitting and draping, achieve beautiful results in the hands of the tasteful dressmaker. Ladies should ask for Priestley's famous black dress goods.....

The greatest flesh and blood makea in existance and a life-saver to consumptives is Miller's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil, "the kind that cures" bronchitis, coughs, colds and all lung troubles. Every bottle warranted. No oily taste like others. In big bottles, 50c. and $1.00, at druggists. .....

How to Get a Sunlight Picture.

Send 25 "Sunlight" Soap wrappers (wrappers bearing the words "Why Does a Woman Look Old Sooner Than a Man") to Levey Bros., Ltd., 43 Scott St., Toronto, and you will receive by post a pretty picture free from advertising, and well worth framing. This is an easy way to decorate your home. The soap is the best in the market and it will only cost 1 c. postage to send in the wrappers, if you leave the ends open. Write your address carefully.

A Port Arthur, Ont., despatch says that Major Wetmore, of Denver and New York returned to Nepigmon lately from Nu Lake (north), where the Major hoisted the Stars and Stripes. The question now is whether this is a breach of the international law.

The oil of the Norwegian Cod Liver is nature's grand restorative, and is only found in its entirely and purity in Miller's Emulsion, "the kind that cures" colds, coughs, bronchitis and all affections of the throat and lungs. 1. The whole civilized world has been interested in the Great Celebration. The crowned heads of Europe, the governments of all the famous nations of the globe, the lands of the Orient and the islands of the sea have all been co-operating to render the Exhibition worthy of the greatest event of modern times. Its magnitude and marvelous character can only be described by saying that it has comprised all the rarest products of land and sea, the most dazzling wonders of nature and the grandest productions of human genius.

2. The Great Fair which celebrates the discovery of America by Columbus has never been equalled. It was larger and more magnificent than any similar exhibition ever held. Over twenty million dollars was expended in its grand spacious buildings, and the result was the most attractive Exhibition the world ever saw.

3. This gorgeous display is vividly portrayed in our PICTORIAL HISTORY OF THE WORLD'S COLUMBIAN EXPOSITION. This captivating volume is a brilliant panorama of the Great Fair which has awakened such a world-wide interest.

This wonderful work is a royal octavo volume of over 800 large double-column pages, 10½ inches long by 7½ inches wide. It contains nearly twice the amount of matter in an ordinary quarto book, and is therefore equal to a large volume of 1600 pages.

It contains a complete history of the World-renowned Exposition at Chicago; captivating descriptions of the magnificent Buildings and marvellous Exhibits, such as Works of Art, Textile Fabrics, Machinery, Natural Products, Latest Inventions, Discoveries, etc., with a full description of Chicago, its wonderful Buildings, Parks, etc., by ex-Governor Wm. E. Cameron, of the World's Columbian Exposition History Co., with an introduction by Hon. Thomas W. Palmer, ex-U. S. Senator and ex-Minister to Spain, including a chapter on the Women's Department by Frances E. Willard, President of the World's and National Woman's Christian Temperance Unions.
