MARCH, 10, 1898.
WHEAT GROWING.

Another Mill for P. E. Island Wheat Growers to Supply.

A little over three years ago some of the enterprising business men of New Glasgow, Nova Scotia, conceived the idea of building a modern flour mill with machinery for manufacturing corn-meal and girded as well, and thus by manufacturing these products keep at home a large part of the money that is sent abroad.

They at once set themselves to work and gave the question a most careful and searching investigation and found, after looking into the business to be done and knowing the results of some of the mills of the west, that a modern mill with the improved roller process would undoubtedly be a financial success. A strong company was at once formed and a desirable site secured on the East River in the town of New Glasgow where the plant is erected. The mill and elevator were designed and the machinery constructed by the best mill builders of Ontario, and as a result the company has one of the latest and most up-to-date mills in Canada. The mill is eighty seven feet high and the elevator ninety feet high. The elevator is also situated alongside the river that vessels can be discharged, and cars standing on the rail track on the opposite side unloaded at the same time. With the late improved "shipper" an ordinary vessel can be discharged in a few hours. The mill building is large and spacious and when it was being constructed provision was made that, if at any time, it was found necessary to increase the capacity it could be done with the least possible cost.

New Glasgow is a great distributing point and the centre of a large consuming population. With railway facilities that few towns in the province are favoured with it is one of the most desirable, if not the most desirable, places in the Maritime Provinces to carry on such an enterprise. By water, corn is brought in from the American and wheat from the Canadian Lake ports and put alongside the company's elevator without transshipments. Until a few months ago the company used mostly altogether Ontario and Manitoba wheats brought in during the navigation season by water from the Lake ports down the St. Lawrence.

The company is now grinding over 300,000 bushels annually besides corn; and it is expected that the output will be largely increased during the next year. When the company started it was expected that only Ontario and Manitoba wheats would be used, but some native wheats were sent to the mill to test and the result was very gratifying indeed.

Then attention was at once directed to Prince Edward Island as being a great wheat-producing province and several cars of wheat were ordered, and during the last few months the Island wheats have been fairly tested and while some kinds have no commercial value to the company yet many of them compare favorably with wheats from Ontario. It takes a little more Island wheat than of Ontario to make a barrel of flour, because it is softer and cannot be milled as closely as Ontario wheat, but the flour from the best Island wheat ground with the roller process is equal to any on the market.

The company has decided to take all the good, sound, dry clean wheat that the Island produces and pay cash for it; and there does not seem to be any good reason why the Island farmer should not make wheat growing one of his principal and most profitable farming industries. The test has shown that the wheats most suitable for the company's purposes are Red Fife, White Fife and White Chaff; and of these three White Fife and White Chaff are preferred. Many others have been tested, such as Colorado Bearded and White Russia, but they have proven to be too starchy and soft to be of commercial value. As the farmer will soon be selecting his seed wheat, it will be well for him to select the Fifes and White Chaff; for they are just as easily grown and will find a much more ready market.

If the farmers will exercise due care in preparing the soil, selecting good clean wheat of the right kind and harvesting and cleaning the grain, they will have no trouble in disposing of all the wheat the Island produces at a fair market price, to the

New Glasgow Milling Company. The grinding capacity of the mill can be quite easily increased whenever the necessity demands it, so the farmers need not there fore fear over production of the kinds of wheat the New Glasgow Milling Company requires.

As the freight rates from the Island are so high by rail and boat as compared with the rates from New Glasgow to the western points, the Company recommends the farmer to clean up his wheat as soon as it comes off the field; for the Company next season will purchase in the early Autumn so that it can be brought direct from the Island points to New Glasgow in schooners before navigation closes.

MARCH MAGAZINES.

The Canadian Home Journal.
The Canadian Home Journal for March is the best number of that periodical that ever came off the press, and has never been excelled by any Canadian publication. It contains a short contribution from Hon. F. E. A. Evans, Speaker of the Ontario Legislature, with his biography, photograph and autograph. Dr. P. H. Bryce, Sec retary of the Ontario Board of Health, one of the best known physicians in Canada, contributes the first of a series of twelve articles on health. The Women's Historical Association is explained by Mary Agnes Fitzgibbon as she alone can do it. Kate Westlake Yeigh describes the Lake of the Woods, and four handsome pictures illustrate her article. Julia Arthur, the famous Canadian actress who has won world-wide laurels, is one of a talented Hamilton family, and five illustrations, made especially for The Journal accompany Miss Minnie J. Nesbit's article about her sisters. Girls who work should read what Miss G. C. M. White says about them. The children will enjoy "Molly" and "The Elfins' Cave" will fascinate them. The story of a Canadian song, the new woman, and the usual department and music complete an exceptionally interesting number. The Canadian Home Journal, McKinnon Building, Toronto.

ENTERTAINMENT AT PLEASANT GROVE.

A very successful entertainment was recently held at Pleasant Grove Church, under the management of the W. M. After a few well chosen remarks by the chairman, Mr. Amos West, the following programme was rendered:

- Recitation.....Miss Bertha Duck
- Recitation.....The Missionary Call
- Solo.....Miss Lottie Deacon
- Solo.....Miss Chapelle

- Music.....Miss Chapelle
- Reading.....A Call and its Answer
- Recitation.....Mrs Geo Duck and Miss Eliza Vessey
- Recitation.....Silver Plate
- Singing.....Miss Laura West

Special mention should be made of the reading by Miss Bertha Duck, recitation by Miss Laura West, singing by Mrs. R. Opie and last but not least the instructive reading by Miss Eliza Vessey.

The meeting closed with an address by the chairman. Thus ended one of the most enjoyable evenings of the season, and we hope ere long to have the pleasure of listening to another such entertainment.
ONE WHO WAS PRESENT.

STANHOPE NOTES.

Owing to the late storm the roads are not in a very good condition, in consequence of which mud and ice hauling are suspended for the present.

Our genial merchant, Mr. R. Carr, is doing quite an extensive business this winter, we wish him success.

Our school is progressing favourably under the management of Mr. A. Lawson, who has shown himself in every way to be fitted for the position.

Miss Chappelle, of Charlottetown, is visiting friends in this vicinity.

We are glad to see some of our old bachelors making a move in the right direction and we hope ere long to see more of them follow the example.

Stanhope like all other places is proud of its fine horses, some of which may be seen any night practising on the road.

Klondike has not taken much effect on the young men of Stanhope, all of whom seem to be contented with the comforts Prince Edward Island can supply.

The measles are very prevalent around here this winter.

OBITUARY

It is our sad duty to record the demise of Rebecca McAulay, beloved wife of Daniel McIsaac, Souris, whose death, from congestion of the lungs, took place on Thursday. Mrs. McIsaac had been attending her brother-in-law, Mr. Donald McIsaac, of New Harmony, who had a severe attack of pneumonia and, no doubt, contracted the disease. She was but one week sick and had been previously a healthy and robust woman. She was a daughter of Mr. D. McAulay of Tracadie, and was a sister of M. J. John McPhee, of Souris Line Road. She was married to Mr. McIsaac about eleven years ago, having lived in Boston many years previously. The deceased was a very fine woman, charitable to a degree, able and willing to do her share of labor on the farm, and with her husband was prospering as few farmers have done in the agricultural depression of the last few years. Their farm, and homestead situated outside of the town, is one of the very best in the country,—the broad acres, tasteful and commodious buildings, neat fences,—and all the modern machinery on the place—go to show that Mr. McIsaac had a true helpmeet in every sense of the word. She, died trusting in the merits of her Saviour, and is enjoying heavenly comforts and peace that the world cannot give. "For mercy shall encompass him that hopeth in the Lord" and, "Blessed are they whose iniquities are forgiven, and whose sins are covered". The funeral on Saturday was one of the largest and most respectable witnessed at St. Mary's. The EXAMINER extends its sincere sympathy to the bereaved husband, in this his hour of sorrow.

A COMPLAINT.

Sir,—In the list of Grand Jurymen, as given in the EXAMINER last week, I am pained, but not surprised, to find the names of two Catholics. Does Sheriff McDonald, who, I understand, appoints the Grand Jurymen, consider the Catholics of Kings County unfit to serve as jurors? Is it considered dangerous to the safety of the State to here a decent representation of Catholics let alone a large majority of them, together in the jury box? Would a majority of Catholics serving in the honorable capacity of Grand Jurors be likely to hatch a "gunpowder plot" and, probably destroy the Court House, judge and lawyers at one blow? Manifestly, this must be the chief reason why only two or three Catholics are ever in the grand jury panel; or are the old penal-laws yet in force in the vicinity of the Georgetown Court House? All this, while the Catholics are two to one may three to one, in Kings County! Is this treatment of Catholics in accordance with equal rights? As a matter of fact the number of Catholics on the Grand Jury at Georgetown should be exactly reversed, two or three Protestants and nine or ten Catholics.

A VERITABLE KLONDIKE.

The ladies in connection with the Presbyterian Church at Little Sands have great cause for gratification at the success which attended their Concert and Basket Social, in aid of the funds for the construction of their handsome new church, on the evening of the 1st inst, when the magnificent sum of $101.70 was realized. Long before the hour for opening arrived every available seat in the old church which was artistically decorated for the occasion, was occupied, and standing room was at a premium, but the large crowd was such a good natured and happy one, that the best of order prevailed throughout. A choice, though rather short, programme consisting of singing, readings and recitation, was admirably rendered, reflecting great credit on the performers. It is unnecessary to particularize, as the hearty applause accorded each number is sufficient guarantee of how favourably it was received. The numerous and handsome baskets were offered at auction by Mr. A. J. McInnis, of Murray River, to whose well known ability in this line is largely due the financial success of the evening. The committee hereby desire to most heartily thank all and sundry who in any way contributed towards making this the most successful affair of the kind ever held in this vicinity.

WHY IT NEVER LOSES SHAPE

The invisible "staying" is its bone and muscle. Best cloths stretch and "bag" from weight in pockets, moisture, wear and tear. Stout linen strips brace and bind every pocket in "Fit-Reform" coats, resisting strain, and swinging weight direct from shoulders.

Soft finished shrunken canvas interlines the fronts, being moulded round by the needle (not merely pressed) into form of chest and shoulders.

A linen tape stitched "short" along edge of coat gives that inward curve of best tailored garments.

No cheap "Custom Made" nor other "ready made" has these hidden merits of "Fit-Reform."
