The Perfect Pitcher

JIM BUNNING, acquired by Philadelphia Phillies from Detroit Tigers last winter, entered the major league's select group of perfect-game pitchers Sunday afternoon as he put the double-whammy on those buffooning New York Mets. The score was 6-0.

Bunning, who became the first man to hurl a winning no-hitter in both the National and American Leagues, also became the first in 42 years to pitch a perfect game in regular season play and win. Charley Robertson hurled a perfect game for Chicago White Sox April 20, 1922, defeating Detroit 2-0.

Don Larsen of New York Yanks pitched a perfect game Oct. 8, 1956, but it came in the World Series against Brooklyn Dodgers. Harvey Haddix of Pittsburgh turned in 12 innings of perfect ball May 26, 1959, against Nilwaukee but lost in the 13th, 1-0, on an error, a walk and a double by Joe Adcock.

While with the Tigers, Bunning's last no-hitter came at the expense of Boston Red Sox, 3-0, July 20, 1958.

Tom Hughes was the only other in modern times to pitch a nine-inning no-hitter in both the American and National Leagues. Hughes accomplished the feat with New York Highlanders in 1910 and Boston Braves in 1916. Hughes however lost the first one in 11 innings to Cleveland.

Bunning, who has a record of 7-2, struck out 10 batters and had a three-ball count on only two batters. Said catcher Gus Triandos: "Bunning had real good stuff all day. He had a good slider, good fast ball, good curve. We started just about every hitter with a slider, but his curve was his strike-out pitch.

And A Fielding Gem

MORE OFTEN than not a standout pitching performance can be credited to an outfielder or infielder just as much as the man on the mound because of an outstanding fielding play. So was the case in Sunday's game.

Bunning's great defensive play was turned in by second baseman Tony Taylor in the fifth inning. Jesse Gonder drove a wicked grounder into the hole between first and second. Taylor made a spectacular diving stop while on his knees, tossed it to Don Herrnstein at first for the out. Had it not been for Taylor, Bunning would have pitched just another one-hitter.

One of the greatest remembered pitching performances in modern times was Larsen's perfect game in the World Series against the Dodgers in 1956. Larsen too was saved by chance and some fine fielding.

The first dazzling infield play in the Larsen classic came in the second inning when Andy Carey, at third base for the Yanks, deflected Jackie Robinson's hot smash to the left of third base into the hands of shortstop Gil McDougall, who fired to first to nip Robinson by a half step.

The second life saver for Larsen came in the fifth inning. With one away Gil Hodges slammed the ball deep left centre, but fleet-footed Mickey Mantle took off with the crack of the bat and made a great running, backhand catch as he was headed full till for the bleachers.

But Larsen's luck didn't end with the two fielding gems. Two Dodgers missed home runs by less than two feet. Duke Snider pulled one just outside the foul line in right field in the fourth. Perfect Game Larsen, as he was called for a few years following his feat, came awful close to being called just plain ol' Don Larsen for all of his career.

Off The Cuff

TOMMY JACOBS had the inside track entering the final 18 holes of the U.S. National Open Golf Championships at Washington Saturday as he led KEN VENTURA by two strokes. Ventura followed up his brilliant 66 in the third round with a fine 71 over the fourth however, while the best Jacobs could do was 76. Ventura's top position won him $17,000. . . . SPEEDY SCOT harness racing's horse of the Year for 1963, won the $65,000 American - National Maturity Trot with ease in Chicago Saturday night. The 4-year-old driven by Ralph Baldwin and owned by Castleton Farm of Lexington, won by five lengths. CHOIR BOY, a 15-1 shot was second and Filler, third in the seven-horse field.

In City Baseball action tonight the BIKE SHOP tangles with Stead's Pharmacy, and on the softball front, Johnnie's Flying Hawks meet The B.I.S. SHAMROCKS . . . We saw part of a baseball game and part of a softball game in Summerside Saturday. The baseball game began 30 minutes before the softball, but as soon as the latter was in full swing many of the fans who were watching the ball, found their way over to the softball diamond. The softballers put on a good show—plenty of speed, lots of hustle, noise and a good ball game atmosphere. The baseball game was a lot different however.—Fans don't mind a little sloppy play but they can't stand laziness and lack of noise and hustle by the infielders and outfielders. If baseball wants to sell itself it will have to put on a better show than we saw in Summerside Saturday . . . NORTHERN DANCER, the greatest horse ever bred in Canada, won't be remembered because of his wins but because he was the horse who didn't win the BELMONT STAKES in a shot at the American Triple Crown.

DIVIDED DIVE

Dairy Wallops P.E.I. Regiment

Sunshine Island Dairy rapped two pitchers for 15 hits and 18 runs as they whipped P. E. I. Regiment 16-1 in Charlottetown Senior Baseball action at Memorial Field last night.

The Dairy had base runners in every inning and scored in all innings but the second, third and seventh and eighth. It was the most top-sided game of the current season.

Billie Weatherbie went the distance on the mound for the Dairy, getting his second win of the season with a seven hitter. He struck out nine, walked one and hit one.

McQUAID LOSES

Carl McQuaid started for the losers but was ineffective, even in the early innings. Playing coach Forbie Kennedy relieved McQuaid mid-way in the game but couldn't silence the bats of the Dairymen.

The Dairy scored two runs in the first, three in the second, three in the fifth, two in the sixth and wound up the ninth with eight runs and five hits.

The Regiment scored their one run in the fifth when Bill Sherry, Kennedy and Len Baglole rallied for singles

Freddie MacDonald paced the Dairy attack with four singles and four runs in six trips to the plate. Joe Gallant had a triple and two singles in six at bats and Weatherbie clouted a homer and two singles in five trips. Don Campbell was 3-for-6 and John Kane and Blanchard each had two hits.

Track Meeting At Birchwood

A meeting to form an Islanders Track and Field Club will be held at Birchwood High School, Wednesday evening, 7 p.m.

Persons interested in competing, coaching or officiating with the club are invited to attend the meeting, under the direction of Dave Boswell and John Kane.

Those unable to attend are asked to telephone or write Mr. Boswell or Mr. Kane at the Department of Education, Charlottetown.

Persons organizing the Islanders Club have invited anyone who finished in the top three places in recent county school competitions to register with the club for regular practices and competitions. Competitors who have completed their schooling are also encouraged to join.

The top athletes in the Islanders Club will be selected by the club coaches to represent the province in the top track meets in Prince Edward Island and on the mainland.

Movers Down RCAF Squad

Coastal Movers took over first place last night by defeating RCAF 5-2 at the Air Force base. Coastal Movers have won seven and lost two and the RCAF won six and lost three.

With the score tied 2-2 going into the seventh inning Doug Allen lined out a two run single enabling the Movers to dump the air men and pitcher John Sandiland.

'Marty' Martin picked up the win for Coastal Movers, his second of the season. Doug Tucker belted a home run, double and a single in leading the Coastal Movers attack. Martin aided his own cause by getting two hits in four trips. Teammate Harris went two for two.

Phillips and Aucoin led the air force hitters with two hits apiece while LeBlanc and Bird laced one hit each.

English Golf Enthusiast Is Bidding For Prestige

LONDON (CP) — The letter M, repeated five times, spells championship golf for one enthusiastic Englishman.

In a remarkable experiment, 63-year-old Ernest Butten is out to prove that his five-M formula can boost Britain back into big-time golf headlines within three years.

Hard cash—his own—is on the line. He is investing £30,000 in four up-and-coming professionals who have pledged themselves to stick to a tough training program including special diet, progressive weight-resistance exercises, cross-country running and concentrated drilling on green, rough and fairway.

All in their early 20s, the four pros draw salary and expenses. If they win tournaments, Butten expects some of his money back, but the main aim is British prestige.

"No Englishman has won a British Open since Max Faulkner in 1951," Butten said in an interview, "and none has won the U.S. Open since way back in 1920, if you exclude Tommy Armour who was a Scot and went to live in America."

Donning blue track suits, the golfing guinea pigs do their physical training at what is described as the world's first "golfing gymnasium" at Sunridge Park, Kent, where unused holes have been exhumed exclusively for practising chip shots.

The physical jerks, supervised by an orthopedic surgeon and a senior track coach, involve new weight - resistance technique expected to add 30 or 40 yards to a tee shot.

"The muscles have got to burn before any real good is done," said Butten, a London management consultant who swings in the low 80s.

Diet is carefully balanced in proteins, vitamins, liver and iron to supplement the gym efforts and help build up Butten's first M—for Muscle.

"If we want to beat the Americans, we'll have to hit long and straight. And we'll have to stand up to tremendous pressure. So the first essential is strength and stamina."

The second M, Method, covers techniques designed to produce accurate driving without draw or fade. Next comes Mental, which involves among other things breathing exercises to ensure adequate oxygen supply.

Under Measurement, the fourth M, Butten lists tests to check accuracy of putting, deviation from a straight line and length of shots.

Finally Management, or the strategy of golf. This involves such little pointers as the importance of putting boldly so that the ball never stops short, always going 12 inches past the hole if it doesn't drop.

Pete Devana Hurls Shutout

SUMMERSIDE — Enman Drug pitcher, Pete Devana, hurled the first shutout in the Prince County softball league last night at Queen Elizabeth ball park.

Devana tossed a three hit shutout in disposing of Inman Plumbing 10-0. It was the ninth straight loss for Jim Jenkins squad. Devana allowed hits to Pleson in the first inning, a single, a third inning single by McCormick and a fifth inning single by Jenkins. He struck out seven batters and walked one in recording his fifth win of the season.

Three home runs powered the Enman Drug hitting attack that resulted in a total of eight hits being made. Ed Smith socked a two run blast in the first inning and then hit a three run shot in the sixth frame. Spider Crawford hit a two run homer in the first inning. Smith and Crawford were the one-two punch for Enman Drug with Smith batting in six runs and Crawford batting in three.

Bob Sleigh went all the way for Inman Plumbing fanning one batter and walking three. It was his third loss.

S'side Billeting Problem Remains In Forefront

SUMMERSIDE — As in previous meetings concerning the Eastern Age Class Track and Field Meet on July 24 and 25, billeting of athletes remains the number one problem but it is slowly beginning to be solved.

"We are really working on it," said newly appointed committee chairman, Nancy Knowles. Mrs. Knowles is being ably assisted by six other ladies: Gladys MacMillan, Clara Mountain, Barb Schurman, Mabel Farris, Dee Garbutt and Merle Carnegie in the newly designed women's committee. Two are conversing with residents in the RCAF Slemon Park housing area by phone and the remainder are inquiring in the Summerside area as to whether three hundred athletes can be accommodated. This method of asking by use of phone was not done before.

"It is something new we are doing, trying to find out how it works," said Mrs. Knowles. "We hope to have a fair idea of how things are going at the end of this week," she added. The committee will begin phone calls tomorrow in the Summerside area. The picture looks bright even though a total of ninety nine accommodations have been made with a little over a month away until the track and field meet officially begins. The track and field itself is vastly whipping into shape.

Don Matheson, facilities manager remarked, "the field is almost complete, landscaping and seeding are done and grass is growing on all areas. The track will be levelled and raked and is expected to be finished Wednesday, June 24. The runway will be finished this week or early next week. The concrete circles are in and the approach to the high jump is complete." Mr. Matheson will begin marking the track next week.

There will be no admission charge to this track meet, which will be one of Canada's biggest, but programs will be sold for fifty cents.

The question of policing the area to maintain an efficient and orderly meet remains unsettled but it is not a serious one. Local police may be used for the two days, July 24 and 25 between the hours of 12:30 and 5:30 p.m. If police are not required appointed supervisors will handle the job.

Possibilities of catering service may come from Prince County Vocational High School, the site of the track and field meet or perhaps from nearby Crest Lanes.

In a new appointment, Dr. Hillard Clark will act as chairman of a newly formed entertainment committee.

Ireland's Tom O'Riordan Thinks He Can Take Kidd

By JOE DUPUIS

MONTREAL (CP) — Tom O'Riordan, a slim, shallow-cheeked Irish speedster, said Monday he has set his sights on beating Canada's Bruce Kidd in either the Montreal St. Jean Baptiste games Wednesday or the July 1 Dominion Day track meet in Toronto.

"I think I'm in the fittest condition of my life," he said. "If I'm ever going to beat him it will be now."

O'Riordan, a 26-year-old Dublin lawyer, and several other international track stars who will appear at the Montreal games arrived Monday. O'Riordan went immediately to McGill Stadium, where the meet will be staged, to workout. He took one look at the hard, cinder track.

"I can't say that's to my liking," he said. "I prefer a medium-soft track. Oh, well, I think I can adjust to it." After a few minutes of sprinting in the hot sun, he cooled his feet with a water hose.

"If this heat keeps up, it will make a bit of a difference," he said. "You know, I've got the greatest admiration for Kidd. You can't take an athlete like that for granted. But I think my speed has picked up enough to beat him."

WILL MEET IN RUN

O'Riordan and Kidd will face each other in the 5,000-metre run Wednesday. This event is Kidd's specialty and he has covered it in 13:43.8. The 5,000-metres is 185 yards longer than the three-mile run. Last Saturday, the Dublin accountant ran the three miles in 13:18.4 in the Irish championships, the second fastest three-miles ever recorded in Europe.

The extra distance in the 5,000 metres does not bother him. "It won't upset my timing in any way. I know Kidd has a pretty good kick at the finish, but so do I."

O'Riordan has run against Kidd on six different occasions, but never at 5,000 metres. He beat Kidd twice in the two-mile in a Dublin meet although O'Riordan says Kidd "wasn't up to his form then."

Kidd has defeated O'Riordan three times in indoor two-mile events in the U.S. and once in England. O'Riordan has entered a 5,000-metre race only once, and that was two years ago.

He turned down an invitation to compete in the U.S. national championships June 27 because he didn't want to "over-race myself" for the Toronto meet and, later, for the English championships July 7.

John Bower Wins Award

TORONTO (CP) — Johnny Bower, goalkeeper of the Stanley Cup champion Toronto Maple Leafs was voted the 1964 winner of the J. P. Bickell Memorial Cup by the directors of Maple Leaf Gardens Monday.

The cup is awarded to the most valuable Leaf player throughout the season. Bower becomes the third Leaf player to receive the award twice. He also won in 1960. The others were Ted Kennedy, in 1953 and 1955, and Dave Keon, in 1962 and 1963.

Although his goals-against per game average of 2.12 was the lowest in the National Hockey League over the 1963-64 campaign, the Vezina Trophy, which he won in 1960-61, was awarded to Charlie Hodge of Montreal Canadiens as the goalie with the team allowing the fewest goals over the regular season. The Canadiens were outscored against 167 times while the Leafs gave up 172 goals.

Mays Receives Biggest Vote

By JOE RICHTER

NEW YORK (AP)—Wonderful Willie Mays attracted the most votes as San Francisco Giants and St. Louis Cardinals each placed two men on the National League All - Star team's starting lineup for the July 7 game with the American League at Shea Stadium in New York.

Mays, the Giants brilliant centre fielder, along with third-baseman Ken Boyer and short stop Dick Groat were the only repeaters from 1963 in voting of 270 players, coaches and managers.

Commissioner Ford Frick, whose office conducted the balloting, said the complete squad, exclusive of the pitchers, will be announced next week.

The pitchers will be announced Thursday, July 2.

Double Winners At Local Track

Approximately 300 persons were present at the Charlottetown Driving Park to witness the racing card which was staged under ideal weather conditions last night.

Top pari-mutuel pay of the evening was $199.20 for a $2.00 ticket on the second daily double event which, was on the sixth and seven dashes. The winning combination was Anthony L, a stallion owned by C. G. Murphy, Charlottetown, reined by Claude Murphy and Security Scott, a Thomas B. Scott gelding with Harold Stead holding the ribbons and owned by Arthur Craig, Victoria.

Jewel's Hiram, owned by C. Earle Semple, Kensington and Holly Dick, a brown gelding owned by Mrs. James Poulton and driven by her son Oliver were both double dash winners in last night card. Jewel's Hiram's times were 2.11-3 and 2.13-3 and the Poulton gelding paced in 2.11-2 and 2.11-4. Other dash winners included Anthony L., Helen's Dream and Security Scott.

The first daily double returned $18.00 for a ticket on the twosome of Jewel's Hiram and Roger Parlay. The first exactor was worth $8.80 to the holder of a ticket on Helen's Dream and Sunny King. The second exactor was won with the combination Lani Kai and Stephen Lee Hal. The winning twosome was worth $7.20.
