Acadia College Resolution.

At the recent Baptist Convention, held at St. John, N.B., the following resolution was proposed:—"That the maintenance of a theological department in connection with the University of Acadia College is rendered unnecessary by the fact that such schools, well equipped, in Ontario and the United States, are easily accessible to all young men in the Maritime Provinces desirous of a theological education, and the majority of such men decidedly prefer to go abroad for their professional training." The occasion of the resolution was the large deficiency in the receipts of the year, amounting to $5,151.90, and the sharp competition for students resulting from the endowment of Dalhousie College, Halifax, chiefly by Mr. Munro, a native of Nova Scotia, now in New York. The proposition was vigorously opposed, chiefly by Rev. Dr.
Wedon, and defeated. The convention having enthusiastically decided to continue the theological faculty, a proposition to raise $33,000 for this purpose was well received, and $9,000 were pledged, Mr. Wm. Cummings giving $3,000 on condition that the whole be raised. $4,800 additional were pledged.

An Int-resting Experiment.

The Duke of Sutherland has decided to make an experiment the result of which will be watched with keen interest by agriculturists in the Old Country.
The sheep farm of Kinbrace, extending to about 44,000 acres, has been broken up into nine separate holdings, which are to be let under very favorable conditions. The farm was taken over by his Grace in 1877, when the well-known series of land reclamations was effected upon it, from 1,300 to 1,400 acres having been brought thoroughly into cultivation, and now bearing excellent crops of oats, turnips, and grass. Altogether a sum of £40,000 has been spent by the Duke in reclaiming the land and putting it in its present condition. Part of the letting condition is that his Grace will supply all the capital needed to meet the requirements of the nine farms in the matter of houses and fences, leaving the capital of the tenants free to be devoted to stocking the farms.

The Progress of Cremation.

The president of the New York Cremation Society states that organized cremation societies exist in Italy, at Milan, Udine, Cremona, Como, Rome, Bologna, Pavia, Codogno, Padua, Genoa, Turin, Modena, Florence, Venice, Ancona, Novara, Brescia, Leghorn, Pisa, Piacenza, and Parma.

There are established and in practical operation crematories at Milan, (two), Lodi, Cremona, and Varese. There is in process of building a crematory at Rome; and it is reported that crematories are about to be built at Turin, Como, Brescia, and Padua. The actual number of crematories of human bodies at points named have been, down to the end of June, 1882: At Milan, 196; at Lodi, 20; at Cremona, 3—making a total in Italy of 219. At Gotha there have been 69 cases. In America there have been 20, of which 14 were in the Le Moyne furnace.

Highway Robbery in Montreal.

One of the most daring attempts at highway robbery that has taken place at Montreal for a long time, occurred on St.
Catharine street, a greatly frequented thoroughfare in the heart of the city, in broad daylight, a few evenings ago. A lady named Mrs. Sachem was out shopping, and when passing along where St.
George's street intersects she was pounced upon by a scoundrel named Stevens, who caught her tightly round the neck with one arm and tried to take her purse out of her pocket with the other. The victim screamed so loudly that a storekeeper at the corner and a gentleman who was driving past came to her rescue. They fortunately took in the situation at once, and pushed the highwayman into the store, where they held him until the arrival of the police, who at once recognized him as a noted thief and burglar who had only recently been discharged from the provincial penitentiary. But for the presence of mind of the two citizens who acted so promptly and courageously the thief would have escaped, as there were no policemen near at hand at the time.

A Colored Man who is Older than the Republic.

There is at present residing in Camden a negro who has attained the remarkable age of 127 years. His name is William Bassett. He was born in the State of Delaware, near Smyrna, in 1755, where his parents were slaves, for many years being owned by the Bayard family.
During the war of the Revolution, Bassett, then a young man of 21 or 22, was working for a farmer by the name of Wilson, some twenty miles from Dover, where he had moved shortly before the war commenced. While there he married, and became the father of a large family. Upon the death of his wife Bassett married again. When the war broke out in 1812 he left his home and became a body servant to Colonel Morris, of Jackson's army, whom he accompanied to the front at New Orleans. While South he suffered from an attack of typhoid fever consequent upon the change of climate, and his life was despaired of.
After recovery he returned to the North, and was forty years in Colonel Morris' household. He married his third wife upon his return from the South. For the past eighteen years he has been taken care of by his children and grandchildren, spending his time between Camden and Morristown, to and from which places he has travelled on foot many times. The last trip he made early in the fall of 1881, and as a walk for a man of 126 years there can be no doubt.
Of late he has been failing very much, for the past two weeks being unable to take any nourishment.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate

IN NERVOUS DEBILITY.

DR. EDWIN P. VOSK, Portland, Me., says: "I have prescribed it for many of the various forms of nervous debility, and it has never failed to do good." (Sept 7, 603 wky.)
