

"WHAT ABOUT..." Nellie Hughes portraying Mrs. J. Dure Pampinelli in The Little Theatre Guild of Charlottetown presentation of The Touch-Bearers at the Confederation Centre isn't scolding the stage manager Jed Maddigan but she is a little excited. The satirical comedy by George Kelly was presented to a large audience last night and will be presented again tonight.

Satirical Comedy Is Big Success

By RICHARD WHITLOCK
Mrs. J. Dure Pampinelli's movement, "The Touch-Bearers" a satirical comedy in three acts by George Kelly, directed by Merrill Nicholson and Peter Shama, presented by the Little Theatre Guild of Charlottetown presentation of The Touch-Bearers at the Confederation Centre last night kept a large appreciative audience in constant delight brought about by one of the world's greatest past-times, laughter.

Adams, provincial dairy superintendent and Cecil LeLachur, Georgetown as panelists.

Mr. Dewar noted that from the 300 members of the Island Holstein breeders association only 50 are on the ROP tests. He said he has been testing, using ROP, for 30 years.

The play which is a satire on little theatre revolves magnificently around the characterization of the characters which is brought out in the first act, which is only one of the very few conformities of this play.

The actual satire is confined to the second act, the act in which they actually present the play at the Horticultural Hall. This act kept the audience in constant laughter and it marked the first performance in 30 years of Jed Maddigan, the stage manager. What he does with this small however important part is art which was appreciated by the audience.

Headline guests were D. L. Howlett, a director in the Prince County Council; Ernest Murphy, Provincial vice president; Mr. and Mrs. David MacDonald; Mayor George Key Jr. and Mrs. Dorothy Corrigan, Deputy Mayor of Charlotte-

Other members of the cast include: Weston Carmody as Huxley Hossfoss; Ronald Rice, Mr. Spindler; Earl Jewell, Ralph Twiller; Bill Essery, Teddy Spearing; Jed Maddigan, Mr. Stage Manager; Cathy Carmody, Mrs. Paula Ritter; Margaret Collings, Mrs. Nelly Fell; Margot Milton, Florence McCrickett;

The third act takes us back to the drawing-room at Ritter's where the first act took place. The flower infested room is set up as a surprise for Mrs. Ritter who supposedly stole the show. This act confirms our belief that she is "stunned" and has no mind of her own. She is easily influenced and it is only after the application of psychology that Mr. Ritter is able to make a decision for herself; that is what she is made to believe.

Ernest Murphy reported on the activities of the Prince County Society between the period of May 6, 1965 to April 18, 1966. Mr. Murphy mentioned that the Prince County workers had handled 18 individual cases during the past year. The Society provided work for six, are still supervising the parole of one, handled three applications for parole, found work for five and provided miscellaneous forms of assistance, such as counselling, information, etc. for nine others.

DEATHS

MacLEAN — Suddenly at his home Durham, Nova Scotia, April 14, 1966 Stewart MacLean, husband of the former Zilpha Smith of Charlottetown.

Mr. Dewar suggested that some more speedy and effective policy should be developed to deal with complaints of breeders concerning the type of stock sired by bulls in the artificial breeding unit—his reference was to the unit at Fredericton, N.B., which serves this province.

The New Perth breeder said he has had some particularly bad experience with heifers sired by a certain unit bull. The animal was not clearly identified. This touched off a discussion participated in by a number of breeders including Roy Dickison, Edson Raynor and several others.

Expanded Legion Interests Suggested By Mountbatten

By FRED HAMILTON
MONTREAL (CP)—The Canadian Legion must continue to expand beyond matters concerned only with veterans if it is to escape becoming "some kind of an aging watchdog".

Earl Mountbatten of Burma told the legion's 21st national convention Monday. "For the legion it is either 10 minutes to midnight or the dawn of a new era," he said. "If as a veterans organization you are content to confine your activities to matters of concern only to your own veterans then it is getting very close to midnight. The purpose of your organization is to provide assistance to veterans and dependents. This assistance may be required for quite a long time and certainly should remain the legion's prime concern. "Nevertheless, with increasing social legislation which inevitably must come to Canada, the need for such assistance will gradually decline," Lord Mountbatten said.

He complimented the legion on its work in education but said there are broad areas in the Commonwealth where additional help is urgently necessary.

Stadium Operating Profitt Reported High At Meeting

SUMMERSIDE BUREAU OF THE GUARDIAN

The highest operating profit in recent years was reported by the Civic Stadium at the council's monthly meeting here last night. Stadium manager J. C. Hogan's report showed a profit of $2,600 for the month of March. The previous high was $1,675 in March of 1963.

The chairman of the Stadium committee, Councillor Milton Mellish, expressed pleasure over the report and stated that as far as was known the profit for the stadium was the highest ever. Following the approval of four Grant Mollison chairman of the town electric light department, expressed on behalf of the council, disappointment over the letter of resignation tendered by the Town Electrical Superintendent, T.E. Richardson.

A resolution was passed accepting Mr. Richardson's resignation effective July 15th. Commenting for the council, the department chairman said "we realize we are losing a very good man". He added that Mr. Richardson had brought the electrical department, in the time he was with it, up to a standard never before realized. He said "it's a case where a man almost worked himself out of a job" having the department in such an excellent condition.

Asked if Mr. Richardson had been approached to remain in his present position, Councillor Mollison stated that he had a long talk with the man before he officially tendered his resignation and that he had expressed a desire to expand his career. Councillor Herbert Schurman told the council that the public works committee is contemplating bringing in a resolution on the clearance of snow in front of business establishments in the town area, stating that it will be the duty of the individual firms to clear the snow from the sidewalks in front of their establishments.

"This is the general practice carried on in other towns and cities," he said, "and I believe this is a move in the right direction." He also hoped this would eliminate the rough walking for pedestrians in the business area during the winter months.

Councillor Schurman told the meeting it was the intention of the public works committee to utilize a lot of land on North Market Street where a pumping station was formerly located, for a playground. Rather than have to go to the Notre Dame Street playground the children can play in their respective area.

Following Councillor Schurman's comment on clean-up week in the town Mayor George Key Jr., stated that, with the council's approval, he had planned next week as clean-up week. The week of May 24th was generally declared for this purpose he added but, due to the early spring, he felt that this year it could be earlier.

Mayor Key told the meeting that a visit to P.E.I. by Governor-General and Mrs. George Vanier is planned for May 8th and added that residents of the town can rest assured that they will have an opportunity to see the vice-regal couple. Arrangements, he said, are being made for the couple to stop in the town.

The Mayor added that he hoped the citizens will take this opportunity to clean-up their properties for the visit and asked that town-owned parks and properties be cleaned up as best as possible for this time of year.

Councillor D. Alex MacDonald stated that an adjustment of the town water and sewerage rates will be made in the near future by the Public Utilities Commission "either up or down and I hope it's down".

He said that a new speed control had been tried out by the town yesterday and appeared satisfactory. Commenting on the traffic lights he said prices had been obtained on a five sectional light for the intersection of Granville and Water Streets. This light would allow vehicles to turn right onto Granville on a red light, he said.

Mention was made of garages and service stations pouring oil into catch basins leading to the harbour and Councillor Mollison said all one had to do is to walk along the railway wharf, especially during low tide and see the tide line very much marked by oil clinging to the seawall.

He said he understood that members of the town police department had caught a person pouring oil into a catch basin at a service station and that a charge was being laid. He commended the police on their alertness.

Councillor Mollison reported on a visit by Mayor Key, T. E. Richardson and himself, representing the town's industrial and expansion committee, to Truro where the trio met with the Mayor and two members of the industrial commission of that town.

He said the Nova Scotia town representatives had made it clear that the industrial park was not regarded as the primary thing. The main objective should be the attraction of industry to the region, the local group was told. The Councillor added that Truro had induced a number of businesses to move from other regions to that area. In conclusion he said "in three hours I am sure we learned more information than we would have in a year on our own".

Following the meeting a special budget meeting was held and prior to this meet, the chairman of the finance committee, Councillor Perry, commented "We are working very hard on the budget to bring it down and keep it as low as we can." She hoped the budget would be ready within the next two days. She also noted that there was a considerable amount owed the town in outstanding taxes.

During the regular meeting Councillor Mellish stated that he and the stadium manager, Mr. Hogan, will attend a meeting in Saint John, N.B. on May 7th regarding the formation of a Maritime Junior Hockey League. He added "this could mean added revenue for the stadium if the league is realized."

ALIEN GETS JOB

NEW YORK (AP)—An Israeli citizen has been tapped by Mayor John V. Lindsay to serve as a $20,000-a-year deputy city administrator. He married an American citizen last August and plans to apply for U.S. citizenship.
