Thinking It Over

As the federal election campaign draws to a close, it is difficult to say what, if any, could be called the outstanding issue...

We in this part of Canada are well aware of our problems in this regard. They are more serious than in any part of the country...

The Conservatives, of course, made far too many promises in their 1957 and 1958 campaigning...

One special matter has arisen in this connection about which we should be, particularly concerned. The definite assurance given by the Diefenbaker Government...

Presumably this man expects to win votes on them. And every vote the Government loses in an appeal of this kind—in Kitchener, Montreal, Winnipeg or wherever it may be—will be a loss incurred by a pledge made directly on our behalf...

The U.S. Federal Radiation Council reports that the nuclear tests conducted by the Soviet Union and the United States have increased only slightly the health risks...

Laos Peace Faces Test With the agreement of the three contending princes to form a coalition in Laos, hope was felt earlier in the week that this would remove the threat of military force as a means of settling their disputes...

According to Prime Minister Diefenbaker, his warning of "drastic action" against companies taking commercial advantage of dollar devaluation has already brought a halt in the trend to rising prices...

in his relations to the coalition cabinet.

This may account for Soviet Premier Khrushchev's prior endorsement of the coalition. Meanwhile, the United States has announced that it will not evacuate its own mission in Laos until there is definite proof that the Communist forces are also leaving...

The agreement signed Monday, it is said, will leave 75 days for the evacuation of foreign troops. Then a smaller and more integrated army is supposed to be formed from the three armies now positioned across Laos.

Apert from the elimination of the Communist Viet Minh, it will also be necessary for the International Control Commission made up of India, Canada and Poland to be sure that Soviet, Communist Chinese and American forces also leave Laos.

The Western powers and the Soviet Union agreed at Geneva that they will preserve the territorial integrity of Laos as a neutral nation. The Geneva conference is now to be reconvened to complete the task of assuring this desirable consummation.

New Atlantic Trawlers

According to New Brunswick reports, a new and potentially far-reaching development in the Atlantic fisheries industry was ushered in at Bathurst last Saturday. It was the launching of the first steel stern trawler to be constructed on this side of the Atlantic...

"It's former President Harry S. Truman with no period after the S," says a New York despatch. The authority for the matter is Mr. Truman himself, who chided reporters during a morning stroll last Thursday for always putting in the period. The S is a name, since it doesn't stand for anything—not an initial—he insists.

WHAT WILL THE HATCHING BE

OTTAWA REPORT by Patrick Nicholson

Voting A Personal Responsibility

"Get out and vote." That is the praiseworthy slogan of public-spirited friends to foster a sense of civic responsibility. It is addressed to you and me, not to the other guy next door.

Estimates already quoted that as many as 2,500,000 qualified electors from this year's record voters' list will fail to use the democratic privilege of marking ballot papers in secrecy in favour of the candidate of their choice. Through the centuries, our forefathers shed their blood to win and retain for us this right to select our own government...

Soviet Jets For India?

By Carman Cummins Canadian Press Staff Writer

In his usual deliberate fashion, Prime Minister Nehru discussed the possibility of purchasing MiG's and later manufacturing them under licence in India. He also made clear that India would feel free to use the Soviet-designed planes against Communist China if their border dispute worsens.

'Plague Fly Served Purpose' NOTES BY THE WAY

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen D.D. GORDON W. JONES OF Fredericksburg, Va., writes in "Virginia" that the "plague fly" was as real to physicians of the mid-nineteenth century as it is to our modern medicals. Vast swarms of these insects were noted prior to many epidemics, especially in the south.

The critic was described as "a fly of full, ebony, yellow color, over a quarter inch long, with a quivering webbing around its head, and its legs were thick and sticky. It was a most disgusting insect, and its appearance coincidental or did it play a role in the spread of cholera and typhoid fever? There are no references to the fly in standard books on entomology...

A peculiar yellow haze in the atmosphere just before a cholera outbreak was observed on several occasions. Swarms of yellow plague flies were the logical explanation. They were thought to carry the deadly poison causing cholera. Now a day then the pests were so thick that objects especially on the floor and in damp filthy places, were obscured by their bodies.

Mutual Municipal Aid

Canadian Federation of Mayors

A significant program has been initiated by the International Union of Local Authorities to bring about the cooperation of municipalities in extending technical assistance in local government. A grant of $100,000 from the Ford Foundation will help the IULA, in conjunction with a grant of $100,000 from the Ford Foundation...

This is the day when children, watching the Air Force parade, will tell their dolls a parable in which the man being used by the devil was a Sábte and "Don't you ever know what an Argon looks like, Mummy?" - Ottawa Journal.

Laurence Harvey is coming home to star in a $275,000 pound film. The Moor of Venetia. The play of the film is called Othello. Director John Alton says that the title has been changed because "Shakespeare is London at the box-office of the London Daily Mail."

One never knows what whims will be doing next but in England they shot a four-pound chicken out of a 50-foot gun barrel at about 600 mph at an altitude of 22,000 feet. The help to establish what happens when a high-speed aircraft hits a bird, and insofar as the aluminum target was concerned it was about as good as a chicken. The bird remained in the Journal.
