against Old Fogey Business Ideas. is one of the little jobs we have on hand this season. The old business rule is "charge all the profit the customer will stand."

To this proposition we say: No, Sir; not any of that for us, what we do is, charge as little profit as we can stand; and we are not in business for our health, either. We live to make money, but we are convinced it can not be done by plundering the public. A close price makes a sale and a friend. We'll take ours that way. Close prices. Good friends. Plenty of sales.

Gleaned by the Guardian Reporters

It is said that Chief Justice Sullivan will be knighted on May 24th.

Mrs. FRAULIN LAUFFER, a native of Bohemia, who is to assist Miss Russell in her school for girls, arrived here Tuesday evening.

We begin this morning the publication of a series of letters from our editor, Mr. B. D. Higgs. The second letter will appear tomorrow.

REMEMBER Mr. Warburton's talk to young men this evening, at 8 o'clock, in the Y. M. C. A. on "Statesmen Protectors of English History." All are invited.

RAILWAY MATTERS.—The Examiner publishes a despatch from Ottawa, stating that the Montreal and Quebec Railway will remain as first class stations and that the summer trains will be all right.

A FOOTBALL match has been arranged for the 19th inst., between the second team of the Crescents and the Y. M. C. A. Football Club. The match will be played on Victoria Park, beginning at 6.30 o'clock p.m.

THE Fastnet will be due here this morning, and will take freight for 'S'ide at low rates. She will return from the mermaid to Charlottetown on Thursday morning, and will proceed to Halifax at 4 o'clock same afternoon.

MR. Daniel McLean will preach (F.V.) at St. Catherine's Schoolhouse, on Friday evening, the 13th inst., and on Sabbath following at West River, at 10.30; Deale at 2.30, and Canoe Cove at 6.30 o'clock. By order of J. Goodwill.

EVERYONE is invited to attend the "Talk to Young Men" Wednesday evening, at the Y. M. C. A. lecture room at 8 o'clock, by A. B. Warburton, Esq. Subject: "Statesmen Protectors of English History." The last "talk" of the season. Come.

A PROVINCIALIST DELEGATE.—At the Democratic state convention recently held at Newton, Iowa, Mr. S. T. Pound, formerly of Prince Edward Island, was elected one of the delegates to the national convention. The delegates were instructed to press the claims of Governor Boies for president.

THE P. E. Island Hospital has received the sum of $17, proceeds of a play and entertainment gotten up by the Juvenile Dramatic Club of Georgetown, in aid of the hospital. The names of the young ladies who took part in the entertainment: The Misses Bessie, Florrie and Estelle Aitken, Mabel Byrne, Maud Mear, May Griffin, Minnie Owen, B. Westaway and Marion Macdonald, under the direction of Miss Owen.

YESTERDAY morning in the police court two young men were summoned before His Honor to answer a charge of malicious injury to the property of Mr. S. F. Hodgson. The damages to property consisted in the breaking of about forty bars from the fence surrounding Mr. Hodgson's premises on the lower St. Peter's road. The boys failed to respond to the summons, and witnesses being in attendance who substantiated the charge, warrants were issued for their arrest. A summons has been issued for another young man said to be implicated. He appears this morning.

DEATH OF J. C. CROSSKILL.—Many people throughout the province will hear with deep regret of the death of J. C. Crosskill, which took place at Moncton last evening. Mr. Crosskill was a well known Nova Scotia newspaper man and was proprietor and publisher of one or more Halifax journals. He was an accomplished stenographer and a skilful teacher of the art. He served as legislative reporter in Nova Scotia, and has done official reporting in other provinces. Some five years ago he took a position on the Moncton Times, and since then he worked on other papers. Very few men have had a wider experience in newspaper work, and know more about it in all its details than Mr. Crosskill. He was a member of the staff of the Telegraph, and his son of deceased, St. John Sun.

FROM letters received from Mr. B. D. Higgs we learn that he arrived at Honolulu on the 19th ult. Everything seems quiet on the Islands, but it is difficult to tell whether or not quietness will last. Under the quietness there is undoubtedly wide spread disaffection. Mr. Higgs had an interview with Wilcox, the revolutionary leader, at his headquarters at Waikiki. A number of the party leaders, including members of the legislature, were present. Mr. Wilcox asserted that he expected to overthrow the monarchy within five weeks. However, he lacks the money, arms and brains, and it is hard to tell whether he will move or not. Wilcox is a handsome man, was educated in a military college in Italy, and married an Italian countess, who since returned home. He headed a revolution in 1859, seized the palace, and after some fighting, was arrested and placed in jail. He was tried for high treason and acquitted by a native jury. He has a strong following of natives and is a dangerous man. An American man-of-war is at Honolulu, so that American life and property is quite safe. Even in the Sandwich Islands, P. E. Islanders are found. A Mr. J. J. McDonald, formerly employed on the Oahu Railway, Honolulu, wished to be remembered to his friends. Mr. D. Logan, formerly of Pictou, and now editor of the leading Hawaiian Government paper, and Major Robertson, the Queen's chamberlain, whose people belong to St. John, N. B., also wished to be remembered at home. At the time of writing Mr. H. was preparing to start for a neighboring Island to see what is said to be the most wonderful active volcano in the world.

THOUSANDS of lobster fishermen are idle by reason of the continued high winds of the past. This is certainly very discouraging to those interested in the industry, as these men are on heavy wages. It is the opinion of a good many that the time is speedily coming when our government will find it necessary to give a bounty to encourage the promotion of this industry as is done in the case of other fish, rather than placing severe restrictions upon packers and fishermen, which will eventually kill the industry out.

COL. McKie, International Travelling Commissioner of the Salvation Army, assisted by Staff-Captain Egan, on great Saturday morning in this city, on the 15th and 16th inst. A welfare meeting on Saturday, at 8 p. m., in the S. A. Barracks. Sunday morning, knee drill at 7 a. m., and Holiness Meeting in the same place at 10.30. Great Salvation Meetings on Sunday and Monday evening, will be held in the First Methodist Church at 8 p. m. A silver offering will be taken at each meeting. Admission, 5c, on Saturday night.

NELSON BARRIE, a little boy five years of age, grandson of James Currie, Esq., Nine Mile Creek, while playing in the field near his grandfather's house a day or two ago, slipped into an old well that had been dug years ago by Mr. John McKinnon, and fell to the bottom, a distance of 40 feet. The servant man, who was working near the well, was attracted by the little fellow's cries. The alarm was soon given, and Mr. Currie, wife and daughter came running with ropes to the spot. Mr. Currie was lowered into the well and found Nelson clinging up on a pole that was in the water, which was about 18 inches deep. He was soon removed, and, remarkable to say, not a scratch was found upon the brave little fellow.

HOW TO RUN A PAPER.—The man who thinks he can't run a newspaper better than the editor, should be caught and put in a glass case. Correspondents do not hesitate to give the editor "points," but there is a man down in King's County who is lapping over with gall. Some time ago he sent us some items from his section. One of the "items" was a political sermon and another contained an account of a purely business transaction, reflecting on the business integrity of a certain gentleman. The items were sent to us yesterday's mail brought us a letter from the correspondent, from which we make the following extract: "If you think you can run your paper with the one-legged temperance question as a hobby, and neglect to expose other matters of intemperance equally as important, you will soon see your name left in the shades of obscurity." Our friend would no doubt be greatly pleased were we to drop the temperance plank in our platform and adopt his particular political ideas. But really we cannot oblige him just now. Our paper is a temperance advocate and not a paper in a temperance and we cannot change our views in order to meet those of our esteemed correspondent.

PHILHARMONIC.—According to notice, a large and enthusiastic meeting of the society assembled at Philharmonic Hall Monday evening, and it is almost needless to add, all were unanimous in the opinion that, notwithstanding the many difficulties they have had to encounter in the past, they can now congratulate themselves on the fact that the music-loving people of Charlottetown and Summerside have, by their kind response, shown their appreciation of the efforts of the society to maintain the standard of high-class performances in this province. And although by some few persons it may be considered presumptuous on the part of the society to attempt to produce oratorios such as The Creation, Hymn of Praise, The Elijah, etc., with the material obtainable in this city, still they feel that in so doing they are doing the public sympathy with them by a large majority, and the correspondence which has appeared in the public press during the past few days has more than reassured them on this point. They have, therefore, determined as in the past to hold the first concert of the season on Monday evening next, the 16th inst., at 8 o'clock. The idea having gone abroad that the Philharmonic Society was far away to leeward and could not possibly weather the storm, the secretary was asked to prepare a statement of affairs to date, which, after having been presented and received with applause for after providing for all outstanding liabilities the adverse balance only amounted to sixty dollars which can easily be balanced if all who are in arrears would kindly pay up, and if the citizens would again favor them with a bumper house on their next appearance.—Con.

THE COLORED DOWAGER COUNTESS.—A "DRAWING ROOM" GIVEN BY THE QUEEN.—BUFFALO BILL'S SHOW.

LONDON, May 7.—The House of Lords committee, in accepting William Gray as the rightful heir to the earldom of Stamford, has escaped the awful possibilities of a Hottentot earl, but has not succeeded in setting aside a dowager countess, who is a full blooded negress. The late Earl of Stamford, who died at the Cape of Good Hope a year ago, married his third and surviving partner at Welburg, South Africa. The said black dowager Countess of Stamford is a daughter of a Hottentot named Solomon. She first attracted the favor of the late earl by acting as a servant in his household. It was the earl, multatino son by this woman who sought to whic his father's title, and seat in the House of Lords. The dowager countess is in London under the guidance of a Cape Town lawyer, and it is thought she may demand to be presented at one of the drawing rooms held by the Queen. Being a peer's widow she is entitled to access to royalty.

Purify Your Blood

The importance of keeping the blood in a pure condition is universally known, and yet there are very few people who have perfectly pure blood. The taint of scrofula, salt rheum, or other foul humor is hereditary and transmitted for generations, causing untold suffering, and we also accumulate poisons and germs of disease from the air we breathe. The food we eat, or the water we drink, is nothing more or less than a poison than the power of Hood's Sarsaparilla over all diseases of the blood. This medicine, when fairly tried, does expel every trace of scrofula or salt rheum, removes the taint which causes catarrh, neutralizes the acidity and cures rheumatism, drives out the germs of malaria, blood poisoning, etc. It also vitalizes and enriches the blood, thus overcoming that tired feeling, and building up the whole system. Thousands testify to the superiority of Hood's Sarsaparilla as a blood purifier. Full information and statements of cures sent free.
