Ample Dump Accommodation Now Available For Ch'town

"There will be no necessity for the City building an incinerator for at least three years", stated City Clerk, James Fullerton yesterday. He said that the naming by the Provincial Government as "open ground" of the section extending between the old butts and the Falconwood Point gave the city enough dumping area for several years to come.

In former years there had been many complaints from citizens about the city dump at the foot of Grafton street, and about six years ago an effort was made to have the city install an incinerator.

At that time representatives of companies handling the materials required were in the city and conferred with authorities here. However, no action was taken at the time and shortly thereafter use of the new dumping area was made available to the city.

The matter was brought to the fore again yesterday when Mr. E.J. Goodswan of the Francis Hankin and Company, Toronto, arrived here. Mr. Goodswan was one of the men who conferred with municipal authorities regarding the installation of an incinerator several years ago.

He stated yesterday that he had not come here particularly to discuss the same matter, but he was in conversation with city officials while in the city. He expressed the opinion, agreeing with City Clerk Fullerton that it would be several years before an incinerator would be needed here.

The old city dump, which was one time the Kensington Rifle Range, is now in the centre of an industrial development area. In addition to buildings of private firms there has arisen in the general area a new Government garage as well as the fertilizer plant. Recently the Red Cross decided to abandon Kensington Beach as a training area for young swimmers and to dispose of their dressing booth there. The whole new industrial section follows the shore line in the rear of the Exhibition grounds.

The section now being used was formerly open water of the inlet back of the Exhibition Grounds. This is the area in which the proposed Trans-Canada Highway is generally supposed to go before it crosses the Hillsborough River.

Though no route of the highway has been definitely announced officials believe that the condemnation of the Hillsborough Bridge for Railway purposes and its abandonment by them means that a new bridge or causeway must be erected. However, just where it will cross the river has been a matter of conjecture.

The suitability of Island rock has been under examination for some time to learn if it will be satisfactory for a structure, and the geologists have been obtained to look over Island areas to aid in locating heavy rock beds.

Railway Brief Gives Schedules And Route Maps

Statements showing the present C.N.R. rail schedules, summer and winter, together with the schedules of the services to be operated under the proposed rail-highway coordination plan, are given in the brief to be presented by the Railway to the standing committee on transportation which is scheduled to open its hearings in Charlottetown on June 5. The committee, under the chairmanship of Mr. W.F. Alan Stewart, M.L.A., was appointed by the Government at the last sitting of the Legislature.

Plans showing the routes to be followed should permission to operate buses be given are attached to the brief which outlines the proposals already made in the brief discussed by the Legislature. Emphasis is placed on the fact that the Railway is not seeking a transportation monopoly, and that the request for bus licenses is in no way to be considered as a preliminary step to line abandonments on the Island.

Full responsibility of operating all C.N.R. highway buses and trucks would be assumed by a separate Provincial company to be organized by the Railway subject to the laws and regulations of the Province, the brief states.

Attends K. of C. State Convention

WINDSOR, May 27 — (Special) — Gerald P. Murtagh, formerly of Charlottetown and now with the Health and Welfare Department, Ottawa, was one of the two delegates representing the Ottawa Knights of Columbus at its 49th annual state convention which concluded in Windsor yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Murtagh, a former treasurer of Charlottetown Council, came to Ottawa some three years ago with the Bureau of Statistics and since that time has been widely known in Columbus and other affairs in the Province. Two years ago he received the appointment of Financial Secretary of Ottawa Council, a position which he still holds at present. Ottawa Council, Knights of Columbus is the oldest council in the Province which comprises 75 councils of the order. More than 300 delegates heard His Excellency Most Rev. W. J. Smith, State Chaplain from Pembroke, deliver an excellent address at the opening convention mass.

There have been two recent additions to the staff of Headquarters of the 21st Armoured Brigade. T. R. (Reg.) Power has been taken on strength as a corporal. A veteran of European service in the last war, Cpl. Power served with the P. E. I. Light Horse. Another addition to the staff is Tpr. Robert G. Hutcheson who will be in the unit when it goes to summer camp at Utopia, N.B., July 23.

Sgt. E. W. Hogan was one of those who successfully completed the senior N.C.O.'s course which was recently given by the I. and A. Cadre of Eastern Command. At the same time Sgt. Robert Armstrong has qualified as Driver Class 3. He also is a veteran of the last war in which he served with the R. C. O. C. Capt. Owen H. Curtis, Medical Officer of No. 1 J Recruiting Station here, is presently visiting in Western Canada on a holiday trip.

Lieut. L. W. (Pete) Ford has been appointed Quartermaster of the Regiment on transfer from the Headquarters Squadron. It is expected that approximately 15 officers and 65 other ranks will proceed to the summer camp at Utopia, N. B., this year. Dates of the camp have been set from June 9 to 19.

The same New Brunswick summer camp will see the 5 Signals Regiment present from July 11 to 19 with 12 officers and 35 men present.

The Regiment is losing four of its officers for the summer months. Called out with the Active Force for duties at Aldershot, N. S., until the end of August are Capt. R. O. B. Champion, Lieut. E. R. McCaughy, Lieut. W. T. Gallant and Lieut. S. R. Cameron.

Expected to leave shortly to qualify for their commissions are Officer Cadets J. J. Condon, R. L. Doyle, E. C. Kelly and L. V. MacDonald, all of this city.

Kinkora Convent

Continued from page 1 he had seen in some time. Mr. Wetmore also said he thought the scenes between "Wilbur" and Ernest Brennan as "Hercules" were highlights of the play, but suggested the cast was worthy of a better script.

In "The Stubborn Elf", the performance by the younger members of Kinkora Convent, the adjudicator commended, and suggested he thought it a charming little play with an attractive setting. He continued by saying he liked the costumes and found the lines very clear and well delivered.

A long and difficult play, but well worth seeing, was the way he summed up "The Pampered Darling" by Glenaladale pupils. Mr. Wetmore said he was well pleased with the performance as a whole, and commended on the production as being a very nice job and a smooth even presentation. Following the performance of "Merry Molly Malone" the adjudicator again appeared on the platform and congratulated the members of this cast very highly on their strong performance. He said he would like to pay tribute to the cast who got much more out of the script than the author had put into it, and although he did not care too much for the play,

Purchases Shorthorn Sires At Marshfield

Mr. Vincent J. MacDonald of Antigonish, N. S. has recently purchased two Shorthorn sires from the herd of A. A. MacBeth, Marshfield, P. E. I., it has been learned. Mr. MacDonald was first introduced to Mr. MacBeth's breeding stock last year when he purchased the top purebred sire at the P. E. I. Shorthorn Breeders Sale. This bull was owned by Mr. MacBeth and evidently proved highly satisfactory to Mr. MacDonald when he returned to secure more of the same stock.

thought the cast was excellent. "Choose a play as good as you are," he said, "You are a good strong team and we will be looking forward to seeing you in the future." Highest praise for individual performance in this production went to Mrs. Harold MacLeod as Mrs. Barrington, who gave a very sincere and believable characterization of the shallow and unreal mother.
