The Exports of the Dominion.

The export trade of Canada in the year which closed on June 30th was the largest in the history of the country. The exact figures will not be obtained for some time yet, but taking the monthly returns, exclusive of exports from British Columbia, we find the aggregate export trade of the year to have been as follows:—

Produce of Canada.	Produce of countries.	Total.
Produce of Mine $ 1,464,163	$ 154,026	$1,618,189
Produce of Fisheries, 6,465,566	28,983	6,494,549
Produce of Forests, 24,774,744	772,281	25,547,025
Animals and their Produce, 21,007,711	1,308,113	22,315,824
Agricultural Products, 21,252,490	10,053,628	31,306,118
Manufactures, 3,039,266	935,530	3,974,796
Miscellaneous, 634,173	135,877	770,050
		$78,638,089

When the exports from British Columbia, coin and bullion, and the amount short returned at inland ports, are added, it is probable that the total exports will reach one hundred million dollars, an excess of more than ten million dollars over those of 1873, the year in which the largest previous total was recorded. The following is a statement of the exports in each year since confederation:—

Canadian, including Coin and Bullion.	Foreign.	Total.
1868.....53,371,607	4,196,821	57,568,428
1869.....56,618,980	3,855,801	60,474,781
1870.....67,915,388	6,827,622	74,743,010
1871.....64,330,585	9,853,033	74,183,618
1872.....69,505,538	12,744,125	82,249,663
1873.....83,384,013	9,435,310	92,819,323
1874.....76,737,432	19,614,066	96,351,498
1875.....70,744,860	7,137,319	77,882,179
1876.....73,731,474	7,234,561	80,966,035
1877.....68,764,285	7,111,168	75,875,453
1878.....68,358,780	11,164,778	79,523,558
1879.....63,135,611	8,354,644	71,490,255
1880.....64,671,432	13,240,006	77,911,438

It will be of some interest to compare the volume of exports of Canadian products in the years ending the 30th June, 1880, and 1881, respectively. They are as follows:—

1880.	1881.
The mine.....22,877,251	$1,464,163
Fisheries.....6,879,656	6,465,566
Forests.....16,854,507	24,774,744
Animals & produce 17,697,577	21,007,711
Agricultural products 22,294,325	21,252,490
Manufactures.....3,242,617	3,039,266
Miscellaneous.....610,155	634,173
	$70,096,191
	$78,638,089

This statement, however, is only an approximate one, the exports from British Columbia being omitted in the totals for the year 1881. When these come to be added it will be found that the exports of both the Mine and the Fisheries largely exceeded those of 1880, as British Columbia in that year and in 1879 exported more than one and a half million dollars of products of the Mines, and more than half a million dollars of fishery produce. So that not only has the country enormously increased its export trade in 1881, but that increase has occurred in every class of product, with perhaps the single exception of manufactures, the value of the export of which appears to have remained about the same. This fact is readily and satisfactorily accounted for by the enlarged home market and home demand for manufactured goods, which have outstripped the increased output and caused the goods which previously found a sale in other countries, to be disposed of in Canada.

Lord Clandeboye's Swimming Feat.

Our readers will doubtless be interested in reading the particulars of Lord Clandeboye's recent swimming feat, which was previously reported by cable. The London "News of the World" thus describes it:—"Another candidate for the honors awarded so liberally to champion swimmers, appears in the person of the eldest son of Lord Dufferin. To the celebrated names of Leander, Lord Byron, Lieutenant Ekenhead, Sir Patrick Colquhoun, Mr. Beckwith, and Captain Webb, must now be added that of young Lord Clandeboye, who has just entered upon the classic ground immortalized by the hero of Museus and the author of "Childe Harold". The arduous feat said to have been accomplished by the lover of Hero, priestess of Venus, of swimming across the Hellespont and back again; the madcap freak of the 3rd of May, 1810, when Lieutenant Ekenhead, of the Salsette, and his companion Lord Byron swam from Abydos to Sestos, or, in other words, from the European shore to the Asiatic; the pluck of Sir Patrick Colquhoun, who in 1840, and reckless of consequences, swam from Therapia across the Bosphorus and back just to get an appetite for breakfast, have in their daring and energy been equalled, if not exceeded, by Lord Clandeboye, who recently, in a little over an hour, swam the Hellespont from Therapia to Beios, from Europe to Asia, a considerably greater distance and a more arduous task than that accomplished

A Travelling Monarch.

King Kalakan's chamberlain and private secretary, Colonel C. H. Judd, gave, in a recent interview, some precise details concerning that illustrious personage and his experiences in his journey around the world. First of all His Majesty has been greatly annoyed by being styled "King of the Sandwich Islands," which title is not only incorrect but improper, confounding him as it does with the late lamented "Hoky Poky Whanky Fung," the King of the Hawaiian Islands. It should be "King of the Hawaiian Islands," there being, at present, no such thing as the Sandwich Islands. Then, again, His Majesty, like the traditional Irishman, has a personal grievance. He has been called out of his name, which K-a-l-a-k-a-u, every vowel being pronounced separately. Half the world, however, seem to think the King's right name is Calico, they pronounce it that way and print it that way. This effeminate cognomen vexes His Majesty—a tall, stout man, heavily mustached, with English side whiskers, who looks every inch a king.

Equinoctial Gales.

Usually we have heavy "equinoctial gales," though this year they have not been so pronounced as they have been in former years. Some weather prophets affect to believe there is no such thing as equinoctial tempests due to the sun's crossing the line. But no fact in meteorology is better established. The withdrawal of solar radiation from the Arctic regions at the autumn equinox leaves about eight million square miles of the earth's surface to throw off its heat into space and to cool down rapidly. The polar areas thus become a vast refrigerator, the cold waves from which descending upon our latitudes condense the loads of vapor suspended over them, generating our severest storms. This storm-breeding process is more intense at the autumn than at the vernal equinox, because the oceans in September attain their maximum temperature and the evaporation from their heated surface is then greater than at any other period of the year.

The "Times" on the Irish Situation.

The "Times" of the 26th inst., in an editorial says:—"There is no sign of any improvement in the state of affairs in Ireland. It is for the Government to defeat, by any necessary means whatever, the evil designs of those who are determined that Ireland in spite of the Land Act, shall not be suffered to be at peace. If the Land Act is insufficient there were other Acts relating to Ireland passed before in which might now be used more freely than they have as yet been to supplement it, but they must be used without any respect to persons if they are to prove efficient for good."

THREE BIG CARGOES.—Three steamers, which cleared from this port last week, had on board 5000 tons of coal, in halves and bunkers. It is easily understood from this and similar instances, why sailing vessels are not as numerous in this port as formerly.—Pictou Standard.

THE THERMOMETER at the observatory, Moncton, marked eighty-three on Wednesday. This is a way up for the 23rd of September. The Transcript and Telegraph had better give their readers something more about the "eight months of ice and snow" in New Brunswick.—Times.

PICTON COAL SHIPMENTS.—The coal shipments from the port of Pictou for the week ending September 25th, were as follows:—Halifax Co., 514; Acadia Co., 552; International Co., 3,517; Vale Co., 2,188. Total, 6,701 tons.
