

MR. AND MRS. CECIL PAULEY WEDDING BELLS

The marriage took place recently in the United Church, Murray Harbour, of Darlene Elsie, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Herring, Murray Harbour, and Cecil Kentford, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Pauley, Ocean View, P.E.I. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. David Barwise. Mr. and Mrs. Pauley have taken up residence in Hamilton, Ontario.

MR. AND MRS. DAVID YOUNG Vows Pledged By Couple At Saint Dunstan's Basilica

Red and white carnations decorated Saint Dunstan's Basilica on June 4, 1966 at 10 A. M. when Helena Geraldine Murray daughter of Mrs. Catherine Murray and the late Gerard Murray, of Charlottetown, became the bride of John David Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Young of Parkdale. Father Gerald Tingley officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The organist, Mrs. Joseph Dougan, accompanied Fred Young, uncle of the groom, as he sang "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother" and "Lord I am Given in Marriage by her brother Reginald Murray, the bride wore a floor length bell shaped gown of white peau de soie with an over-jacket of lace and long sleeves tapering to the wrists. A removable train of matching lace was held by a bow at the back of the waistline. Her bouffant shoulder length veil of tulle illusion was held by a crown of sequins and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses.

Carol MacLure was maid of honor in a floor length gown of rose peau de soie with matching headpiece and shoes. Her bouquet was a nosegay of rose and white carnations. Bridesmaids Brenda Young, niece of the groom, and Nancy Gray, niece of the bride, wore floor length gowns of pink and white materials. They carried nosegays of pink and white carnations.

Flower girls Debbie Young and Barbie Murray wore identical floor length gowns of white and pink over tulle with matching pink sashes. They carried tiny nosegays of pink and white carnations. Brian Murray nephew of the bride was ring bearer.

The best man was Gordon McIntyre, cousin of the groom, and Reginald Cullen and John Bernard ushered the guests to their seats. A reception following the ceremony was held at the Charlottetown Hotel for 90 guests. Robert MacDonald acted as master of ceremonies and Reta MacDonald circulated the guest book.

The mother of the bride received in a petal green crepe dress with lace bodice. She wore a beige and green petal hat with matching accessories and mink stole. Her corsage was of pink carnations. The groom's mother chose a pale yellow and white lace sheath. She wore a white petal hat with matching accessories and mink stole. Her corsage was of mauve and white carnations. For a trip through the United States, the bride traveled in a two-piece yellow and white lace suit with matching yellow linen coat with white accessories. Her corsage was of green and white tinted carnations. On their return the couple will reside at 70 Longworth Ave.

ELLEN'S DIARY

A Friends' Auction Sale Brings Back Old Memories

Today's wind, we remember, now was gentle as it passed by the yards and wandered off over the fields. And catching the warm fragrance of its breath, one knew that lilacs still bloomed in gardens that are, and once more in gardens that were. We see them sometimes flowering beside a depression in a neglected field, relics of a past about which we conjecture. Who planted that bush? Was it a bride who had carried a slip of it from her girlhood home with attendant high hopes? This the years would grow into the loveliest blossoming, and remain ever a tie between the old and the new. And had they prospered—she and the loved one—Done well at the farming? Or had they one day become discouraged and left for greener pastures afar. Sold the farm, its goods and chattels, and gone away? With James and Alex and his mother, we attended a sale this afternoon. The small lady, neither young nor old, who had spent a number of busy happy years in the district as mistress of its corner-store, and now widowed was finding the cares of life there over-demanding. Now a change was being made, a fact much regretted in the neighborhood and community, and for miles around: Her life and living - their lives, had for years reached out to touch helpfully many a one. Always kindly - an ideal pair. We suspect many will recall the date of this June day, summery and warm, and dreamily beautiful, in after years, as the day of "Patty's sale." Not without much regret. We looked about us. Here to be sold was the kettle that had heated, to make for us and for many a one, the hospitable cup of tea. Never in the way of a chore, but always, as such and all gifts should be given "with a good heart." There was the comfortable rocker, where we so often sat when on a "kale," to the home, to chat there of many things, to chuckle with the par, and be renewed in spirit from the conat. Here were the pictures, the familiar paintings, the touches that served to make the place, "homey" and charming here the hall - rack on which through the years, we had hung a succession and variety of our cloaks. Here was the spare room bed, whereon, come there to a quilting party or other feminine fore-gathering, our winter wraps had rested. Scene after scene came to mind at the auctioneer's "Now what am I bid for this?" this pretty June afternoon. Yes, no matter the circumstances of the one, or the ones most concerned, while an auction sale in the country may have its light-hearted chuckles at times, it also always occasions its regrets. Now our workaday week closes. A lovely week? Yes, beautiful its days were, the last of the springtime's store. And what of their "Petty round" how did we mee this? Tolerantly only, or happily, grateful for so much - indeed riches, the days gave in gifts beyond count? Always, should trifles fret, keeping this in mind? "When little things would irk me, and I grow impatient with my dear ones, make me know how in a moment, joy can take its flight. And happiness be quenched in endless night. Keep this thought with me all the livelong day. That I may guard the harsh words I might say. When I would fret and grumble, fiery hot. At trifles, that tomorrow, are forgot. Let me remember, Lord, how it would be. If these, my loved ones, were here with me." Until Monday - - - Diary - - - Good-night.

Newtown Cross 4-H Club Has Achievement Day

Newtown Cross 4-H Garment Club held their achievement day last week at the home of their leader, Mrs. Monty Kelly. Mrs. Bertha Blanchard of the department of agriculture did the judging. All the mothers and many other women of the district attended. After the judging was completed Teresa Kelly, president of the club, called on the leader, Mrs. Kelly, who thanked all those who helped any way to make the year's work such a success. Mrs. Blanchard then commented on the fine work done by the girls and presented the following certificates and marks: fourth year, Teresa Kelly, 92 1/2 percent; Mary McKenna, 92 percent; third year, Joanne Connolly, 79 percent; Heather Reilly, 78 percent; Eileen McKenna, 78 percent; second year: Maureen Kelly, 85 1/2 percent; Lynette Power, 84 1/2 percent; Lorraine Connolly, 82 1/2 percent; Brenda Larkin, 78 percent; Linda Reilly, 73 percent. The Women's Institute gave each girl a prize, and Mrs. Francis McKenna on behalf of the mothers, then expressed words of appreciation to Mrs. Kelly for the assistance and leadership given to the girls, and presented her with a gift from the institute. Each girl in the group also gave the leader a gift, and expressed her thanks for the assistance given during the year. Mrs. Kelly in reply, said: "It is not everyone who receives such rewards for doing what she likes to do." She then thanked Mrs. Blanchard for taking the time to judge the girls' work at a period of the year when she is busy attending conventions. She was very grateful that she could
