

Selected Poetry.

LITTLE THINGS.

One step, and then another,
And the longest walk is ended;
One stitch, and then another,
And the largest rent is mended;
One brick upon another,
And the highest wall is made;
One flake upon another,
And the deepest snow is laid.

So the little coral workers,
By their slow but constant motion,
Have built up those pretty islands
In the distant, dark blue ocean.
And the noblest undertakings
Man's wisdom hath conceived
By oft-repeated effort
Have been patiently achieved.

A little 'tis a little word,
But much may in it dwell;
Then let a warning voice be heard,
And learn the lesson well.
The way to ruin thus begins,
Down, down, like easy stairs:
If conscience suffers little sins,
Soon larger ones it bears.

A little theft, a small deceit,
Too often leads to more;
Tis hard at first, but tempts the feet
As through an open door.
Just as the broadest rivers run
From small and distant springs,
The greatest crimes that men have done
Have grown from little things.

Facts and Scraps.

The easiest thing for a negro to do—Keep dark.

We pity the family that sits down to a broil three times day.

Why is the letter G like the sun?—Because it is the centre of light.

Speak low, ladies; and yet always endeavor to be high-toned women.

When is a sick man a contradiction?—When he is an impatient patient.

A lady's home dress ought to last a long while; she never wears it out.

A splendid ear, but a very poor voice, as the organ-grinder said of a donkey.

To many the path of life is nearly all tunnels. This is what makes it such a bore.

A wise man may be pinched by poverty, but only a fool will let himself be pinched by tight shoes.

A quack advertises a compound that will cure everything, from bad character to a bad temper.

Boarding-schools fit young ladies for keeping boarders after they marry and have husband to support.

An architect proposes to build a Bachelor Hall which will differ with most houses in having no Eves.

"Cabbage, mum? We don't keep no second-class vegetables, mum. You'll get it at the lower end of the town."

It is right for young people to use a license to get married, but they shouldn't use too much license afterwards.

"Got any ice in the head of your table Bill?" "No, but I have got the next best thing to it. 'What's that?' A severe cold."

"This settles it, anyhow," as the cook said in reply to a disputatious companion, at the same time dropping an egg into the coffee.

A certain young miss, when her parents refuse to allow her to attend a B. I. will set to and have a haul at home. Interesting child!

Many a poor woman thinks she can do no thing without a husband; and when she gets one, finds she can do nothing with him.

A man out West, who offered bail for a friend, was asked by the judge if he had any incumbrance on his farm. "Oh, yes," said he "my wife."

A hen-pecked husband says—Before marriage I fancied wedded life would be all sunshine; but afterwards I found that it was a moonshine.

An Irishman visiting a churchyard with a friend, pointing to a shady, quiet nook, said: "This is the spot where I intend being laid, if I'm spared."

"Porter," said an old lady of an Irish railway porter, "when does the nine o'clock train leave?" "Sixty minutes past eight, ma'am," was Mike's reply.

A little fellow, four years old, the other day nonplussed his mother by making the following inquiry:

"Mother, if a man is a mister, ain't a woman a mystery?"

Little Susie, looking at some pictures of winged angels, exclaimed, "Mamma, I don't want to be an angel!" "Why not, dear?" "Humph! leave all my pretty clothes, and wear feeders like a hen!"

"Jones, if burglars should get into your house, what would you do?" "I'd do whatever they required of me. I've never had my own way in that house yet, and its too late to begin now—yes, alas! too late!"

"Do I believe in second love? Humph! If a man buys a pound of sugar, isn't it sweet? And, when it's gone, don't he want another pound; and isn't that sweet, too? Troth, Murphy, I hel eve in second love!"

We once knew a man who said to his pastor: "I am going to the other church after this." "Ah! and why so?" "Well, if you don't get your shoes made at my shop, I won't get my preaching done at yours." So he went off.

"Madame," said a certain nameless one to Mrs. Brown, the other day, "you are talking simple rubbish." "Yes sir," replied the ever-crushing lady, "because I wish you to comprehend me."

Somebody tried to excuse a liar to Dr. Johnson, saying, "You must not believe more than I do." "Ay," replied the doctor, "but which half?"

P. E. ISLAND SUMMER RESORT.

ISLAND PARK HOTEL, SUMMERSIDE.

Terms Weekly: June, $9; July, $10.50; Aug., $12; Sept., $9

THIS NEW HOTEL, accommodating about one hundred and fifty guests, is now open. It contains, in addition to the sleeping apartments, a number of Public and Private Parlors, Billiard, Reading, Smoking, Barber's and Bar-rooms. Picturesquely situated on an Island, one hundred and forty acres in extent, in the Bedouque Bay, directly opposite the rising town of Summerside, it combines the retirement ensured by the insular position of its surroundings with equal convenience to a position in the town. Beautiful views of the harbour are obtainable from the windows and roof of the Hotel, and from the carriage drive around the Island. The grounds are being tastefully laid out with walks and drives, the greater part being left finely wooded. Sea bathing can be enjoyed with suitable privacy on various parts of the beach near the Hotel, dressing rooms have been constructed for the purpose. A Ferry Steamer belonging to Shediac and Charlottetown; and can be made available for picnics, fishing and shooting parties and pleasure excursions on the Bay. Horses, carriage, rowing and sail boats, always on hire. Families and parties can have contiguous suites of rooms, if required, by sending reasonable notice beforehand.

TERMS.—From $2 to $2.50 per day, according to room. Special arrangements can be made for summer residence.
