Notes and Comments.

—New York Press: There was no debate over the expulsion of Captain Verney from the House of Commons. It was an occasion when silence spoke with ten million tongues.

—The announcement of the arrest of the assassins of Belcheff, the Bulgarian Minister of Finance, will be received gladly by the foes of Russia in Europe. Bulgaria has long been the prize for which Russian intriguers have striven, that Belcheff's murder was at once laid to Russian agents. There is little doubt that he was mistaken for his eminent colleague, Stanbuloff, with whom he was walking the night he was killed. Stanbuloff is Prime Minister of Bulgaria, a man of commanding talent and an unswerving foe to Russian domination in the southeast of Europe. The Russian tools feared and hated him and had repeatedly plotted for his death. The arrest and trial of Belcheff's murderers may bring the whole network of Russian intrigues in Bulgaria to light.

—Commenting upon the death of Bishop McIntyre, the British Colonist, of Victoria, B. C., says:—

"He was one of the kindest, the most courteous and the most urbane of men. He won the respect and esteem of all with whom he came in contact. No one, not even the most prejudiced and bigoted, could resist the charm of his manner. He was not what is commonly considered an able man; but he had a talent for business, and he was devoted to his duties. During the thirty one years in which he was Bishop of Charlottetown, the affairs of the Roman Catholic Church in Prince Edward Island were judiciously and faithfully administered. His clergy were deeply attached to him, and he was loved and revered not only by Roman Catholics, but by Protestants of all denominations, from one end of the Island to the other. He was enthusiastic in the cause of education, and the friends of temperance found in him a zealous co-laborer and a discreet adviser. The death of the good Bishop McIntyre will be sincerely and deeply mourned by the whole population of the Island province."

—President Van Horne, in his annual report, read at the annual report of the C. P. R. on Wednesday last, said: "In conclusion, the directors feel justified in pointing with some degree of pride to the fact that the first day of the present month was the time fixed by the original contract between the government and the company for the completion of the main line of the railway. The date not only found the main line already more than five years in operation, but found the Company with 5,500 miles of railway in full and profitable working, and with tributary lines embracing 1,600 miles more; with its lines reaching almost every important place in the Dominion of Canada, and with connection established to New York, Boston, Chicago, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Duluth; and as if to mark this date more strongly, the first of the company's fleet of Pacific steamships had just arrived at Vancouver from China and Japan with a full passenger list and full cargo."

—The New York Evening Sun relates that one of its newboys, a lad 14 years of age, was taken to a Bowery clothing store by a gentleman who wanted to see how cheaply a boy could be clothed, and was fitted out from head to foot for $1.61. Here is the schedule of items given:

Suit	79 cents
Cap	8 cents
Shoes	49 cents
Tie	5 cents
Stockings	10 cents
Total	$1.61

The moral which this story of cheap prices is pointed is, says the New York Press, that in no other country could a lad be fitted out for so little money, and the low prices are one of the results of competition among manufacturers originally encouraged and always fostered by protection in the tariff laws.

—The condition of affairs in Europe, especially as regards the attitude of Russia, and the preparations which that nation is making for a war, are told in a cablegram from London to the New York Times. The despatch says: Bismarck once said that the first battles of the next European war would be fought out on the bourses. The events of the past fortnight and the menace of the next few weeks to come suggest the possibility that this great conflict may be already upon us. The steady and heavy withdrawals of gold from the banks and bankers of Europe by the Russian Government has caused a very uneasy feeling. The idea prevails that Russia is hastily preparing for war. She has completed a heavy concentration of troops along the western frontier; she has finished a number of small strategic railways, and has built a lot of modern grain elevators. True, her distribution of the new magazine rifle is not perfected, but the old guns will serve to arm the reserves of peasants too ignorant to be entrusted with the new and complicated weapons. At all events, the next few weeks will be the most anxious time Europe has seen since the great war scare of 1887.

It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best-known remedy for diarrhoea, whether arising from teething or other causes. ## LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

Lawyers and Judges.

SIR,—The lawyers of this Province have many grievances. The Judgeships do not become vacant often enough. The salary attached to those positions is not large enough, litigation, for some reason or another, is not now as common or profitable as it used to be, and the general practice of law is not as lucrative as it was some years ago. All these things combine to make the lot of the long-suffering lawyer a hard one. But other people have grievances as well as lawyers and judges. With your permission we will look into the matter a little, and see if the judges and lawyers on the Island are not used as well as other people, and as well, for that matter, as they deserve to be. From the tenor of your article in last Friday's paper I gather that there is an agitation to have an additional judge appointed, for the reason that the judges are overworked and underpaid. With all due deference to the authority attaching to the editorial utterances of THE EXAMINER, I maintain that they are neither. The judges on the Island are better paid than any other class for the amount of work they do. Not so well paid as the judges in Ontario, to be sure, but neither is the Attorney-General of the Province paid as much as the Attorney-General of Ontario, or the head of our railway as much as the head of the Canada Pacific Railway, for obvious reasons.

Now I don't say that because a judge is a resident of this Province he should be paid less than a judge doing a corresponding amount of work in another large province. My argument is that the Island should have just as many judges as we have work for; and if we do not want as many in proportion as the other provinces, we should have the amount saved in this case applied to some service that we do require.

It is a well-known fact that there is not nearly so much litigation and consequent work for judges as there was ten years ago. In fact, the occupation of the County Court judges is almost gone, and one judge could do the work of the three counties and not be overworked either.

There are fourteen judges in Ontario, and only three on the Island; but Ontario has nearly twenty times the population and forty times the amount of litigation and work for judges. I have just picked up at random the Daily Empire of the 28th April, and find that there was up before the judges in Toronto alone on that day about 60 cases, and before Dalton, Master of the High Court of Justice, 12 cases, some of them involving in-use interests, and this is true of most every day in the year. This is independent of the Assize, which take the bulk of the judges in other parts of the Province. There is plenty of days in Ontario that the judges do more business than is done on the Island in a year. The six judges on the Island get about $18,000, and under the rate that the Minister of Justice promises will get about $22,000, which is to my mind quite enough for the Island to be charged for the services they render. Now if every lawyer, young and old, on the Island, could get a judgeship without prejudicing our claim on the Dominion Government for something we really need, by all means let them have it. But would not our asking for an additional judge or two at this time be likely to militate against our getting for instance an agricultural experimental station, something we want and want badly.

I write this from the standpoint of a farmer, believing that on the Island, in the Dominion of Canada, and the world over, the lawyers get very much more than they deserve, and altogether out of proportion to the services they render the community. We have them in Canada occupying almost every conceivable position that there is any good salary attached to, and it seems to be that no matter how capable and industrious one may be, unless it happens to be a lawyer there is very little chance of "getting there."

I have something more to say on this subject later on.

News Notes.

Sugar prices have again dropped in the United States.

The London County Council has decided to spend £2,000 in entertaining Emperor William.

The Bank of England has advanced its rate of discount from 4 to 5 per cent; many, 3½ to 3¾ per cent.

The Dakotans who have settled in Manitoba have issued a card saying that they find matters even better than the Canadian agents represented, and expressing their complete satisfaction with their new home at Yorkton.

Notwithstanding repeated warnings, the number of dupes found by agents in the United States, who are persuaded that they are heirs to great wealth held by the Bank of England, is increasing. The United States legation in London is continually pestered by applicants asking assistance in establishing claims which have no foundation.

AN INTERESTING ANNIVERSARY.—It is just sixty years ago to-day since Sir Leonard Tilley came to St. John and took up his residence with the late Dr. Cook. Mrs. Cook, the doctor's widow, is residing in St. John, and Sir Leonard paid her a visit to-day to remind her of the fact that it was her roof that first gave him shelter in this city, where he has achieved such great success.—Saturday's Gazette.
