MCCARTHY OFFERS SOME NAMES - Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R.
Wis., in foreground) gestures with hands as he offers to give reporters in Washington a list of 26 State Department employees he says are uncooperating a security-loyalty check. McCarthy's condition was that the major press associations would promise to publish the names despite lack of immunity against libel. When the news agencies wouldn't make such a promise, McCarthy said he'd make the names public on the Senate floor - where he has immunity.

Imman Bi-Annual Picnic
The Imman picnic was held on Friday afternoon, Aug. 10th, on the camping grounds of the M. R.
E. C. at Augustine Cove. The weather was fine and warm, which made it ideal for those who wished to have a dip in the waters of Northumberland Strait. A large number of the clan gathered from different parts of the province.
Ottawa and U.S.A.

During the afternoon many old acquaintances were renewed. Followed by a business session for the election of officers for the next picnic: Mr. Fred Inman, Victoria, presided, and after a brief address of welcome called on a number who related several -vents connected with the early settlers of this clan, who migrated to this province from England in 1819.

And the hardships they had to endure. Officers for next picnic:

Cove; Vice Pres. Mark Cameron,

College Fashions
By DOROTHY ROE
NEW YORK, Aug. 16 (AP)- The annual big push is on, to make real-life college girls look like they do in the movies.

Each year about this time tons of newspaper, rivers of printer's ink and millions of words are poured forth on what the well-dressed girl will wear to college.

Fashion Magazine staffs predict that this year's college girls will look neat and sweet, clad in plaid, piquant in pique or cute in corduroy.

Department stores open their college shops with displays of what their buyers think college girls should wear, against a background of pennants, footballs and class-room impediments.

All this effort on the part of magazine staffs and ad writers likely will be a study in futility.

For what Betty probably will wear this year is just what she's been wearing on campus for many years-blue jeans, preferably patched, a frayed skirt or o'ne sweat shirt discarded by father or brother, bulky socks and moccasins.

This is provided, of course, that Betty goes to a women's college.
The co-ed institutions often live up to the ad-writers' dreams, as girls dress for a male audience, in class or out.

This at least should put an end once and for all to that perennial question-do women dress for men or for other women?

It's only when there's a man in sight that Betty College "can be coaxed to live up to the ideals of the fashion magazines.
