Student Choir Due Here Tomorrow

Arriving by chartered bus tomorrow will be the Presbyterian Student Choir (pictured above) which will hold special preaching and singing services in Zion Presbyterian Church here tonight. The choir will hold its first service here in Zion Church tomorrow night; it will be an open service to which the public is invited. During their stay in the city the members of the choir will be billeted in the homes of members of Zion and St. James Churches. Tomorrow night they will be dinner guests of the Zion Church Men's Association and on Wednesday the St. James Women's Guild will be the hostesses at a luncheon. After the evening service tomorrow night a reception will be held for them by the Zion Church Ladies Auxiliary. The choir will also hold an assembly in Prince Street School Wednesday morning.

Members of the choir are all students for the ministry at Knox College, Toronto, and Presbyterian College, Montreal. They have been making annual visits to various parts of Canada under the leadership of Rev. Finley G. Stewart, minister of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Kitchener, Ontario, and have with them Mr. Carman H. Milligan, organist and choirmaster of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Ottawa.

Returns From Army Service In Germany

One of the first Islanders to return following service in Germany, Pte. George R. (Ray) Perry arrived here last week. Pte. Perry said that civilian conditions in the Allied sector of Germany were good right now, and added that food was plentiful and prices for it compared favorably with wages received by the working people. He found this to be in direct contrast to the life of the average person in Britain where everything is rationed so strictly that the general run of citizens has much difficulty in obtaining sufficient food to satisfy his family. The out-landish variation noted was in coffee. In Germany, Pte. Perry said, good coffee costs approximately $400 per pound. They have a variety of coffee made in Germany which he believes to be a poor substitute, and it is only used because of the difficulty in obtaining real coffee from the Americas.

Although a bandsman he served in the 8th Battalion of the North Nova Scotia Regiment and had two Charlottetown men as officers. They are Capt. Vern MacDonald, second in command of the regiment and Lieut. Lloyd MacPhee, platoon commander. He was a member of the one-toned P. E. I. Pipe Band and later played the tenor drum with the Recco Band until he re-enlisted for service with the 27th Brigade last year. He was serving overseas this time with the "Highland Battalion".

Private Perry is a son of the late John R. Perry, a veteran of the First World War and a member of the old Military Band of the city. His mother, Mrs. Bernard Corrigan, is still living in this city. He is married to the former Miss Edna Perry, of Rumford, Maine, and the couple have three children. He expects to be at home here until the middle of June when he will be posted for duties somewhere in Canada.

encouraging, does not sustain shipper's belief that the service is going to be adequate for the summer. Mr. Wheatley continued, "The 600 young pigs were shipped, signifies possibilities. I have shipped as many as 1,500 myself on a trip of a former ship on this service. However, we still have the valuable market at St. Pierre to deal with, and along with others, I am keeping my fingers crossed and hoping for the best!"

"We must all play ball if we expect to recover and retain this trade," Mr. Wheatley said. "It's a 50 hour run, and the feeding and watering problem is insignificant when compared with rail shipments via North Sydney where only two cars of cattle can be handled each week." 16 cattle offered for the Blue Prince, could not be taken this trip.

Meanwhile, shippers agreed with Manager McCarville of the Newfoundland Shipping Service, that "first trip" confusion is not new. The assurance by the Company that the space will be assigned well ahead of time, and that with a better knowledge of the ship lay-out, the stevedores will be able to load more quickly and effectively, is received with an open mind.

Sheds are to be provided to shelter cattle and other livestock awaiting turn to be taken aboard, and the ramps to the assigned space, will eliminate the slower "sling" over the side method.

ANCIENT PUZZLE - NEWBLISS, Ireland - (CP) - Remains of an unknown animal found in the roof of a farmhouse in Monaghan have been sent to the Dublin National Museum for examination. Something like a miniature mastodon, the skeleton is nearly three feet tall with two tusks, ribs and teeth.

Situation Re Labor Scored At LPU Meeting

President Lemuel T. Rush was re-elected to head the Labourers' Protective Union at the adjourned annual meeting held yesterday. Gordon MacLeod was elected vice-president with Warren W. Gallant as treasurer.

The financial secretary is William A. Hughes, who served for several months in that post in the past executive, and the recording secretary is Hector MacQuarrie, who was re-elected. Members of the House Committee are chairman, Hubert Quinn, Vernon McDonald and Roy MacKinnon. Sergeant at Arms is Harold Culden and Mr. Ernie Hogan is the Guide.

President's Report - Following is the report of the president which was adopted: "Your present executive were elected on May 15th, one year ago. 12 new members were taken into the Union, two members John W. Gormley and Albert Ryan passed on before re-election. On May 24th, the executive met and decided after a long discussion that wages and working conditions would have to be improved. A committee under the chairmanship of president Rush was appointed to meet the shippers and agents regarding new contracts; the committee consisted of finance secretary Hughes, chairman of the house committee Quinn, and president Rush.

After waiting on the shippers and agents a regular meeting was called on May 29th and a scale of wages set by the Union was adopted on motion and the committee given power to complete the contracts for the year. Record secretary Bell was appointed on the negotiating committee. After a considerable amount of work was done by this committee, a request was forwarded to Ottawa asking to have Mr. Horace Pettigrew come to Charlottetown to help the Union with their contracts. This was granted and the present scale now being received by the L. P. U. is the result of the work of this committee. The executive met fifteen times since the last annual meeting, there were six regular and two special meetings, showing that your executive was keeping in

Final Meeting Of Series Held On Farm Problems

Mr. Claude Smith presided over a large and representative meeting of farmers at the Vocational School on Friday night. The meeting was the "grand finale" of a series conducted under the auspices of the Federation of Agriculture, previous meetings having been held all over the Province during April and early May, to the extent of approximately 20.

Mr. Smith MacFarlane, of Harrington, was appointed secretary of the meeting, while farmers from Corehead, Harrington, Dunstaffnage, Marshfield, Pownal, Alexandria and The Royalty, took a sustained interest in the proceedings. A film on loan from the Dairy Farmers of Canada Association, entitled "Power of Pennies" was shown, as part of a national advertising campaign.

The meeting was addressed by Messrs. Rowland MacDonald and Lincoln Dewar, on matters of more than passing interest to all concerned. Mr. MacDonald stressed the need of organizing, and being in a position to make proper approach to the Government, and acquaint the public generally, with the problems of farming. The matter of rail grading beef, as is done at the packing plant in respect to hogs, was discussed, and agreed to as an objective. The matter of unfavourable publicity that eggs are getting came in for considerable review, and it was agreed that something should be done to restore public confidence in this direction.

Mr. Dewar reviewed the benefits received by farmers, as a result of close co-operation between Federal and Provincial officials in the various matters assigned to them. The freight assistance policy was cited as an illustration. Mr. Dewar asked for closer co-operation and a better understanding between all classes of farmers, in order that a more effective and orderly approach might be made to Governments when deemed necessary.

EARLY TRADER - Paterson's Point in Lake Michigan was named after Charles Paterson, a Montreal fur trader who was drowned at that spot in 1788.

Capacity Audience Acclaims Concluding Festival Concert

Saturday evening brought this year's highly successful Festival of Music to a close with the third and final concert by the Stars of the Festival.

A capacity audience was once again in attendance, this time to hear performances of winners of classes held during the latter part of the week. Dr. L. W. Shaw, Honorary President of the Association, acted as chairman for the occasion, and introduced each of the numbers to the enthusiastic audience.

In his opening remarks Dr. Shaw paid special tribute to Dr. G. D. Steel, President of the organization, for the capable manner in which the extremely ambitious and lengthy Festival had been handled. The two local adjudicators, Miss Helen M. Yeo and Miss Felice Arsenault, spoke briefly on choral reading and folk dancing during the intermission, and each suggested ways in which these forms of art might be improved by the teachers.

In her remarks Miss Yeo told the audience that unity and beauty of tone were essential in choral reading, and that although rhythm was necessary, it should not be stressed too much. She also briefly reviewed the history of this art which has only been in the last two Festivals, and spoke of its popularity in England, Scotland and the U. S. A.

Miss Arsenault spoke of the benefits of folk dancing to the participants, and also reviewed its history as the most democratic of all arts. All those participating in the concert were once again placed in various classrooms of the college where the program was brought by a specially placed public address system. By doing this the M. F. A. assured the large audience of seats which would otherwise have been occupied by the many artists taking part.

The first number on the program was the appearance of the Kathleen Hornby Siring Ensemble with their sympathetic playing of Cibulka's "Love's Dream After The Ball," followed by the piano solo, "On the Heather" by Wallace Platis of Charlottetown. The sweet voice of Miss Malda

Fine Concert Given By Younger Festival Stars

Again on Saturday afternoon the Auditorium at Prince of Wales College was filled when the second of three "Stars of the Festival" program was presented. The program was composed entirely of performances by the younger competitors in the Musical Festival. Although long, there was wide variety in the well arranged program of over thirty selections, with folk dancing, choral reading, Gregorian chant, a rhythm band number and one violin solo along with the choruses and vocal and piano duets and solos.

Mr. John Leuty presided over the concert of which an hour was broadcast, and scholarships to those winning them were presented by Mrs. G. D. Steel and Mrs. Edward MacPhail.

As Mr. Reginald Geen remarked when addressing a festive audience Friday evening, it is indeed a thrilling experience to see so many young people taking part in the festival. Much hitherto unheard of talent was brought to light last week, and the incentive, and in many cases, the material rewards of the festival will bear much cultural fruit in the years to come, for those who have worked so diligently to make it a success, and the section of the public which has supported it so wholeheartedly will be able to take credit. It is most encouraging to note that the festival committee is already discussing plans for next year's festival.
