Horny the Engineer presents OCTOBEERFEST

On behalf of the Engineering Society I would like to welcome everyone back for another year of studying and partying. We in the engineering Dept. are offering a full year course in the art of partying.

Topics to be covered include History of Partying, Partying in other lands, the socio-economic effects and future of partying.

This is a very rigorous course and participating students should be highly self-motivated.

First lab will take place on Thursday Oct.8 at 9:00 in the S.U. Barn with our first topic being OKTOBEERFEST (German Partying). These first few classes are critical days and bonus marks will be awarded for good attendance.

See you in class...

IF YOU ARE AN UNHAPPY FRESHMAN . . .

Once upon a time, there was a non-conforming sparrow who decided not to fly south for the winter. However, the weather turned so cold that he reluctantly started to fly south. In a short time, ice began to form on his wings and he fell to earth in a farmyard, almost frozen. A cow passed by and crapped on the little sparrow. The sparrow thought it was the end, but the manure warmed him and thawed his wings; thus, warm and happy and able to breathe, he started to sing. Just then a large cat came by, heard the chirping and investigated the sound. The cat cleared away the manure, found the chirping bird and promptly ate him.

This story contains three morals:

1. Everyone who craps on you is not necessarily your enemy.
2. Everyone who gets you out of the crap is not necessarily your friend.
3. And - if you are warm and happy in a pile of crap, keep your mouth shut.

NEWSFLASH: It has come to our attention that Marion has no balls. ■
