A PARABLE.

The Phrenological Journal relates this parable: "Then shall the kingdom of Satan be likened unto a grain of tobacco seed, which, though exceeding small, being cast into the ground grew, and became a great weed, and spread its leaves rank and broad so that huge and vile worms formed habitation thereon. And it came to pass that the sons of men looked upon this weed, and the eyes of their understanding being being darkened, thought it beautiful to look upon, and much to be desired to make youth of tender years look big and manly.

And, moreover, it came to pass that those who chewed thereof became weak and sick, and could not deliver themselves from the desire of having bits of it continually in their mouths, which afore time had been clean and ruddy, but now foul and black; and, besides, the chewers were seized with a constant and violent spitting of unclean humors, and they did spit in all places, even in ladies' parlors, and in the courts of the Lord of Hosts. And the good and true, and all that led pure lives were greviously plagued thereby. And it came to pass that men were dissatisfied with merely chewing the strange weed, but sought out other and cunning devices for using it. Some, indeed did make it into a fine powder and filled their nostrils therewith, and they were taken suddenly with fits, and they did sneeze with great and mighty sneezes, insomuch that their eyes were filled with tears and their faces with wrinkles.

And yet others cunningly wrought the leaves thereof into rolls, and did set fire to one end therof, and did suck vehemently at the other, and did look very grave and calf-like; and the smoke of their burning and sucking ascended up forever and forever. And there were men whose wisdom being that of the fox, beholding the multitude which did chew, and smoke, and snuff, said among themselves, "Come, let us plant, and water, and increase the production of this weed, whose name is tobacco, for therein is a mighty and increasing business;" and they did so, and the merchantmen waxed rich in the commerce thereof.

And it came to pass that even the saints of the Most High became bond servants to the weed, and defiled themselves therewith; even the poor, who said they could not buy shoes and books for their wives and little ones, spent their substance therefor. And the anger of the Lord was kindled by such great wickedness, and He said, "Wherefore this waste? And why do these little ones lack bread, and shoes, and books? Turn now your fields into corn and wheat, and put the evil thing far from you and be separate, and defile not yourselves any more, and I will bless you, and cause my face to shine upon you." But with one accord they raised their voices and exclaimed, "We cannot cease from chewing, snuffing and puffing; we are slaves."

THE CATHOLIC CHURCH.

Cardinal Gibbons' Sermon at the Dedicating of a Brooklyn Church

With imposing pomp and elaborate cermonial the new and handsome church of St. John the Baptist, at Lewis and Willoughby avenues, Brooklyn, was dedicated on Sunday in the presence of Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore and other ecclesiastical dignitaries from various parts of the country, and a vast assemblage of people The new church, which is one of the finest in the country, cost nearly $300,000. Bishop McDonnell performed the ceremony of dedication, Cardinal Gibbons preached a most eloquent sermon. Cardinal Gibbons announced as his text: "Go ye, therefore, and teach all nations; baptizing them in the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit; teaching them to observe all things whatever I have commanded you; and behold I am with you all days until the end of the world."

His Eminence spoke substantially as follows: The Catholic religion alone, as the name implies, is universal, cosmopolitan, world-wide. The number of Catholics in the world is computed at about two hundred and thirty millions. They have all one Lord, one Faith, one Baptism, one Creed. They receive the same sacraments, they worship at the same altar, they pay spiritual allegiance to one common head. The creed of the Catholic church is now identical with what it was in past ages. The same gospel of peace that Jesus Christ preached on the mount; the same doctrine that St. Peter preached at Antioch is ever preached in the throughout the globe from January to December. "Jesus Christ yesterday, and today and forever." The church has seen kingdoms rise and fall. She has seen monarchies change into republics, and republics change into empires. She has looked on while the Goth and the Vandal, the Saxon and Saracen invaded the fairest portions of Europe, upsetting thrones and demolishing cities. All this she has seen, while her one divine constitution remains unchanged.

The cardinal closed his discourse by congratulating the members on the dedication of the beautiful edifice.

A MONTREAL MAN

Relates an Interesting Personal Experience.

While the following statement of A. D. Thomson, of Montreal, is of local interest as coming from him, it is also of universal interest because it emphasises a great truth. Mr. Thomson says:—"Being troubled with nasal catarrh I was advised to try Hawker's catarrh cure, which I did, and since using it the catarrh has disappeared entirely; in fact I can walk all day and breathe through my nose without the least trouble." What Mr. Thomson says has been his experience, has been the experience of thousands. Even the most aggravated forms of catarrh yield to the wonderful curative power of Hawker's catarrh cure. It restores the breath to its pristine sweetness and removes all disagreeable and unhealthy symptoms of the disease. It is a marvellously quick and sure cure for cold in the head, and will relieve the deafness caused by catarrh. For sale by all druggists at 25 cents per box. This remedy has no equal in its field of operation.

The authorities of Toronto, like those of Montreal, are warning the public the necessity of vaccination as a security against an invasion of smallpox.

Dying on His Feet.

"That man is just dying on his feet." How often the phrase is used with regard to persons brought to death's door by overwork and consequent nervous prostrations and debility. They cannot afford time to rest (so they will tell you) and gradually they reach the stage where their friends speak of them in the words above quoted. For all who have reached such a stage or are in broken health from any cause, there is a sure specific in Hawker's nerve and stomach tonic, the great nerve and brain invigorator, blood and flesh builder, and a perfect stomach tonic and aid to digestion.

DR. G. C. OSGOOD, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

DR. J. F. KINCHELOE, Conway, Ar.

H. A. ARCHER, M. D., 111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

BRECKENRIDGE'S CANVASS.

Samples of the Work Kentucky Women are Doing Against Him.

A Philadelphia gentleman who has just returned from Kentucky was in Lexington when Col. W. C. P. Breckenridge made his speech there. He relates some significent incidents of the campaign.

A Lexington man went home the day of the forthcoming speech with a Breckenridge button on his coat lapel, and told his wife that he had decided to support him. She replied:

"As the head of the family I recognize your right to place your political influence wherever you please, and as a loyal wife I shall do what I can for the success of your candidate. I am going to the florist's to get a bunch of the finest white flower I can find. I shall meet the train the Colonel arrives on, invite him into my carriage and ride up with him."

The citizen looked at his wife in amazement. He knew she was quite capable of carrying out her programme, and he knew he must prevent it. She agreed to relinquish her plan when he took off the Breckenridge button and promised to oppose the Colonel.

Another Lexington man met some ladies on the street, and joined them in their walk. He wore a Breckenridge button. One of the ladies said to him:

"We should be delighted with your company, but we cannot be seen in public with a man wearing that button; neither can we receive such a man at our home."

The button promptly came off. These are samples of the work the women of Kentucky are doing against the re-election of Colonel Breckenridge.

BEWARE OF FRAUDS.

The unfailing Success of Dodd's Kidney Pills induces Fraudulent Imitators to attempt to pass Worthless Remedies on the Public.

TORONTO, May 7—This appears to be an age of fakes and frauds. It seems impossible for any new idea or valuable invention to be made known without a host of imitators trying to foist their goods on an unsuspecting public in the hope of making an unmerited profit of their worthless ideas. The unequalled success of Dodd's Kidney Pills in curing all forms of kidney disease, has led to the introduction of many cheap and base imitations that are worse than valueless. Dodd's was the first kidney remedy ever offered in pill form. For their own safety, purchasers should buy none but Dodd's Kidney Pills. Sold in large boxes; price, fifty cents or six boxes for $2.50. To be had of all dealers.

Pond's Extract, Large sums of money are spent by the afflicted to find relief from Piles. Pond's Extract cures piles.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is absolutely unequalled as a blood purifier and strengthening medicine. It is the ideal spring medicine. Try it.
