Church Directory, Charlottetown. The Bank of Prince Edward Island.

(Presbyterian Witness.)

We hear much serious muttering with regard to the affairs of this Bank. Complaints from highly respectable stockholders have reached us of gross mismanagement and of various injustices, and of barriers erected by wealthy and influential men to protect themselves while widows and orphans and unprotected single ladies are pinning in deep distress caused by the ruinous mismanagement of the men in whom they trusted. The Bank was chartered in 1855. Its charter members were the leading business men of Charlottetown. Its directors on the 28th Nov., 1881, were men of high standing in whom the public imposed implicit confidence, namely, John Longworth, President, Joseph Hensley, (Judge of the Supreme Court,) Thomas Heath Haviland, (Lieut. Governor,) Richard Heartz, W. W. Lord, Daniel Davies, James Peake. These gentlemen were directors for very many years, and unlimited confidence was reposed in them by the stockholders. They were elected and re-elected from time to time for the express purpose of guarding the funds entrusted to the Bank by the stockholders and depositors. These gentlemen, whose word ought to be a sufficient guarantee of absolute honesty and unimpeachable integrity, and of whose intelligence there can be no doubt, declared half-yearly dividends, and published statements indicating the perfect solvency of the Bank. They were paid for their services as officers of the Bank and were therefore doubly bound to do their duty. It is alleged that the cashier was allowed to overdraw his account very largely, without any security whatever. This was bad. Still worse, perhaps, and still more inexcusable, is the fact that they permitted very large advances without security to be made to persons of notoriously shady character so far as finances were concerned. This must surely be characterized as a monstrous misappropriation of money. Morally, and we should suppose legally, the directors should be held liable for such wasteful and ruinous expenditures.

The directors announced their purpose to resume business within the legal ninety days, and when they could not do that, the Parliament of Canada by a special act extended the time another ninety days. But it turned out that the efforts at resumption were useless and only made bad worse.

The directors at one time seemed to realize their moral responsibility, and they pledged themselves to pay $70,000 over and above their double liability. But they now seemed disposed to repudiate their pledge. So at least we are told; but we shall be glad to learn that such is not the case—for the directors are all honorable men.

A curious episode in the affair deserves special mention. The President and the ex-President were examined as to the affairs of the Bank, before the Court. This was done at the request of the liquidators. It seems that after the failure was announced the Directors paid $42,000 to the Bank of Montreal. The liquidators wanted to find out the reason why. The leading lawyers of the Island without exception have been fed by the directors. Hence the liquidators had to bring Dr. Baker from St. John, to see to the case. The evidence given by the officers of the Bank is said to have been remarkable, but the Court made an order and caused it to be published in the Gazette forbidding the newspapers to publish the evidence or to offer comments upon it! We take it that this is an astonishing piece of business,—a most unwarrantable assumption on the part of the court. Or, if it be so that the court has power to make such an order, no time should be lost in taking away a power so unreasonable, so liable to abuse. If life were at stake, if the public peace were endangered, we could appreciate the duty of muzzling the press. But it seems to us that Coroner Jennings would be quite as much entitled to forbid the publication of the evidence taken regarding the burning of the Poor House as the Island court had to suppress the evidence concerning a public bank. If the local press has vigorously protested against the proceedings of the court we have failed to notice the fact.

The collapse of the City of Glasgow Bank was not relatively a greater calamity to Scotland than the collapse of the Island Bank has been to the people of our sister province. We are reluctant to believe that the directors wish to escape any legal or moral responsibility. We wish to hear that they have earnestly sought to have amended their culpable negligence, and they will share their wealth with the widows and orphans and helpless invalids who have been ruined through their mismanagement. As honest men, they should not have retained so many lawyers. As honest men, they should protest against the suppression of evidence, and they would seek to give the fullest light on all their transactions. It is not enough to blame their cashier; it was their servant, selected by themselves and under their orders. It will not do to suppress evidence or gag the press. Better pay up like large-minded, honest men. Depositors robbed, stockholders ruined, noteholders cheated and spoiled,—the story is a very ugly one. Wealthy directors seeking shelter behind an array of legal gentlemen does not improve appearances. Nobody will impugn the personal honesty of the directors; but their conduct, as public men charged with the care of other people's money, cannot be held up for imitation.

NOTICE.

THE Charlottetown Gas Light Company have imported a fresh supply of Bray's Patent Burners, especially made to consume only three feet of Gas per hour with the tap turned full on. These Burners are intended for use in Halls, Bedrooms, Kitchens, and other places where a light from a small consumption of Gas only is required. By regulating the tap, the Gas consumed can be reduced to any desired quantity less than three feet per hour. These Burners are so scientifically made that they will give a light equal to about ten candles at a cost of three quarters of one cent per hour. The price of these Burners to consumers of Gas will be ten cents each. [In 10 cod pat

As Others See Us.

J. B. Hamu, Esq., of St. John, who has been visiting this Island, returned home a few days ago. Mr. Hamu, on being interviewed by a representative of the Sun, gave an excellent account of the Island crops and business and the general condition of that invaluable portion of the Dominion. The movement of produce is very great, the railroad and steamers being crowded with freight. The cargo of the "Princess of Wales, Capt Evans (in which he crossed to Point du Chene on Saturday) consisted of a quantity of freight equal to 5 or 6 car loads—oysters, potatoes, oats, fish, starch, sheep, cattle. She had probably 200 bbls. oysters. Mr. J. D. Turner, St. John, is getting oysters at the rate of sixty barrels a day for winter use. He is supplied by Mr. Cannon of St. Eleanor's, who also ships a great quantity to Montreal, where oysters are worth $4 bbl. A Mr. Avard, Shemogue, has been on the Island all summer, buying and exporting sheep and cattle. He has shipped this season to St. John and the States, about 4,000 sheep, and probably 200 head of cattle to St. John. Mr. Murray, butcher, of St. John, has been buying cattle there most of the summer, and other St. John men (French) have been buying horses on the Island this fall. They have sent three car loads to Montreal from Point du Chene. The horse they want is a small sized, rough, cheap animal, costing $60 to $80. There have been shipped from the Island this year via Summerside and Point du Chene, 1,200 horses; 127 left last week, of which 60 went direct to Montreal. It is said that the cost of the animals averaged $30 each, the bulk of them being draught horses intended for horse car lines and the lumber woods. Oats are selling this week at 34 cents, for 34 lbs. to the bushel, in Summerside and Charlottetown, prices being a trifle lower in the latter; back in the country they could be had at 31 cts. Hay (loose) is from $8 to $10. The finest hay Mr. Hamu has ever seen he saw in the Island offered at these prices.

Business and Prices in Manitoba.

At Emerson business during the closing days of last week livened up very much and merchants are feeling correspondingly good. The freezing up of the roads and the snow that has fallen have given farmers better opportunities of coming to town, and grain receipts have materially increased. Wheat has been selling at 75c to 80c; oats, 40c to 45c; barley, 50c to 60c.

At Portage la Prairie business generally has been active in this town during the week and the receipts of grain have been heavy. Wheat has been selling from 75c to 80c; oats, 45c to 50c; barley, 45c to 55c; potatoes, 65c to 70c. With the advent of snow for sleighing much heavier receipts are anticipated.

Current Notes.

Carp culture in the United States is becoming an important branch of the fish trade.

The Canadian Pacific Railway engineers, returned to Winnipeg, report the line located from the summit of the Rocky Mountains to Padmore, and thence to Kicky Horse Pass. The survey through to the Columbia River will be continued all winter.

The present lumber season in Montreal has been the most active and profitable since 1873, which was the greatest year on record, the shipments, principally to South America, amounted to over twenty-four millions over 1880 and twenty-one millions over 1876.

Russia has concluded a new loan for $40,000,000, which brings up the total of her outstanding debt to $2,765,000,000. What is most noteworthy is the fact that her debt has almost doubled since 1872, the annual deficit in her finances averaging $120,000,000, whereas twenty years previous it was only $55,000,000.

An illustration of the conquest of distance by means of steam was afforded by the passage in 24 days of the mail ship Zealandia from Sydney to San Francisco. Its mails were carried by the Pennsylvania Railroad to New York with such despatch as to accomplish the entire journey from Australia in 30 days. The mails for England were sent by the steamship Main, and if its speed be equal to even the ordinary rate, the next journey will have been accomplished with a gain of over a day over all previous attempts. Before long England will be able to make the journey entirely on her own domain, taking it for granted, of course, that she is still the mistress of the sea.

Winnipeg is in a peculiar position, and will apparently be short, left without any Mayor or Council, and no way of electing one until the Legislature meets and amends its charter. A dispatch says it appears that by the amended charter passed last session of the Legislature, it is required that the voters' list must be revised by a County Court Judge in October. This was not done because the list was not ready, and so no election can be held. The charter makes no provision for the present Council remaining in office until their successors are elected, and so at the close of the year the city will be left without Mayor or Corporation, unless the Legislature can meet in the meanwhile, which does not seem possible in view of the general elections.

Women Students.

The women students of Bedford College had an unprecedented success at the recent examination at the London University. All the thirteen students that went up for the intermediate examinations in arts and science passed in either the first or second class; seven of these went up for honors and all of them passed, two taking prizes in German and French, the only prizes awarded to women.
