Supreme Court—Prince County.

SUMMERSIDE, 4th Oct., 1882.

The October Term of the Supreme Court opened here yesterday, Mr. Justice Peters presiding. The Grand Jury having named David Rogers, of Summerside, as their foreman, the judge charged them. He congratulated the people of Prince County on the absence of crime, there not being any criminal business this Term. He directed the attention of the Jury to the working of the Scott Act, which, he said, was supposed to be law in this Island; But he did not think that it was observed, as he saw numbers of men intoxicated.
He remembered when in France a man being arrested for intoxication, and was fined fifty francs. The man appeared again for a second offence the next day and was fined one hundred and fifty francs; and Judge Peters thought that if this course was adopted here, there would be less drunkenness.

The Grand Jury then retired, and after an absence of about ten minutes, returned and informed the Court that they had no business, and were thereupon discharged.
There are twenty-seven civil cases docketed, none of which are very important.

The Charlottetown lawyers here are Davies, Hodgson, Hon. Neil McLeod, D.
C. McLeod, Martin and McDonald.

The Jury trials begin this morning at ten o'clock.

A Political Introduction.

The Silver Record, of which Mr. J.
H. Fletcher is now the editor, gives its favorite candidate the following introduction to its readers:—

"For representative in 48th Congress,
"JAMES B. BELFORD.

"We will name the name of James B. Belford to the topmast of our political craft. We do this because we like Jim Belford, and we claim to be independent. We have the privilege of supporting whom we please for State and County officers. We will support the men we think are the best representatives of the people. We go for James B.
Belford, the red-headed game cock of Colorado, because we like him for his independence, knowing that no party lash can whip him into party traces, when the actions of the party are detrimental to the interests of his constituents. We like James B. Belford, for we know him to be a whole-souled, warm-hearted, big-brained gentleman. Though he may not be a saint, he is a representative Coloradoan man that can always be reached by the people. He is always ready to fight for his friends. Besides, we like him to be on the winning side. We know that all the powers of opposing politicians cannot beat him."

A Victoria Cross Hero.

The latest English Gazette states that the Queen has been graciously pleased to signify her intention to confer the decoration of the Victoria Cross upon the under-mentioned warrant officer of the Royal Navy, whose claim has been submitted for her Majesty's approval, for an act of gallant conduct performed by him during the naval attack of July 11th last, on the batteries of Alexandria, in Egypt, as recorded against his name:—Mr. Israel Harding, gunner, of Her Majesty's ship Alexandria.
Act of bravery for which recommended.— At about nine o'clock on the morning of July 11th, while her Majesty's ship Alexandria was engaging the forts at Alexandria, a ten-inch spherical shell passed through the ship's side and lodged on the main deck. Mr. Harding, hearing the shout "There's a live shell just above the hatchway," rushed up the ladder from below, and observing that the fuse was burning, took some water from a tub standing near, and threw it over the projectile, then picked up the shell and put it into the tub.
Had the shell burst it would probably have destroyed many lives.

For the Farmer.

Wheat smut is injurious to animals, acting both as a poison and mechanical irritant. For this reason the smut should be kept from the feeding stalls.

The Scientific American gives the following information to those who desire to get rid of smut on the farm: "In the autumn or early winter bore a hole one or two inches in diameter, according to the girth of the stump, and about eight inches deep.
Put into it one or two ounces of saltpetre, fill the hole with water, and plug it close.
In the ensuing spring take out the plug and pour in a gill of kerosene oil and ignite it.
The stump will smoulder away, without bleazing, to the very extremity of the roots, leaving nothing but ashes."

To illustrate the bad effects of Paris green on the germ of seed potatoes, a gentleman from Washington county informed me a day or two ago, that a neighbor had 300 bushels of cut potatoes entirely destroyed by sprinkling over them plaster which had been mixed with Paris green the year before. Not a potato grew. The plaster was applied as the potatoes were cut. In the soil the poison would probably be so quickly neutralized as to do no harm. It is possible that these seed potatoes may have had their vitality destroyed by being stored in large quantities; but the fact that Paris green and plaster had been applied is evidence against using it on cut potatoes until we have more light on the subject. It is probable also that the bad effects of overdoses of Paris green on potato foliage predisposes the plant to greater injury from drouth and other unfavorable conditions.

Money is on the rise in the great financial centres. Rates of interest have gone up considerably, and speculation is checked in consequence. The movement of the crops, at this season, requires a great deal of capital, and the disposition to hold great quantities of grain for speculation purposes absorbs as much more. Hence the rise in the bank rates.

Trade with South Africa.

The Monetary Times says:—A report upon the prospects of trade between Canada and South Africa has been made to the Halifax Board of Trade by Col. J. W.
Laurie, who has visited the Cape Colony and taken pains to inform himself upon the commerce of that region. The substance of Col. Laurie's report may be given as below:

Grain reaches the Cape mostly from Australia and New Zealand, either of which countries is twice as far off as Canada.
Wheat, corn, barley, beans, peas and flour, are received from the distant colonies, while oats are sent mostly from Brazil, on the coast of South America, and some wheat from Chili on the West coast. Why not send, if not our flour, say our coarse grain.
Agricultural implements to the value of a quarter million dollars go into Cape Town in a year. The most of these are American, some of them English. Canada might furnish these.

When vehicles for travelling can be made in Wisconsin, 850 miles west of Montreal, and shipped via Boston and New York to the Cape, why cannot we, in Canada, make the "spider" carts which are supplanting the Cape carts?

American furniture, chairs, tables, wash-stands, &c., are shipped to South Africa in quantities, the parts in cases or batteaux, to be put together on arrival. Wood bottom chairs, obtainable in Boston at $4 per dozen, and washstands at $6. We might do likewise.

Canadian strong tweeds and Nova Scotia "homespun," are recommended as well suited for that distant market. The latter article would certainly have an advantage over other parts of Canada in proximity to the market in question.

The following list of articles and their value imported into Cape Town in 1879, will be found worth perusal. We append the places whence imported:

Agricul. Implements $240,000 Am. and Eng.
H'dware and cutlery . . . 2,492 0-0 do.
Leather goods . . . 1,726,000 England.
Saddlery and harness . . . 534,800 Eng. and Am.
Wool Manufactures . . . 1,306,600 do.

The remaining articles in the list are given opposite the quantities each received:

Soap 6,904,301 lbs. England and U. S.
Candles 1,913,481 " England.
Ale & porter . . . 807,365 gal. Eng and G-r-m'y.
Butter 765,821 lbs. Amer. and Switz.

Moral Training in Schools.

The N. Y. Tribune says:—"Superintendent Dutton of the New Haven schools has issued a 'course of study pamphlet,' in which teachers of all grades are urged to recognize the importance of moral training as a proper part of education, and to lose no opportunity of giving instruction that may tend to improve the disposition and character of pupils. By the new course of study a kind, personal interest in individual pupils and extending to their homes is recommended. Not only are faults to be repressed, but dispositions are to be corrected.
In this manner the mind may be fortified against vice and wrong. Cleanliness on the part of the children, as well as the duty of teaching them to properly care for their instruction books, etc., is recommended.
Teachers may also teach cleanliness, kindness and politeness by practising these qualities themselves. Harsh words or threats are not to be ut-tered. The following are some of the topics upon which lessons may occasionally be given:—Conduct at home, on the street, and in public places; the value and beauty of politeness; respect for superiors and for the aged; truthfulness; necessity of self control —in temper, in eating, drinking, etc.; prudence in the use of money; propriety and neatness in dress; power of habit, as seen in the use of tobacco and intoxicating drinks; the great benefits of good company and good books; relation of the employer to the employed; public spirit and patriotism.

Scarcity of Fish.

Says the Boston Advertiser: "The receipts of fresh fish have been extremely light, more so than a week ago, and two such weeks together have not been known for a long time. Not only has the weather been bad, but bait is scarce and high.
Dealers have experienced great difficulty in getting any fish, and Portland, Gloucester and Portsmouth have all been scouring for supplies with but little success. Prices have ruled the highest this season.
Medium mackerel have sold at 7 to 10c. against 6 to 7c. last week, and this latter was high; and pikes brought this week 6c. against 4 to 5c. last week, and last year there were times when they sold at 50c. per 100. The advance on nearly all fresh fish has been about 3c. per lb. Some white fish have been received during the week from Detroit, and sold at 15c. per lb. wholesale. A cargo of Dalhousie herring was received this week and distributed to two houses, who hold now at $3.25."

Large quantities of tomatoes are being shipped to the English market by the Fruit Export Company of Montreal, and owing to the perfect condition in which they arrive on the other side, good prices are being realized, and the demand is increasing. A few days ago, the sale was reported of 400 bushels in a green condition at 25c. but ripe stock sells at 35 to 50c per bushel as to quantity.
