

VARIETIES

A girl may frown and frown and be a willin' still.

A man about to build a house advertises for proposals. Why don't the girls try that plan.

The only new thing under the sun that we know of, is the blue patch on the seat of his pantaloons.

There is nothing new under the sun. Noah made the "arc-light" when he drove out the animals on Ararat.

"A Nashville youth eighteen years old captured and married a rich maiden forty-six years old." That surely can't be called a boy-cott.

Germany turns out annually five hundred and fifty doctors thoroughly educated, about one hundred of whom emigrate to foreign parts.

Bertie (on the way to station)—"Mamma, I want to sneeze." Mamma—"Bertie, we're very late now. You'll have to wait until we get on the cars."

The Irish patriots should not be discouraged. Married men have struggled for home rule for 20 centuries, and have not succeeded in getting it.—Detroit Free Press.

Dude—"Excuse me, Miss Sharp; I had quite forgotten you. I am so absent-minded, don't chide me." Miss Sharp—"Yes, I have noticed the absence of mind."

"Mrs. Langtry," says a London gossip "is coming to America to live, and, what is more, she is to marry Fredrick Gebhardt, whose love is far superior to his orthography."

"Yes," said the level-headed school-boy, "I am at the foot of my class, and calculate to stay there. Then I don't have to stand the wear and tear of anxiety for fear I'll lose my place."

An auctioneer's sale in London recently revealed that private individuals had policies in insurance companies upon the life of the Queen. One of these for $7,000 was offered for sale. It is a queer kind of speculation.

A drunken parishoner was admonished by his parson. "I can go into the village," concluded the latter, "and come home again without getting drunk." "Ah, meenister, but I'm sae popular," was the apologetic reply.

Macmahon, the defaulting Kingston Ont. lawyer, has a tender conscience. He has mailed back the key of his safe. He appears to think that with this and the key hole, his creditors will be able to pull through until the new potatoes are ripe.

Creditor (to bankrupt)—what do you expect to pay? Bankrupt—I hope to be able to pay twenty cents on the dollar. Creditor—But your raid across the way, who failed last year paid thirty cents. Bankrupt—Did he? Then I'll paythirty. I can meet him every time.

Tramp—"Will you please give me ten cents, sir? I'm on my way home to die."

Gentleman—(handing him the money)—"I don't mind giving you ten cents for so worthy a purpose as that, but your breath smells terribly of whiskey."

Tramp—"I know it does, sir. Whiskey's what's killin' me."

Ethelberta—"I want a pair of slippers for pa. Number tens, please, and—squeaky." Gonial shoemaker—"Squeaky, miss! I'm afraid I haven't any of that kind." Ethelberta—"I am so sorry. Couldn't you make a squeaky pair? There is a certain young gentleman who visits me frequently, and it would be very convenient for him to know just when pa is coming."

A correspondent of the New York Evening Post quotes a list of examples showing that "you was" has been used by writers of authority, instead of "you were," at least from the time of Queen Anne to that of Chancellor Kent; but that in the last half century it has been discussed by educated persons, who have returned to the more correct mode of speech. The instances furnished by modern novelists appear to relate invariably to the language of the illiterate or vulgar.

Where are the boasted liberties of the American? The report of proceedings in a New York court, on Friday, would indicate that the personal rights of the American citizens are exceptionally circumscribed. It appears that upon Thursday evening, about eleven o'clock, Policeman Mead saw Michael Whelan hug and kiss a girl, whom he had escorted home from somewhere, at her doorstep. Refusing to desist, he was captured by the policeman and marched off to the station. Next morning he was fined $3 by Justice Duffy, who, however, remitted the fine on the ground that the young lady had not objected to the osculatory exercises. If the liberty of the American does not allow him to bid good-night to his lady in the time-honored way, then away with American liberty and let them have the Canadian brand instead.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate. IN NIGHT SWEATS AND PROSTRATION. Dr. P. Stodhalter, St. Louis, Mo., says: "I have used it in dyspepsia, nervous prostration, and in night sweats, with very good results."
