

ime You Were Buying Bedding.

These nippy nights are forcing many housewives to the conviction that the buying of bedding should be done right now.

Bedding.

Long ago we learned that all wool blankets to be good, must be of fine, soft wool—these we will have at low prices.

Real Scotch Ayreshires' and English Whiteheads' pure soft, comfortable blankets from $4.50 to $10.00.

JAMES PATON & CO.

Women's Waists.

Shirtwaists at such prices—that is, such shirtwaists at such prices—are not only unusual but extremely rare, $1.50 and others at 75c.

JAMES PATON & CO.

A woman may have a beautiful face, a winning smile, a majestic figure and most engaging manners, and still lack the one feature necessary to make her bewitching, which is a distinctive quality of coquettishness.

JAMES PATON & CO.

The same rigid scrutiny of fabrics, the same smart tailoring for boy's clothing as for men's. Styles that have the boyish grace with the manly finish.

JAMES PATON & CO.

Never mind what the meteorologist says, it's time to buy heavier clothing for that boy. If you want him dressed in clothes that are absolutely right in style, tailored in first-class manner, and rightly priced you should see what we have to offer.

THE DAILY EXAMINER

OCTOBER 25, 1900.

COMMENDABLE!

We learn that Mr. George E. Hughes has opened—or is about opening—a subscription list towards a cash gratuity for each of the returning P. E. Island members of the South African contingent, popularly known in Charlottetown as "Our Boys."

If we remember rightly, Mr. Hughes spoke, at the last meeting held in the City Court Room, of the advisability and desirability of supplying the soldiers with some funds upon their arrival here; and the letter from one of the boys, quoted in THE EXAMINER of last evening has, we presume, prompted him to take instant action to this end.

Lists will be opened and subscriptions received at The Patriot, The Guardian and THE EXAMINER offices, the Revere Hotel, the Hotel Davies, and at the Apothecaries Hall; and the receipt of all amounts will be acknowledged in the papers. We hope to see prompt, generous action on the part of all subscribers. He gives doubly who gives quickly. We all know that our boys have suffered much. Let it be seen how much we appreciate what they have done.

THE YOUNG MEN.

THE EXAMINER'S telegraphic advices state that about six hundred of the young men of St. John have unanimously decided to vote for the Opposition candidates. Here is an example for the young men of the colony at large: No doubt the young men of St. John have a special and particular reason for turning their backs upon Mr. Blair and his colleague, inasmuch as the immediate future of the port of St. John hangs in the balance. But young men everywhere are interested in the defeat of the Government and the return of the Opposition; for the future is theirs, and the future of the country is in danger while such men as Mr. Tarte hold sway in the Government.

A SEAT LOST TO THE GOVERNMENT.

M. Charlton has said: "The record of the government falls short of the expectations of those who endorsed the Liberal platform. The time has come to redeem the pledges. It would have been better if some seat had been made to obtain trade connections from England. It is reasonable to suppose the same advantage could have been obtained. The prosperity attained in Canada has been due to causes beyond the control of the government. The scale of expenditures has been set too high. It will be necessary to retrench. No legislation has been passed in fulfillment of the pledge that the land would be kept for the settler. Subsidies to railways have been carried beyond prudent limits. I cannot undertake to defend the short comings of the government. These and other things Mr. John Charlton said. And upon the faith of these statements Mr. Charlton has been given the representation of the riding of North Norfolk.

North Norfolk is lost to the Government if Mr. Charlton is not a political trickster of the lowest and most unscrupulous class. LOVE MAKES the world go round, but a bad cough or cold knocks all the sentiment out of a person. Adamson's Botanic Cough Balm will cure the cold, stop the cough, and restore the sentiment to all Druggists.

THE GOVERNMENT AND NATIONAL PROHIBITION.

It has been contended that Sir Wilfrid and his associates did not deceive the temperance men of Canada, and that the temperance men of Canada have no right to expect a prohibitory law in view of the result of the plebiscite.

This contention may prevail in the minds of those Liberals whose temperance principles are dominated by party feelings. But it can have no effect upon unprejudiced and intelligent men. So we need not refute it.

But there are some interesting points in connection with the government's more recent action in respect to prohibition. Early in the last session, Mr. Flint, of Yarmouth, submitted a resolution in which the government was asked "to enact, without delay, such measures as will secure the prohibition of the liquor traffic, for beverage purposes, in at least those provinces and territories which have voted in favor of such prohibition." To this resolution Mr. McClure, of Colchester, submitted an amendment setting forth—

"That the object of good government is to promote the general welfare of the people by a careful encouragement and protection of whatever makes for the public good, and by an equally careful discouragement and suppression of whatever tends to the public disadvantage; That the traffic in alcoholic liquors, as beverages, is productive of serious injury to the moral, social and industrial welfare of the people of Canada; That despite all present legislation the evils of intemperance remain so vast in magnitude, so wide in extent and so destructive in effect as to constitute a social peril and a material menace.

"That this House is of opinion, for the reasons heretofore set forth, that the right and most effective legislative remedy for those evils is to be found in the enactment and enforcement of a law prohibiting the importation, manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes; That this House is prepared to promote such legislation, so far as the same is within the competency of the Parliament of Canada."

The questions of Provincial Prohibition and National Prohibition were thus brought squarely before the House of Commons. But the Government deliberately burked the latter. Though the resolutions were submitted early in the session, they were not brought to vote until the 3rd of July—a few days from the end. The time for discussion was much too short in view of the great importance of these questions, months had been previously frittered away talking much and doing nothing. When at last the question came to an issue, a Mr. Parmelee was put up to move that as only 23 per cent of the registered electors of the Dominion had actually voted for prohibition there was not an active prohibition sentiment sufficiently pronounced to justify the expectation that a prohibitory law could be successfully enforced. The House of Commons divided, and the motion passed. Mr. Douglas was then put up to move a second amendment to the effect that it is desirable that the Canada Temperance Act be enlarged in its scope. There was also a division upon this motion. And then the hour being late, the main motion, as amended, was declared agreed to, and a vote on Mr. McClure's amendment respecting National Prohibition—the Prohibition of the Plebiscite, the prohibition for which the great mass of the people of this Province voted in the Plebiscite, was afforded.

Who have the electors of this Province, who believe that the time is ripe for prohibition, and who voted to that effect, to say to this action of the Government of which Sir Louis Davies is such a distinguished member? LOVE MAKES the world go round, but a bad cough or cold knocks all the sentiment out of a person. Adamson's Botanic Cough Balm will cure the cold, stop the cough, and restore the sentiment to all Druggists.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

—If Laurier cannot put Tarte out the people can.

—When Sir Louis Davies declares that his party has kept its pledges, we refer him to the statement of a much abler and more eminent Liberal, Mr. John Charlton, who says that the pledges have not been fulfilled.

—Mr. Charlton is catching it already. Government papers on the mainland do not, like the Patriot, imagine that he is playing a trick on the Conservatives; and they are after him—some of them with double-headed editorial!

—Another New Liberal ex-M. P. has been turned down by a convention of the Government party, viz., Mr. Leonard Burnett, of South Ontario. A man by the name of Ross will run in his place.

—The joint political meeting at Milton last night—the first of the campaign—demonstrated clearly that Milton is, as Charlottetown, decidedly in favor of Stewart, the people's candidate. Milton at the last election gave Davies a majority. This time he will be in a minority.

—A correspondent asks the Montreal Witness why he should have to pay 30c. a gallon for coal oil of the same quality as is being sold in England at 16c. The Witness might explain that there is no "deal" between the American Oil Trust and the British Parliament.

—It is very significant that the New Liberals supporting Sir Louis and his candidates are loud in their complaints that "the Tories are flooding the country with literature." Of course, they are. It's for the New Liberals to show, if they can, that the Liberal-Conservative literature is not true. But they can't, and that's the reason why intelligent and patriotic old Liberals are going to vote the rascals out.
