THE DAILY EXAMINER.

OCTOBER 7, 1891.

Queen Square Gardens.

A CRISIS seems to be reached in the history of these beautiful Gardens. As our readers are already aware, their existence and continuance have been due to the taste, labor and perseverance of Mr. Arthur Newbery. The cost of their maintenance has, until this year, been defrayed by contributions of certain citizens—the amounts being collected by ladies appointed at a meeting of citizens held every spring. This system was objectionable for two reasons—the first because the task was distasteful to the kind ladies; and secondly, because it was felt that as the Gardens were for the adornment of the city, for the pleasure of all citizens alike, it was but right that the burden should fall equally upon all who enjoyed their beauties. On June 4th of this year a meeting of citizens was held in the Board of Trade Room, when Hon. T. H. Haviland, the Mayor, acted as chairman. The opinion of this meeting—a large and representative one—was what we have just expressed, and that the Provincial Government might with propriety be asked to give a grant for the Gardens, while at the same time the City Council should have a similar request made of them. The question then arose whether or not the Council would be justified in making the grant before there were evidence that the citizens really desired the Gardens perpetuated; and as a safeguard, a large committee was appointed, whose members obtained the signatures of a large number of citizen taxpayers to a memorial to the Council, asking that a grant be made annually for the Gardens and the amount added to the estimates of annual city expenditure. The Provincial Government and the City Council each promised a grant and the work went ahead under Mr. Smallwood's capable hand, Mr. Newbery continuing to manage the finances. Now, however, a hitch appears. Mr. Newbery assured the meeting held in June that there were no arrears to be considered, and the grants were made for this year's expenditure only; but Mr. Newbery now presents a statement of account showing a considerable deficit, including a balance brought over from last year of $147, with no evident means for discharging the indebtedness. The feeling of the meeting held yesterday was undoubtedly that the grants should be devoted to this year's expenditure only (for which purpose they would be sufficient), and that while Mr. Newbery should have stated to the June meeting the existence of a deficit, he should not suffer the loss of the amount,—which, however, must be realized in some special way. A committee was appointed to obtain a statement in detail of all disbursements, indebtednesses, liabilities, and moneys received, and the committee will report to a meeting to be held in the Board of Trade rooms at 11 o'clock next Monday, when there should be a large gathering to devise means whereby all just indebtedness may be removed, and a clear start made for next year's gardens. It was the opinion of the meeting yesterday that a committee of management should be appointed—one member by the Provincial Government, one by the City Council, and the third by the citizens at an annual meeting. One person of the committee should be treasurer to receive all grants and make all disbursements, and his accounts should be duly audited by persons appointed for the purpose at the annual meeting of citizens. This is a business like and sensible plan. Its adoption is almost a certainty. By these means the annual outlay may be made not to exceed the guaranteed income. There will be no more collections, deficits, uncertainties. We commend the gardens to our readers kindly consideration and trust that the meeting to be held next Monday will result in the adoption of the suggested scheme, the settling of all unpaid accounts, the preservation for next year of all the the plants now in the gardens, the continuance and even improvement of the beautiful spot which adorns the centre of our city and surrounds the principal of our public buildings.

FOR OVER FIFTY YEARS MRS. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children while cutting teeth. It relieves the little sufferer at once; it produces natural, quiet sleep by relieving the child from pain, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." It is very pleasant to taste. It soothes the child, softens the gums, allays all pain, relieves wind, regulates the bowels, and is the best-known remedy for diarrhœa, whether arising from teething or other causes. Twenty-five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup," and take no other kind. 1yr

Address and Presentation.

The following address with a purse was presented to the Rev. A. J. McIntyre, by Dr. Daniel E Morris and Thomas A. Dougan, on his departure for his new field of labor, St. Columbia Parish, East Point:—

REV. AND DEAR FATHER,—Before allowing you to depart from our midst we cannot permit this opportunity to pass without expressing to you our heartfelt gratitude for your constant labors in our behalf, whilst you had charge of this parish, and our deep regret that the friendly relations existing between us for the last four years are about to be severed. During your sojourn among us we have not failed to notice and fully appreciate the many improvements which you have accomplished, and also your marked and ever ready zeal in attending to the spiritual welfare and advancement of those committed to your guidance. And it is ours to hope that the good instructions received at your hands may sink deep into our hearts, and produce fruit conducive to our final salvation. Bowing, therefore, with submission to the will of God and our holy Bishop, we beg of you to accept the accompanying purse as a small token of the esteem and regard in which you have been held by us, with the assurance that our prayers will be offered up that you may long be spared to exercise the holy office to which you have been consecrated; and now, dear Father, in return we ask of you to remember us in the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass, and although apart we trust that the silken bonds of friendship which bound us in the past may still remain unshaken in the future.

We remain, on behalf of the congregation of St. Bonaventure, your devoted parishioners: Daniel E Morris, M D, Thomas A Dougan, J P, Angus C McAulay, J P, Augustine D McDonald, John Byrne, Angus McDonald, John R Fitepatrick, Jos A McDonald, Bernard McCabe, A J McDonald, Francis Hughes, J D McDonald, James C Dougan, James Byrne, Allan McDonald, Patrick C Kelly, Roderick McDonald, James Fitzpatrick, Thos Hughes, Augustine A McDonald, Thomas Smith.

The Rev. Father made a brief but suitable reply, in which he thanked the parishioners of St. Bonaventure for the kind feelings which existed between them for the last four years.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Mr. Henry's Case.

SIR,—The Hon. James R. McLean has not thought fit to come forward and explain to the public his reasons for dealing so harshly with Mr. Henry, the contractor of Granville bridge.

Neither has the Patriot said anything in justification or defence of Mr. McLean. The reason for this silence is obvious: their conduct is not defencible.

What does it matter to the Hon. James R., although Mr. Henry has workmen to pay, and material also to be paid for, so long as he is in receipt of his salary and the spoils of the Public Works Department at his hands? What cares the noble Prince of the East who suffers, so long as he is autocrat?

Mr. Henry is harshly dealt with and the non-committal Peter might at least see that justice was done to one of his constituents. It is to be regretted that the people of this Province are so apathetic as to allow themselves to be without a law upon the statutes of the Province giving any of Her Majesty's subjects the right to sue the Crown in matters of contracts or otherwise.

With such a law upon our statute books, defining the course to be pursued by any persons aggrieved with their dealings with the Crown, such snobbery and snobbishness as practised by Mr. McLean would soon be settled at the bar of the Court of Chancery.

We have lawyers in abundance and they have been tinkering at the business now for many years, and to their disgrace be it said this Province is without a law giving the subject this right.

You have to go with your hat in your hand and bow to Mr. Fred. Peters, and if it meets his wishes, he may advise the Governor to sign a fiat but not otherwise. This should not be so.

The bridge in dispute has been taken off Mr. Henry's hands, and now for nearly six months the public has had the use of the bridge and Mr. Henry, the contractor, and his men are unpaid.

Will the Liberal James R. come forward now and respond to the second call showing his reason for dealing so harshly with Mr. Henry.

FAIR PLAY.
