The blacklegs who have been tempted to Montreal by the horse racing upon the programme are to be kept in heart with abundantly of strong drink. We doubt if Vanity Fair were better supplied with the means of demoralization than are our Montreal exhibition grounds.—Witness.

TWO ORPHANS.—This play, which has had the greatest run of any modern piece on record, will be produced at the Academy of Music on Tuesday evening next. It will be produced with scenic accessories, augmented casts, and new costumes. Miss Kate Claxton has made this play world famous, and we feel certain our citizens will patronize a drama which has the endorsement of the United States and British press.

ON Thursday night last, Samuel C. Out-ton, for some years past proprietor of the Baie Verte Hotel, committed suicide by drowning. Deceased was 72 years of age and was at one time a very prosperous man. A few months ago, being forced to leave the hotel from financial difficulties, he was for some time in very poor circumstances and this, no doubt, led him to the fatal act.

TO PREVENT OR TO CURE BED SORES.—A CERTAIN REMEDY.—Take fresh, clean hemlock bark and make a very strong tea of it by boiling it in water. The bark must not be ground. Strain the tea, and put to a pint of it a piece of pure alum the size of a nutmeg.
Use this a little warm to prevent a chill.
Bathe the part three times a day with a very soft rag. This hardens the skin as well as heals. It is best to use it as soon as a patient is confined to bed.

NORTHUMBERLAND CIRCUIT COURT.—The case of R. R. Call, Wm. Muirhead and John Sadler vs. Mutual Union Insurance Company, which was commenced on Tuesday afternoon, was finished on Wednesday.
His Honor granted a non-suit on application of Mr. Weldon, Q. C., but the plaintiffs, through Mr. Thomson, Q. C., would not accept it, and went to the jury for a verdict, which was given in their favor.
The point claimed by the defence was a deviation by the tug, which invalidated the policy. The obtaining of the verdict will have the effect of compelling the defendants to move to have it set aside. Another case by the same parties against the Western Insurance Company of Providence, was withdrawn. Both these suits were brought to recover $6,000 insurance on the steamer Sultan, lost last year in Northumberland Strait, while bound from P. E. Island to Pictou.—St. John Telegraph.

THE MENDELSSOHN CLUB CONCERT.—The small audience which assembled on Friday evening to listen to the performance of this Club, was certainly not in keeping with the excellence of the programme, nor was it creditable to the musical culture of the our people. We fear that more money will have to be irredeemably lost, in importing first class performers, before that standard of excellence in "the musical cultivation of the masses" is reached, which a philanthropic enthusiast from a neighboring province once declared to be advisable.
Such, however, as attended were amply repaid for their outlay, the performance, if anything being in advance of that of the previous night. Miss Lewis again won loud plaudits by her sweet and finished rendition of "The Sands of Dee"—by Sullivan, and "Twickenham Ferry," for each of which she received an encore, and by which she has made herself such a favorite with her Charlottetown audience, that should she ever renew her acquaintance she may rest assured of a warm reception. We regret that owing to an oversight, printed programmes were not provided, and that thus we are prevented from entering into the merits of each piece presented, and can only say that the high opinion of the Club formed on the first appearance was fully warranted and sustained, each performer—Mr. Ryan, on the clarinet; Mr. Giese, on the violin; Mr. Schade on the flute, and the Club in concerted pieces, adding fresh laurels to their already brilliant reputations. We must not fail also to congratulate the audiences of both evenings upon the remarkably good order which was observed. Too frequently the comfort of those who really tend to listen, is disturbed by the thoughtless conduct of a few, who, having no soul for music themselves and regardless of the wishes of others, keep up an uninterrupted stream of conversation to the detriment of their neighbors, and we are happy to bear testimony to the fact that on these occasions nothing of the kind occurred.

Correspondence.

We do not hold ourselves responsible for the statements or opinions of our correspondents

To the Editor of the Examiner.

MY DEAR SIR—I note in yesterday's issue of THE EXAMINER a letter signed "Dramatic." I do not wish to impugn the veracity of your correspondent; but his statement that we played to a fair house, is simply ridiculous, as the receipts were worst of the season, and not sufficient to cover gas and music. Now, we never change the bill unless through sickness or unavoidable causes, and then we invariably place a programme in the hands of the purchaser before he buys a ticket. Even if this were not the case, the writer of the letter is evidently acting with malice prepense, inasmuch as it would have been an easy matter to return to the box office and have his money refunded; or if suffering from any grievance, he could as easily have written to me personally and I would readily have made the amende honorable and returned the 25 cents, instead of intruding his woes upon the public. This is generally done by any dissatisfied person.
So I presume the writer is what we technically term a dead head! De mortuis nil nisi bonum.

However, if the party will call on me personally I will give him the amount paid for entrance fee, if he has paid any, and also give him a free admission to the Two Orphans, on Tuesday, together with my frank apology, which is best I can do as I am endeavouring to earn an honest livelihood and trying to pay my way in the face of many obstacles, which should induce your correspondent to be lenient, and not to try to injure me in the public press.

Yours truly,
HARRY LINDLEY.

Souris, Sept. 17, 1880.

Building Improvements?

To the Editor of the Examiner.

SIR,—I wish to ask our City fathers (who are supposed to have jurisdiction over such matters) if they intend allowing the Building which is about to be erected at the corner of Great George and Euston streets, to project some six or eight feet on the principal thoroughfare. The foundation is already prepared and the intention of the builder is to abstract a considerable portion of Great George Streets.

Can a private individual thus encroach upon city property? If the present attempt is not at once checked, a precedent will be established which will permit any person to use portions of our streets for building purposes.

It appears to me a most unprecedented proceeding and calls for immediate action from those in authority. I am &c., IMPROVEMENT.

Ch'town, Sept. 18, 1880.

MARKETS.

QUEBEC, Sept. 14. Since our last report we had several arrivals of fish and oil, which has all been promptly taken up.

Seal oil has been sold at 37½c per wine gallon. Cod oil in good demand at 48½c do Labrador are now arriving freely, and have been bought up at $5 per bbl for No. 1, and $4 per bbl for No. 2. Three lots of salt salmon have changed hands at $17.50 for No. 1.

Green codfish is in demand, and whatever lots arrive, are immediately picked up at $3.50 to 3.75 for No. 1, according to quality.

Prices will rise high until orders now on hand are filled, and we fully expect to see fish cheap this fall. The catch below is large and the present high prices will attract many seekers to our market.—Henri C.
Bosse & Co's Circular.

TORONTO, Sept. 14.—Market inactive but steady. Flour quiet; Oatmeal remains weak; Common goes as low as $4.00, but good to choice is worth $4.10 to $4.20.
Wheat steady; choice No 1 Spring brought $1.10, and No. 2 Fall 98c for Middling, and Red Winter sold at 98c f. o. b. Oats unchanged at 35c. Barley quiet in car lot, but on the street 6,000 bush sold at 60c to 70c. Potatoes beginning to be wanted in cars, with 40c bid. Wool inactive with buyers and sellers apart and offerings very small; dealers usually bid only 27c for Fleece but choice might bring 28c. Eggs unchanged at 10½ to 12½c for round lots, the latter for candled.

MONTREAL, Sept. 14.—There has been a fair enquiry for horseflesh during the past week both here and in the country, but trade is restricted by the high prices asked for good animals. The exports from this city for week ending Saturday, September 11th, were 111 horses, costing $11,294.50, averaging $191.75 a head; against 109 horses costing $9,227 for the week previous, averaging $84.65 each. A brown working horse brought into the city from Lancaster, yesterday, was sold for $110. For a private family, a bay mare, 6 years old, weighing 1,250 lbs., was purchased to day for $140. A lot of 20 horses were shipped from this last week, costing $108 each, and were considered a very fine lot of animals.
Buyers have been operating in the eastern townships, around the Lachute district and further up the Ottawa. There is still a good demand for the United States, but American buyers state that the high prices asked for horses here leave scarcely any margin to ship them on. A good market is reported in Albany, New York and Bos-
