HOPE PAVING PROJECT RESUMES—The ending of the railway strike gives hope that Summerside's street paving program may soon be resumed. The job, which is being done by Morrison and Macrae Ltd., has been held up since shortly after the strike commenced due to a shortage of cement. It is understood that a supply had reached as far as Tormentine when the trains stopped running. If this is so the work may be started again by the first of next week.—S.

Usefulness at End
" say emphatically that no matter how much we thought Mr. Gordon might contribute to the welfare of the C.N.R. and the Canadian people, by his earlier statement of a final offer and by his action last Saturday evening he lost the confidence of the men and I believe he will never regain it. I regret to say that I believe his period of usefulness as president of the C.N.R. has come to an end."

Mr. Croll said mistakes have been made in negotiations "and the graver mistakes were Mr. Gordon's rather than the unions'." ... he handled the negotiations with something less than skill and dexterity. He demonstrated repeatedly that he was accustomed to dealing with a type of individual a little more docile than the trade union members."

Mr. MacInnis said Mr. Gordon's action "amounts to double-crossing not only the workers but also the Government of Canada." ... it seems clear that Mr. Gordon intended to place this matter in the lap of the Government so that an arbitrator would be appointed." He had never known workers to quest is being held.

Dr. Dewar called the Western Hospital, Alberton, for plasma but none was available there. He called the Prince County Hospital and was assured of immediate delivery, but soon afterwards was notified that there was none in Summerside. It was previously stated that hospital authorities in Charlottetown were contacted but officials in charge of the Red Cross Transfusion Depot in Charlottetown state that they received no emergency call. Upon hearing of the need on Monday they immediately sent two bottles to Summerside.

It is understood that there was no insurance on the building and contents were a complete loss. During the blaze the roof of a nearby barn caught fire but was saved by prompt action on the part of neighbors.

He then sought to get himself and the children out by the bedroom window and with the assistance of Mr. David Boyles from outside was successful. It is said that he received a portion of his burns when trying to save a little pet dog which perished in the flames.

The two children and the boy were almost immediately rushed to the Turner Nursing Home, which is operated by Mrs. Alice Turner, and placed under the care of Dr. L. G. Dewar. The older child died Saturday night. No information was available at the time of this report.

At 4:30 on Saturday afternoon there seemed to be a considerable optimism at least among the union representatives. I say it was unpardonable that at 7:30 that evening when they met after having recessed to clarify their positions the president of the C.N.R. should have abruptly brought the negotiations to an end and prevented any possibility of arriving at an understanding before this house met.

Longer Hours For Station Personnel

Some people may be getting shorter hours of work but the personnel of the R. C. A. F. Station, Summerside, are looking forward to just the opposite. At present the station operates on a 40 hour week with all except the necessary maintenance staffs having Saturdays and Sundays off.

Commencing on September 5th this schedule will be abolished and instead personnel will have two days off every two weeks. This is comparable to a 46 hour week but the way it works out everybody will work alternate weeks of 56 hours and 40 hours.

One result of this stepped up work week is that the training of navigators which now takes 39 weeks will be completed in 30 weeks.—S

Chevrier Replies To Trade Board Re Ferry Service

The Summerside Board of Trade received a reply yesterday from the Hon. Lionel Chevrier, Federal Minister of Transport, to a brief submitted by the Board requesting that the operation of the car ferries be withdrawn from the Canadian National Railways. Mr. Chevrier gives as his opinion that if this were done during the railway strike it could be considered "a breach of the right to strike" and he makes no comment at all on the suggestion implied in the brief that the Department of Transport should take over the boats for permanent operation.

Following is the text of the letter to Mr. H. L. Rodd, secretary of the Board:

"I have your letter of the 22nd instant, the contents of which I have noted.

"I realize the serious plight in which the residents of Prince Edward Island find themselves. Recently, I have been discussing with the Attorney General of your Province, the Honourable Mr. Darby, who is here attending the Dominion Provincial conference, the remedies, if any, which can be found to the situation.

"You state that the ships owned by the Department of Transport and entrusted to the Canadian National Railways for operation. To withdraw the ships from the entrustment order and place them under this department or a commission for operation would, to my mind, be regarded as a breach of the right to strike. I can assure you that I have discussed every angle of this situation with your Attorney General.

"I have suggested to him that the Department of Labor approach the union leadership to ascertain if they will not consent to the operation of the ferry, this has been done and at the time of writing, no decision has been reached.

"Yours Truly Lionel Chevrier"

BE MORE INCENSED OVER EMPLOYER ATTITUDES

Mr. Hansell suggested that Mr. Gordon had been "perhaps a valuable man to his country in days gone by but it may be wisdom after the bill passes, for the railways to have someone else carry on their negotiations for them."

Mr. Johnston said he believed the Government would be wise to substitute someone for Mr. Gordon in negotiations.

Mr. Gordon was a good executive. He had served on the Prices Board during the war and had done a good job. But in that capacity he was virtually a dictator and he had learned some bad habits.

It was clear the unions did not want to negotiate with Mr. Gordon.

Prime Minister St. Laurent and several other members of his cabinet were in the Chamber at the time, but none intervened in the discussion.

"Birth Control" For Potatoes Is Mooted

LONDON, Aug. 30—(CP)—Birth control for potatoes is the latest idea of British scientists.

A new powder, IPPC or Isopropylphosphorylcarbamate, inhibits the "motherly instinct" in a potato and stops it from sprouting.

Annually, nearly 500,000 tons of potatoes start sprouting during storage and become useless for eating.

"If potatoes are sprayed with the powder dissolved in water, before storage, sprouting can be ended," manufacturers claim. Wives of the scientists volunteered to test the treated potatoes. Report: no effect on flavor.
