AN OUTBREAK AT SAMOA

English and Americans Open Fire

AND DESTROY SEVERAL NATIVE VILLAGES.

German Consul Advises Natives not to Submit

[SPECIAL TO THE EXAMINER.]

AUCKLAND, March 30.—Advice from Apia, Samoa, are to the effect that the threatened outbreak at Samoa has occurred.

Admiral Karitz of the U. S. Cruiser Philadelphia called a council of the consuls.

The German consul declining to attend, the British and American consuls decided to depose Mataafa.

The chief was notified and cautioned to submit under pain of bombardment.

The natives disregarded the mandate, and attacked the British and United States, consulates.

The cruiser Philadelphia and the British war ships Porpoise and Royalty opened fire, destroying several villages. A shell raked the German consulate, he occupants of which retired on board the German warship Falke.

Herr Rose, the German consul has issued a proclamation advising the natives not to submit. The situation is strained.

The Castilian Decision.

[SPECIAL TO THE EXAMINER.]

HALIFAX, March 30.—The decision given in the steamship Castilian case censures Captain Barrett and first officer McAfee, but does not suspend their certificates inasmuch as the disaster was also largely due to the variable currents of the Bay of Fundy.

The Philippine War.

[SPECIAL TO THE EXAMINER.]

MANILA, March 30.—Casualties to the American troops, yesterday, were about seven killed. McArthur advanced to Guiguinto, three and a half miles from Malolos.

Mohammedan Rebellion in China

LONDON, March 27.—According to a despatch from Shanghai to the Daily Mail it is stated there that a Mohammedan rebellion has broke out in the province of Kan su, the most northwestern province of China, between the province of Shen See and Se Chuen on one side and Mongolia and the desert of Gobi on the other.

SIR WILFRID'S ANNOUNCEMENT.

SIR.—The temperance people of this province as well as of the whole Dominion have good reason to feel grievously disappointed over the announcement of Sir Wilfrid Laurier that they will not give prohibition. This is his pre-election pledge to a delegation of prohibitionists who waited upon him: "He would pledge his honor that as soon as the liberals came into power at Ottawa they would take a plebiscite of the Dominion by which the people would stand and the will of the people would be carried out, even were it to cost power forever to the liberal party." On September 29th, last, the plebiscite was put to a test. With this formal pledge the people, believing him to be honorable enough to fulfill his pledge, went and polled their votes, the result being a large majority in favor of prohibition. Now he attempts to evade his pledge by stating that the majority is too small to justify the passing of the act. The idea of a man such as Sir Wilfrid Laurier—Prime Minister of Canada—making such a formal pledge to the people of Canada, then attempting to evade his "word of honor" by making the flimsy statement that the vote is too small to justify it, is simply ridiculous! A majority is a majority, on matter too small, and the majority rules. Why not in this case?

Let us suppose that two members, say Smith and Jones, runs an election in this constituency in which, we will say, there are 700 voters. The election is run and 550 votes polled, 300 for Smith and 250 for Jones, thus making a majority of 50 votes for Smith. As there were 150 who did not vote at all would it be fair to say that these 150 votes were against Smith? To my mind this is identically the principle on which the plebiscite election was run between the prohibitionists and the liquor men. And because a great many did not vote at all Sir Wilfrid unreasonably and unjustly counts these in favor of the liquor men. Is this just or constitutional? How was Sir Wilfrid elected? Was it not by a majority of the votes polled? They didn't count those who didn't vote at all against him. Then, why do they adopt this unreasonable method respecting the plebiscite? It is pleasing to say that this is the banner province, having given, in proportion to its size, the largest majority for prohibition. In this place—Merry Harbor South—the vote was 174 against 1. Notwithstanding the adverse circumstances—particularly in some provinces—the majority in favor of prohibition was large, and we call to mind the fact that several of the leading Liberal members—Prime Minister, at least, cabinet ministers—were holding meetings throughout the upper provinces championing the cause of the liquor men and declaring themselves hostile to prohibition. Imagine Sir Wilfrid Laurier promising prohibition while some of his cabinet ministers were railing against it! After all it now seems that we have been fooled and humbugged by our Liberal Government, and a vast amount of our money has been uselessly frittered away on this prohibition farce. How can the pledges of Sir Wilfrid Laurier be any longer relied upon, when he has broken, among others, this noted pledge? We should no longer tolerate this incompetent and extravagant government,—but put in power a party, who will have more regard for a proper expenditure of the people's money, and who will faithfully carry out their pledges. How long, oh people, are you—your actions to be tolerated.

IN THE HOUSE OF COMMONS.

A Liberal Comes Out For Protection.

THE SCHOOL QUESTION IS NOT YET FORGOTTEN.

And Comes up For Discussion in the House.

[SPECIAL TO THE EXAMINER]

OTTAWA, March 30.—Sir Charles Tupper gave formal notice to the Speaker of the vacancy in the representation of Winnipeg.

The Speaker said he would at once issue his warrant for the vacancies in Winnipeg and Brockville.

The debate on the address was resumed by Bourassa, Liberal.

He evoked Conservative cheers by averring that the proper policy for this country was a system of moderate protection.

Colonel Hughes delivered an able speech in the course of which he said the school question was not settled. Solicitor General Fitzpatrick would either have to leave the Government or make his peace with the Bishops.

This was in reference to Fitzpatrick's pledge to the bishops of his office that he would resign unless the school question was satisfactorily settled.

McInerney made a strong speech in the condemnation of the Government.

Gold in the Klondike.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 27.—H Miller and Thomas Scott, who arrived today from Dawson City, claim to have made the trip from Skagway in ten days, which breaks the record by 48 hours. They report a great deal of gold coming into Dawson from the various creeks, indicating that this will be the greatest gold year the Klondike has ever seen. They estimate the yield at $15,000,000.

An Indian Burying Ground.

KINGSTON, March 29.—Farmers digging sand on the farm of Mr. Daniel Maclean have evidently struck an Indian burying ground. Nine skeletons have been unearthed, but the bones dissolved into dust when touched. Interesting relics have been secured, including several fine lumps of silver ore, evidently placed with the bodies as a mark of respect. The Kingston Historical Society will investigate.

Beer in Tablets.

LONDON, March 29.—The latest German scientific invention reported here is a "beer tablet." The beverage is reduced to a powder, the addition of the water to which, by the generation of carbonic acid gas, makes a foaming tankard, as good as if freshly drawn from the barrel. Many pilots can thus be carried in the waistcoat pocket.

The Editor Who Died Wealthy.

CHICAGO, March 29.—The will of Joseph Medill, disposed of $2,000,000 in bonds, and realty besides the editor's stock in the Tribune Publishing Company, valued at $2,500,000. This stock, 107 shares, will be kept intact, and eventually fall to the possession of his grand children. Many institutions in which Mr Medill was interested have been favored in the will.

They're After Eddy's Mills.

OTTAWA, March 27.—A number of American capitalists have a scheme on to purchase the Eddy paper mills at Hull and sell the output of paper to American publishers in competition with the American paper trust.

The Partition of Samoa.

BERLIN, March 27.—The National Zeitung to-day says, the German proposal for the partition of the Samoan Islands may be regarded as abandoned, owing to the little response, particularly from Great Britain, received on the subject.

Mr. Harty Going to Europe.

KINGSTON, Ont., March 29.—The Hon. William Harty, Commissioner of Public Works for Ontario, and his son, Dr. Jock Harty, are arranging to spend some time in Europe next year, including an extended visit to the Paris Exposition.

The Antarctic Expedition.

LONDON, March 27.—Lewellyn W. Longstaff, a member of the Royal Geographical Society, has contributed £25,000 toward the fund being raised by the British Association and the Royal Society for the British antarctic expedition, which will co-operate with the German antarctic expedition in exploration next year, though each will take a different route.

A Little War in Bolivia.

LIMA, Peru, March 27.—Advice from Bolivia say that an encounter is imminent between the government troops under President Alonzo and the federalists, or insurgents. The fighting will probably take place between Oruro, where the government reserves are stationed and Coracollo, about 60 miles northwest of Oruro.

Danish Cruiser For China.

LONDON, March 29.—A despatch to the Daily Mail from Copenhagen says that the Government will ask the Rigsdag for an appropriation to send the Danish cruiser Eyen to China. Prince Waldemar, the youngest son of King Christian, will be appointed to the command of the cruiser.
