Mr. Irvine accepts the National Policy, it seems, bowing to the decision of the people. That is a good example.—St. John News.

It is calculated that the absence of Mr. Anglin from the new Parliament will shorten the length of the session about a fortnight.—Montreal Gazette.

Hon. Mr. CARON made a clean sweep of Quebec County, obtaining a majority of 572 over his opponent, Mr. Bedard. In only one parish, Beauport, did Mr. Caron fail to take a majority.

Sussex had great rejoicing over the news of the decision on the Scott Act. The liquor stores were closed at noon. In the evening there were bonfires, speeches, and music by the band.—Moncton Times.

THE NEW BRAZILIAN LINE.—The steamship Desirade, the first outward steamship of the new Brazilian line, which left Montreal, took a large quantity of spruce and pine deals. Merchantable wood is in great demand in the Southern climes.

THERE are still a few cases of smallpox in Panama, but the disease seems to be fast dying out. At Aspinwall there are a few cases of yellow fever among the canal employees. One case of smallpox occurred on board the Colon on her last trip to Aspinwall among the crew.

The latest suggestion of bribery by the Government is that it removed the postage on newspapers for corrupt purposes of its own. The assertion is made by a St. Louis paper, but it is not a whit more ridiculous than some of the bribery cries of the Grit press of Canada.—Moncton Times.

THE Presbytery of P. E. Island will meet for Presbyterial visitation and other business, on Tuesday, July 4th, at East St. Peter's, at eleven o'clock, a. m. Rev. K. McLennan to preach, and in Western St. Peter's at four o'clock. At this meeting Mr. A. B. McLeod will undergo his trials for license.—JOHN M. MACLEOD, Presbytery Clerk.

UNFORTUNATE PASSENGERS.—Among Friday's passengers to Point DuChene were two men, one returning from St. John to Prince Edward Island, the other an Ontario man. The Islander lost his purse containing tickets and all his money, between Moncton and Paines; the Ontario man a valise containing $50.—Moncton Times.

It is curious now to read in the Irish records of March, 1783: "Two hundred families from the County Meath, weary of dragging out an existence in cold, hunger, and wretchedness, are determined to emigrate, fully convinced that if they do not better themselves, they cannot be worse. The Lord Lieutenant, justly sensible of this alarming event, has, we hear, represented this matter to his Majesty's Minister, and recommended an immediate session of the Irish Parliament, that something may be devised to check, in its infancy, this impending calamity."

The Toronto Globe says: "The weather in the Prairie Province is favorable for the crops and the outlook is promising. There is much activity in building operations, but not nearly enough of lumber to supply the demand. The cost of living has continued to increase, and the prices paid for articles of food, for rent of rooms or houses, etc., are almost fabulous. The chief feature of the season is the steady immigration flow, and in connection with it the temporary suburbs which have grown up of canvas tents, in which over three thousand persons are living. Activity in real estate has commenced, and several lots on which to erect business establishments have been purchased this spring, mainly by immigrants of means."

A WOMAN BURNED.—A report has been received at Quebec of a horrible case of fatal burning at Levis. The victim is a Mrs. Widow Fortin, a sick nurse lately in the employ of Mrs. Powell, of that place. The unfortunate woman was heating some milk with a spirit lamp, when imprudently placing the alcohol too near the lamp it took fire in the bottle, which exploded, sending the burning liquid all over her clothing. Before the flames could be extinguished the poor woman was burned almost to a crisp. Her skin and hair fell off, and her body is reported to have been a terrible sight. She was conveyed to her home. Medical attendance was immediately summoned, but the doctors deny the possibility of the poor creature's recovery. Her death will leave orphans two children, one seven and the other ten years of age.

A MYSTERY OF THE SEA.—A Grand Manan correspondent of the St. John News gives the following account of a mysterious wreck on the Old Proprietor Ledge, and says:—While fishing near the Old Proprietor Ledge last Wednesday, the men saw near the rock what looked like three poles with their tops a short distance above the surface of the water. On rowing up they found the three poles to be the topmasts of a large square-rigged vessel, but whether a ship or a barque they were not able to tell. They brought away with them a piece of wire rigging sixty feet long, evidently a jib stay. The vessel has evidently lain there some weeks, as sea weed has begun to form on the masts. A number of boats have since been to the spot, but nothing has been found to show how or when she came there. By her position it is thought she was inward bound. The Old Proprietor is a dangerous rock some six or seven miles to the southeast of Grand Manan, and about the same distance to the east of Gannet Rock. In 1876 the Dominion Government placed a spindle and a ball upon the rock. This is of some service in clear weather but of no use in the fog. In the spring of 1877 the spindle was found to be bent, probably by some out ward bound vessel. The same spring part of a fishing vessel came ashore at the Southwest Head. A Gloucester vessel, which sailed from North Head that winter was never heard from, and it is thought by many that she struck upon this rock. The top of the rock is bare for about two hours each tide.

The degree of popularity enjoyed by the Government of Mr. Mackenzie is evidenced by the fact that no less than seven members of his Cabinet were defeated at the recent election, viz., Sir Richard Cartwright, Sir Albert Smith, Messrs. D. A. Macdonald, L. S. Huntington, R. Lallamie, A. G. Jones, and David Laird. Hon. Mr. Anglin, Speaker of the House of Commons under the Mackenzie regime, shares the martyrdom of the seven maladministrators.—Toronto Mail.

THE New York Herald's London special says the Government and English press are evidently on the eve of one of their chronic panics about Fenianism. False alarms are the order of the day, and extraordinary precautions have been adopted at arsenals and forts against imaginary attacks. Whether this is due to a real conviction of danger, or merely a political dodge, it is impossible to say. Among the Irish members the rumors of an intended rising in Ireland are regarded as utterly unfounded.

MANITOBA AND THE NORTH-WEST.—The Rev. James Robertson, of Winnipeg, Superintendent of Presbyterian Missions in the North West, under the General Assembly, will hold a public meeting in St. James' Church, on Wednesday evening, at 7.30 o'clock. Mr. Robertson will speak of life in the North-West, the work and wants of the Church. The present is an opportunity such as rarely occurs for obtaining reliable information, from a well-informed person, occupying a prominent official position. The public at large are cordially invited to attend.

WE are sure the public will share the disgust and indignation we feel upon learning that some unprincipled persons are again robbing the resting places of the dead. We have before been compelled to call attention to the dastardly action; but the disregard shown for the indignation of the community only proves the utter want of principle of the offenders. Quite apart from the pain it must give relatives of the departed, who bestow loving care upon the graves of their dead, the contemptible crime cannot but provoke universal sympathy for the relatives, and condemnation for the offenders. This wanton depredation was committed at Mount Sherwood Cemetery; and we would call the attention of visitors there to the existence of such shameful sacrilege, and warn those guilty of it of the severe retribution their cowardly and cruel conduct must inevitably bring down upon themselves, even should they escape the hands of justice. The knowledge of the existing state of affairs must elicit from all the indignant regret we feel at making it known. It is a disgrace to a civilized, much more to a Christian, community.

AN interesting case connected with the law of married women's property, was decided a few days ago in the English Court of Appeal. A Miss Farquharson, on the eve of her marriage to Mr. H. W. Williams, ordered a trousseau costing several thousand dollars of a London milliner named Mercer. The milliner, being tired of dunning, at last sued the bride in her own name, apart from her husband, and seized her jewellery. Mrs. Williams contended that the jewellery, which had been given to her by her friends and her husband, belonged in law to him, and could not, therefore, be seized to satisfy a claim against her. Lord Chief Justice Coleridge held that her contention was sound, and a Court in London was equally divided on the question whether his ruling was right. The case was taken to the Court of Appeal, and everyone had prepared for an exciting and subtle discussion, when the Master of the Rolls raised a question overlooked by eminent counsel and gifted judges in the two previous trials. "Was there any marriage settlement between Mr. and Mrs. Williams?" asked Sir George Jessel. There had been one, and it was produced, and the discovery was made that it expressly conveyed to the bride for her separate use all the jewels of which she was then possessed, or might become possessed after her marriage. Of course the milliner obtained judgment at once under the Act of 1870.
