SPORT ECHOES

BY NORMAN MACDONALD

Take a bow, town councillors of Summerside, for a fine gesture of appreciation to our Aces, last winter's Maritime hockey champs. We're sure everyone, players, officials, and supporters, had a good time. It was the crowning touch to a fine year in hockey as the town of Summerside has had in a good many years.

Two years before we had won a title, but the triumph was a bit tainted. With the help of Charlottetown talent we were able to beat one of three evenly matched Charlottetown teams, and that one not the club that played in the Maritime playdowns. For two years the powers-that-used-to-be had a severe attack of hero worship of the athletes along the Hillsboro. Even Thane Mann was in danger of losing his job. Fortunately just when it looked as if they might be considering hiring a Charlottetown water boy, and retooling the bluesies with Central City paint, the season ended.

Last winter, the Aces minus Charlottetown talent beat "the cream of the crop." Under the guidance of the old pro Clarence "Windy" Steele, it was discovered you didn't have to go east of the Prince County line to marshal a team of champions. This, of course, was known as far back as the days of Chick Gallant, Jack Schurman, and Rallo Sillihant, but apparently was forgotten over the years.

While we were attending the Ace banquet, Cape Traverse and the Summerside Legion were playing a regular league game of softball, which the Cape Traverse team won by the score of 9-5. Harold Leard pitched his team to victory over a club that were attending the banquet, had to call in reinforcements who were a little short on experience.

Saturday afternoon will bring baseball once more to Summerside. The Charlottetown Legionaires play an exhibition tilt with the Summerside Pontiacs. There was little to choose between the clubs last year when Roger MacLeod was not working on the mound for Charlottetown. MacLeod who tried out with one of the H and D clubs, had a little too much spit and polish for most of the Pontiac batters, about two-thirds of whom were playing their first junior ball. They will have more experience this year and might do a lot better, even against MacLeod.

It's just about time another meeting of the Prince County softball league was called to pick up the loose ends that are plaguing the teams, as well as to consider whether to admit the RCAF club which has signified intention to join the circuit. Personally we think this club would be a valuable addition to the league.

SOFTBALL PRACTICES

Joe Brown Is Not Ready For Old Rocking Chair Yet

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)—The old rocking chair isn't quite ready to claim Joe Brown.
At 33, when many fighters are ready to fade into the gloaming, Old Bones is rolling along with the world lightweight title in his back pocket.
Brown's slip was showing a little Wednesday night while Paoli Rossi applied steady pressure. But Joe slashed Rossi's eyes so deeply that doctors stopped the bout between the eighth and ninth round. It went into the book as a ninth-round TKO.
The woods are full of 135-pound challengers although Brown already has disposed of seven in as many defenses since he won the title in 1956. He dawdles in his lazy style until he has to put on the heat.
Then it is goodbye.

Durelle To Wear Rocky's Trunks

MONCTON (CP)—Canadian lightweight champion Yvon Durelle of Basie Ste. Anne, N.B., will be wearing the trunks of retired undefeated heavyweights Rocky Marciano during training here for his world title bout with Archie Moore.
The trunks which Marciano wore when he won the world title from Jersey Joe Walcott in 1952 were presented to Durelle Thursday by Rocky's trainer Charlie Goldman.
"I hope the trunks will give Yvon incentive. It will give him something to think of that a champion named Marciano, who came up the hard way like Durelle, is wealthy and well off today. It may make him feel that he's part of Rocky, and that won't hurt him," Goldman said.
DURELLE ENTHUSED
Durelle seemed happy about the trunks and was enthused in having Goldman supervise his training.
"I'm going to listen. I know that Goldman can teach me some important things. It's almost like starting all over again," said the 14-year ring veteran. They began a five-week training grind Thursday.
