SUBMITS FIRST BUDGET

PWC Board Of Governors Seeks New Appropriation

The first budget of Prince of Wales College submitted to the Government of P.E.I. by the college's board of governors for the year 1966-67 is amounting to $57,200.

Besides this legislative appropriation the board submitted that Prince of Wales College retain its fees and the federal grant which is over and above the provincial grant.

This budget is an increase of approximately $100,000 over the previous appropriation to the college.

This increase is largely due to the salary item which is up $98,084; from $301,116 in 1966 to $400,000 in 1967. This increase is brought about by the fact that the board estimates new staff will cost $90,000 for the year ending March 31, 1967 and that firm's salaries amounting to $9,000 must be paid. These salaries were previously on the Department of Public Works payroll.

In its brief, the board stated that by any comparison provincial government expenditure on Prince of Wales College have been unusually modest.

RISEN SHARPLY

Reasons for this are that in the past decade expenditures had risen very slowly from $230 per student in 1955-56 to $335 per student in 1963-64 and, on the basis of the estimates for 1965-66, it has dropped sharply to $215 per student because of the increase in the number of students. During this period the number of university students (3rd and 4th years) has increased five times, from 77 in 1955-56 to 408 in 1965-66. And government expenditure on education for this period has multiplied four and one half times, and the revenues of the province have also multiplied by a similar amount in even less time.

The only conclusion reached from this situation is that Prince of Wales' revenue from the provincial government has not been sufficient for its needs and has not increased in anything like the proportion obvious in other services. The results are that PWC's salaries are the lowest in Canada; they don't even compare with those of schools in this province.

PART OF REVENUE

The brief went on to state that besides the low grant there has been the practice, unique in public colleges in Canada, by which the government keeps the fees and the federal university grant. It stated that fees are a part of an institution's revenue, never the government's, and for the government to consider them as revenue is to cut down its own obligation. As to the federal grant, this is the only instance in Canada where this fund appears in the public accounts; in effect since 1961 the government of Canada has simply been subsidizing the Government of P.E.I. by this amount and Prince of Wales has received limited benefit from it. The policy of the federal government in respect to these grants was clearly stated by Prime Minister St. Laurent at the time they were instituted;— they were to be, over and above provincial grants, not substitutes for them.

APPLIES HERE

What the Bladen Report says about the nation applies to Prince of Wales Island. The province plans economic development; it must have trained people to guide it. The "brain drain" is probably more serious here than elsewhere, and, by the large, the Island does not recruit from outside as all other provinces now do. It is essential for the future of the Island that it build-up its higher education facilities as a resource necessary to the development of its other resources and to the social life of its people. One of the greatest leaks of trained manpower has been the exodus of young Islanders following sophomore year of PWC to other provinces. Ninety per cent of the college's students went to mainland colleges.

With the four-year course there will be a substantial increase in the number of able young graduates remaining on the Island and available for the teaching profession, the civil service, commerce and industry. With the increased allocations of funds which Canadian universities are receiving and which are being made to students the educational factor in national development will become more significant.

LIBRARY BOOKS

The one capital expenditure in the budget is for library books. Prince of Wales College has the same library now for 300 students. The library has thus not kept pace with either the number of students or the demand of knowledge, for the annual library budget has been very small. Both faculty and student have

Campbell Critical Of Aid To Plants

Provincial Liberal Leader Alex Campbell last night called into question "the prudence exercised by the government in its program of industrial expansion in the Georgetown area."

He was addressing a meeting of the Fifth District Liberal Association of Kings in Georgetown.

He suggested that there was "a deplorable lack of capital expenditure by the industries themselves in this area and the taxpayers' money invested here is being subjected to serious and unnecessary risks."

He went on to express concern over the level of wages prevalent in the area and the entry of certain of these industries "into direct competition with the farmers especially."

Mr. Campbell was introduced by party policy strategist D. F. Sigsworth who said "the rich crims of a resurgent Liberalism is being added to the portrait of Island political life by the talented and energetic new Liberal leader."

Meeting chairman was George Ferguson, M.L.A. B. B. Jones, Bunbury, represented the P.E.I. Liberal Association. Other speakers included Arthur MacDonald, M.L.A. and John P. Nicholson, Charlottetown.

Can Science Now Cure Baldness?

Until recently, any claim to cure baldness was suspect. Constant failures have made people skeptical of such claims. But now, February Reader's Digest describes the new "punch-graft" technique that has proved effective in 10,000 cases! Read how it works, how much it costs. Read, too, about the new experiments with hormones, which may soon bring us a simpler cure. Get your copy of February Reader's Digest.

William J. Scheffer, manager of Seabrook Farms Ltd., New Annapolis, was the guest speaker at the meeting. Mr. Scheffer's topic was "agriculture in California". He told the members and guests when he arrived on P.E.I. first in 1961 he and the members of his group were looking for a suitable place on the island to erect a vegetable processing plant, and that after studying land and soil maps New Annapolis was picked as a most suitable place. The sources of raw materials near by and the transportation of goods were two of the factors that determined the success of the plant, he continued.

Mr. Scheffer gave an interesting account of how the Seabrook company was first formed 75 years ago in California by A. S. Seabrook. He went on to talk about the various Seabrook farms that have since been formed in California.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Wood gave a summary of the work done by the Kensington Area Board of Trade in the past year.
