Salvation Army Campaign In Ch'town Gets Underway

The first phase of the Salvation Army's Red Shield appeal in Charlottetown got underway last evening when the special names division comprising more than thirty business and professional men of the City met at the Charlottetown Hotel and received their "marching orders" from the division's co-chairmen, B. Earle MacDonald and Tom DeBlois.

That the work and worth of the Salvation Army is appreciated here, is evidenced by the fact that such a large number of men representing various denominations are banded together to assist in the appeal of "the understanding heart and human touch".

Next week more than two hundred men will undertake a general canvass of Charlottetown and vicinity. This large group will work in nine divisions under the leadership of the following commanders: George Craig, Walt Wheeler, Clive Cudmore, Fred A. Large, Blair MacDonald, Sidney Green Jr., Percy Gay, Walter Baker and George Greenough.

The campaign committee consists of: N. W. Lowther, Q.C., provincial chairman; Arthur H. Peake, Charlottetown chairman; B. Earle MacDonald and Tom DeBlois, co-chairmen, special names division; Reg T. Boyne, treasurer and Ralph J. Rupert, director of publicity.

RESCUES CHILDREN

MIDALE, Sask. (CP) — Mrs. Dorothy Bromstad, a young widow, made five trips through a burning kitchen Saturday to save four children when her one-storey frame house was damaged by fire. She told firemen she crossed the blazing kitchen four times to reach her own three children, all under six, and a nine-year-old girl visiting there. The fifth trip was necessary when one of the youngsters went back into the burning house in search of her clothes.

Premiums Will Finance Hospital Plan In N.B.

FREDERICTON (CP) — The province's share of New Brunswick's hospital insurance plan will be financed by individual premium payments and there will be no increase in the present three per cent provincial sales tax.

Health Minister McInerney made this announcement in the legislature Monday when he introduced legislation to provide for New Brunswick's entry into the national plan. The target date is next Jan. 1.

No estimate of the cost, to be shared 50-50 by the federal and provincial governments, was given Monday. Municipal Affairs Minister Brooks told a Fredericton meeting last week each share may be $7,000,000 of $3,000,000.

Dr. McInerney said many details remain to be worked out. Yet to be decided is whether the plan will be compulsory. It is to operate mainly through a payroll deduction system.

DETAILS OF SERVICE The service will consist of in-patient and out-patient care on a ward level with no limit as to the time in hospital and the number of tests or drugs necessary. Blue Cross and other plans will be able to continue for those desiring better accommodation or fringe benefits.

Dr. McInerney also said a $1,000,000 annual health grant will be divided among municipalities to help them pay administration costs of the plan and provide for care of indigents.

The legislation includes provision for a hospital services commission of three to seven members to administer the plan.

All New Brunswick residents will be eligible for the insurance. Dr. McInerney and B. R. Guss, chairman of an interim study committee, said the plan should be completely compulsory to be fully effective.

Fire Destroys Barn, 200 Chickens, Calf At Milton

Fire, apparently originating near a brooder, Friday morning destroyed a large barn owned by Omar Neill of Milton. Consumed in the blaze were 200 chicks purchased the previous Monday and a calf.

All the other animals housed in the structure were saved including three horses, 15 cattle, a sow and litter of nine, and three other pigs. A number of sheep normally penned in a section of the building had been let out to pasture.

The fire had made considerable headway before the Neill's were notified, a neighbor, Mrs. MacNeill, said, adding that there was only one load of hay in the barn at the time. This had been hauled from an outside stack the previous day.

Fire Chief J. D. McSkell of the Parkdale Fire Department said that the fire had been burning an hour before the alarm was turned in at 6:30 a.m.

When the animals possible had been removed from the burning barn, the doors were shut, Mr. MacNeill said. This was done in order to help contain the blaze and reduce the hazard to the other nearby outbuildings.

No estimate of loss was immediately available.

National Guide Camp Will Be Held At Brackley Beach

This province will hostess to a Canadian Girl Guide Camp in July. It is to be known as the Atlantic Adventure Camp. Every resident of this province, who is interested in the Girl Guide movement, cannot help but be proud of the honour of having such a camp in Prince Edward Island, Canada's smallest province.

This Atlantic Adventure will begin in British Columbia, the 28th of June, with Guides, Rangers, and Cadets from each province, joining the party as their train travels eastward across Canada. Mrs. London will be in charge of travelling as the girls leave British Columbia, and will be joined by her assistant Mrs. William Rook in Manitoba.

The train will reach Montreal, July 3rd, where they will be joined by sister guides from Great Britain and girl scouts from the United States. Here the group now totaling approximately one hundred, will pause for a day of sight-seeing. Thence, they will proceed directly to Prince Edward Island, arriving at Borden, Friday July 4th, where they will be met by chartered buses and driven to their campsite at Brackley Beach in the National Park. On arrival, they will find the camp in readiness, as the campers from the four Atlantic Provinces, with their Commandants will have arrived two days previously.

4 SUB-CAMPS The Camp will be divided into four sub-camps, which have been given historic Island names: Tracadie, Miscouche, Cascumpec, and Miminegash. Here, they will spend ten wonderful days filled with fun, adventure, and leadership training.

The camp program, under the capable direction of Miss Suzanne MacKinnon will include swimming, overnight hikes, deep-sea fishing, clam - digging, photography, visiting of historic centres of special interest, learning of typically Island handicrafts, and the study of nature lore, to mention a few.

The Prince Edward Island sub-camp Commandant will be Mrs. Ferno Rogers; Camp Nurse, Mrs. H. J. Harris; and Quartermaster, Mrs. Arthur Farquharson.

TO NEWFOUNDLAND The campers will leave Brackley Beach, the morning of July 14th, and travel by bus to North Sydney via the Wood Island Ferry. The new Lord Selkirk. Continuing on their Atlantic Adventure they will spend three days in Newfoundland, before returning to Halifax, for their homeward trip across Canada.

For the great majority of these guides, it will be their first visit to "the home cradled on the waves," or Abegweit, as the Indians first named our Island; to
