CURRENCIES

MONTREAL (CP) — The U.S. dollar closed Thursday at a discount of 3 25-32 per cent in terms of Canadian funds, up 1-32. Pound sterling $2.69⅞, unchanged.

TORONTO

TORONTO (CP) — Golds took the biggest drop in late trading on the stock exchange Thursday. At one stage golds almost had a three-quarter point gain but they lost practically all of it and settled for a few demical point. Base metals fared little better.

Western oils fell off for the third straight session as no end to the profit - taking appears in sight. Today they lost almost a point. In the last three days they have given up more than three index points.

There was some increased action among speculatives with New Hosco once again moving back into the spotlight. Today it traded 444,719 shares, losing 13 cents at $2.32. Norlartic was the only one of the five most active issues to gain. It was up 8 cents to 42.

The easing by base metals and golds was more a wiping out of gains rather than any real losses. Western oils again could lay their plight to the seniors, most of whom were fractional losers.

Index changes Golds up .03 to 83.40; base metals up .07 to 164.81; western oils off .90 to 138.89.

PLENTIFUL MINERAL

Quartz, or silica, is the most abundant mineral in the crust of the earth.

Vast B. C. Transit System May Be Sold To U. K. Firm

VANCOUVER (CP)—The British Columbia Electric's vast trolley bus and motor coach transit system serving greater Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster, may soon be sold to British interests. The reported price is something under $20,000,000.

B.C. electric officials have stated publicly they are anxious to sell the system. They say it hasn't made a profit since 1945. The company wants capital to concentrate on expansion of its gas distribution and electric power systems.

And the British principals, acting through 55-year-old Timothy J. Manning, retired U.S. Air Force general, appear anxious to buy. Manning, formerly of Seattle but now a resident of West Vancouver, has headed some of the biggest transit systems in the United States, including Los Angeles Transit.

STAY IN BACKGROUND

He predicts the B.C. Electric system could be converted to a money-maker in five years. He declined to identify the British principals but said "they are very responsible and when the names are out people will know that they haven't bought a transit system yet that wasn't losing money.

The business paradox caused one Vancouver alderman to remark "there's something here that doesn't add up."

He told BCE vice-president Dr. H. L. Purdy when the BCE official reported to city council on the deal recently: "If one person is as anxious to sell as you are, and the other as anxious to buy, one of them has to be wrong."

Dr. Purdy replied that BCE plans for expansion of its gas and electric departments would require huge investment in the next few years and added: "Unfortunately investment companies do not look well on utility companies which operate transit systems; it is better for us to sell ours."

PRICE A KEY

Mr. Manning, carrying on negotiations with BCE President A. E. (Dal) Grauer, has been optimistic about completion of the deal. He said it mainly depends on price and just how much of BCE's property the principals would be expected to buy.

BCE estimates assets of the Vancouver and Victoria aystem at $17,690,000. Its total transit system includes 409 urban motor buses and 351 electric trolley coaches, operating over more than 400 miles of routes. It also owns 69 motor buses of Pacific Stage Lines, a subsidiary which operates tourist tours and rural transit over some 400 miles.

The BCE is applying to the B.C. Public Utilities Commission for a fare increase which would boost Vancouver single trip fares to 15 from 13 cents.
