

Things That Never Die.

The pure, the bright, the beautiful, That stirred our hearts of youth, The impulse of a worldless prayer, The gleam of love and truth, The longer after sometimes last, The spirit's yearning cry, The striving after better hopes— These things shall never die.

The timid hand stretched forth to aid A brother in his need, The kindly word in grief's dark hour, That proves a friend indeed; The plea for mercy, softly breathed, When justice threatens nigh; The sorrowing of a contrite heart— These things shall never die.

Let nothing pass, for every hand Must find some work to do; Love not a chance to weaken love, Be firm and just and true; So shall a light that cannot fade, Beam on the form on high, And angel voices say to thee, "These things can never die."

Of a Religious Nature.

The more believers love God the more they love one another; as the lines of a circle, the nearer they come to the centre, the nearer they come to each other.—Charnock.

An earnest christian is always peculiar and half incomprehensible to the world. He has something which they have not, and which they do not know how to reckon in their calculations.—N. Y. Observer.

The pew can reason as well as the pulpit, and it logic is all that the pulpit can give it will soon find itself without listeners. The world will be brought to Christ only by those who have seen Christ.—Dr. Parkhurst.

Every one blameth the devil for his sins; but the great devil, the house devil of every man, is that idol that killeth all himself. Beware of yourself; yourself is a more dangerous enemy than any without you.—S. Rutherford.

Away from all that is transitory and perishing; away from all that is threatened by change and shadowed by decay away from all that feels the power of mortal pain and sorrow and dissolution; let us look to Him that liveth and was dead and is alive for evermore, and hath the keys of hell and of death. Let us rest our souls upon the reality of the living Christ.—Dr. H. J. Van Dyck, Jr.

The need of one day of rest runs through the New Testament as well as the Old. Without such rest and without some portions of their lives devoted to religious culture, men are bound to become beasts or devils. Too many are turning their backs upon the Sabbath of their fathers—the Sabbath of the scriptures; do they reflect that they are also turning their backs upon Christ!—S. J. McPherson.

A New Religious Sect.

A new religious sect on a small scale was unearched at Chicago on the 11th. The founder is Arnan Reiversen, who believes himself to be the second Christ. Last summer he succeeded in impressing three Scandinavian families with the same belief. The little colony has occupied a basement at No. 151 West Indiana street, Chicago. Reiversen ordered that the husbands separate from their wives. The husbands were located in small rooms at the rear of the basement, while the three women were installed in commodious rooms at the front of which Reiversen has access, but the husbands were excluded from the sacred precincts. Recently he resolved that the husbands and wives be re-united, but insisted that he must make the allotments regardless of past relations. Karn Stanson, who had not objected to being separated from his wife under the decree of his Saviour, refused to be joined to another. Reiversen thereupon threatened to kill him, and Stanson and his wife fled from the house of their human God, who is now in jail awaiting trial.

England's Leading Lady.

Maria, Marchioness of Aylesbury, is one of the most famous institutions in London society; one of the most imposing monuments of the grandness of a past regime. Wherever dukes and peers of high degree entertain, wherever royalty deigns to show itself, there will be found, as there has been to be found any time during the last half century, the stately and unmistakable presence of Maira, Marchioness of, etc. The tall form, the aristocratic countenance, the frizzled wealth of the hair which in gracefully swelling protuberances decorates the side of her head, the many colored toilets, the miraculous head-dresses, and the unique arrangement of jewels—these are the outward and visible signs of the lady who is more intimately at home in many great English households than any other of her sex.

Horsford's Acid Phosphate. IS NERVOUS DISEASES. Dr. Henry, New York, says: "In nervous diseases, I know of no preparation to equal it."

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral. No other complaints are so insidious in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs; gone so trifled with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unconscious exposure, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has well proven its efficacy in a forty years' fight with throat and lung diseases, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured. "In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed night after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my strength. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 62 years old, hale and hearty, and am satisfied your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me." HORACE FAIRBROTHER, Rockingham, Vt., July 15, 1882.

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute. "While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken ill with croup; it seemed as if he would die from strangulation. One of the family suggested the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small and frequent doses, and to our delight in less than half an hour the little patient was breathing easily. The doctor said that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved my darling's life. Can you wonder at our gratitude? Sincerely yours, MRS. EMMA GEDNEY, 159 West 128th St., New York, May 10, 1882.

"I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL in my family for several years, and do not hesitate to pronounce it the most effectual remedy for coughs and colds we have ever tried." A. J. CRANE, Lake Crystal, Minn., March 13, 1882.

"I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL." JOSEPH WALKER, Byhalis, Miss., April 5, 1882.

"I cannot say enough in praise of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, believing as I do that but for its use I should long since have died from lung troubles." E. BRADDOCK, Palestine, Texas, April 22, 1882.

No case of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be greatly relieved by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine. PREPARED BY Dr. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass. Sold by all Druggists.
