

Cover France Edward Island Like the Dow... Published every week-day morning at 10 Prince Street...

Put Out More Flags! Gradually during the past few weeks Charlottetown has been metamorphosed into a gay looking capital...

We are not a people given to demonstration of our warmest feelings, but in this case they should find expression in outward show as well as in our verbal greetings.

We need not be afraid of overdoing our part by putting out more flags. The Union Jack and the Canadian Ensign are enshrined in our hearts as emblems of the freedoms we enjoy...

Dangerous Antics Premier Smallwood has asked for a dissolution of the Newfoundland Legislature because two lone Conservative members opposed his resolution...

EDITORIAL NOTES The Canada Council, in its annual report, introduces a set of statistics with these words: "Here is the way the division looks like working out of the third year."

We do not need it in this favored province, but the Health League of Canada has given some timely advice about snakebite. It doesn't mention the whisky cure which oldtimers believed in...

In April the National Health Department warned Canadians that paralytic polio virus is now a particular threat to young parents between 25 and 34. They can be infected by their children...

Stratford in England has paid a delicate compliment to the Stratfords in Canada and the United States. Indirectly, with its program for the production of "Coriolanus," it takes notice that it is not the only Stratford playing Shakespeare in the world...

that heavy expenditures are required for this purpose. But that doesn't tell the whole story. A great deal of federal money was spent unwisely by Mr. Smallwood in grandiose schemes which failed to live up to expectations.

How Much Longer? Egypt's President Nasser is on the rampage again, declaring that he wants a decisive battle with Israel and threatening this time to "exterminate" that country...

There are reasons behind this trade, of course. The controversy over the sending of Israeli cargoes through the Suez Canal is entering a new phase with Israel's representative in the United Nations scheduled to meet Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld to discuss Egypt's violation of an international agreement.

There is also the fact that Israel, since the republic's establishment 10 years ago, has made tremendous progress. While the main emphasis has heretofore been on the development of agricultural production, the weight is now being shifted to industrial expansion under a five-year plan which has become the focus of far-reaching activities by the government's economic agencies.

These successes are galling to the Egyptian dictator, who chose the third anniversary of his nationalization of the Suez Canal for his latest outburst. He is now openly threatening war, and denouncing the free world for curbing his ambitions in the past.

Wanted: A man who can ride a horse. A man who can ride a horse. A man who can ride a horse. A man who can ride a horse.

Wanted: A man who can ride a horse. A man who can ride a horse. A man who can ride a horse. A man who can ride a horse.

Wanted: A man who can ride a horse. A man who can ride a horse. A man who can ride a horse. A man who can ride a horse.

Wanted: A man who can ride a horse. A man who can ride a horse. A man who can ride a horse. A man who can ride a horse.

GODIVA RIDES AGAIN

PUBLIC FORUM

This column is open to the discussion of questions of general interest. The Guardian does not necessarily endorse the opinion of correspondents.

HOSPITAL INSURANCE

Sir.—This letter is in answer to the article appearing in your Public Forum column recently concerning the Provincial Hospital Insurance plan written by an "Interested Taxpayer." I sincerely hope that the following explanations will clear up the confusion existing in the mind of "Interested Taxpayer," and in fact, correct misunderstandings that any of our interested taxpayers may still have about the plan.

OTTAWA REPORT

Fresh Talent Encouraged

(Patrick Nicholson is on vacation. His guest columnist today is DR. P.R. RYNDAR, Conservative M.P. for Simcoe East.) When the people of Canada, in the summer of 1956, gave the Conservative government one of the greatest votes of confidence in Canadian history, it posed an unusual problem for Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

APPEC MEMBERSHIP

Sir.—During one of the preliminary meetings of the Atlantic business and government leaders which led eventually to the formation of APPEC—the Atlantic Provinces Economic Council—the late Premier Angus L. Macdonald of Nova Scotia said, "I believe that if we combine, apply our brains and brawn to the task, that these Atlantic Provinces could become the home of a great and happy people enjoying a happy and prosperous economy."

IF YOUR GUARDIAN IS LATE... OR MISSED

DIAL 6561 and a paper will be delivered right to your door. Special delivery service available between 8:30 a.m. to 9:00 a.m. if your paper is late or missed.

PUBLIC FORUM

This column is open to the discussion of questions of general interest. The Guardian does not necessarily endorse the opinion of correspondents.

HOSPITAL INSURANCE

Sir.—This letter is in answer to the article appearing in your Public Forum column recently concerning the Provincial Hospital Insurance plan written by an "Interested Taxpayer." I sincerely hope that the following explanations will clear up the confusion existing in the mind of "Interested Taxpayer," and in fact, correct misunderstandings that any of our interested taxpayers may still have about the plan.

OTTAWA REPORT

Fresh Talent Encouraged

(Patrick Nicholson is on vacation. His guest columnist today is DR. P.R. RYNDAR, Conservative M.P. for Simcoe East.) When the people of Canada, in the summer of 1956, gave the Conservative government one of the greatest votes of confidence in Canadian history, it posed an unusual problem for Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

APPEC MEMBERSHIP

Sir.—During one of the preliminary meetings of the Atlantic business and government leaders which led eventually to the formation of APPEC—the Atlantic Provinces Economic Council—the late Premier Angus L. Macdonald of Nova Scotia said, "I believe that if we combine, apply our brains and brawn to the task, that these Atlantic Provinces could become the home of a great and happy people enjoying a happy and prosperous economy."

IF YOUR GUARDIAN IS LATE... OR MISSED

DIAL 6561 and a paper will be delivered right to your door. Special delivery service available between 8:30 a.m. to 9:00 a.m. if your paper is late or missed.

Can Be Threat In Midsummer

By Herman N. Sanderson, M.D. EVEN in the middle of summer you have to be wary of carbon monoxide poisoning. Of course, it isn't the hazard it is in winter, when too many persons keep their homes and autos sealed tightly against the cold.

HEAT WILL BE WELCOME

If you plan on taking any long drives you may be stopping overnight at a motel. And while you may be more interested in determining whether it has air conditioning rather than heating facilities, there will be some chilly nights when you will desire heat.

Now the vast majority of our modern motels and tourist courts are well kept up and have good equipment. But it is a good practice—and it takes only a few seconds—for you to check the heater in your room to make sure that it is vented.

Just as important is to make sure that the vent or smoke pipe is open. It won't do much good if it is closed.

As a further precaution I suggest that you sleep with the window open at least a little bit.

Carbon monoxide is a very poisonous gas that is formed whenever any fuel—coal, oil, wood or what have you—is burned.

Carbon monoxide is bound to develop if there is not sufficient oxygen available for the fire, or if for any other reason the burning process is not complete.

GREAT DANGER The great danger of this deadly monoxide gas is that it is difficult, if not almost impossible, to detect, since you can't see it, you can't smell it and you can't taste it.

As it is inhaled, the gas is carried by the red blood cells throughout the body. Thus, your body gets carbon monoxide instead of oxygen and it literally suffocates.

SYMPTOMS VARY While symptoms of carbon monoxide poisoning vary with individuals, the usual signs include dizziness, headache and eventually muscular weakness which may leave the victim helpless.

Best thing to do for a person overcome by the gas is to get him into the fresh air immediately. Apply artificial respiration if his breathing has stopped. Keep him in a horizontal position and keep him warm and quiet. Rub his arms and legs to stimulate circulation and by all means call a doctor without a moment's delay.

QUESTION AND ANSWER Mrs. D.L.: I have had rheumatoid arthritis for nine years and lately I am having hot flashes and then chills. Is this from the arthritis?

Answer: Chills and hot flashes may be a condition of rheumatoid arthritis. They may also be due to the menopause or other conditions.

MAXIMS Poets make feasts, and wise men eat them.

less political than that on the floor of the House of Commons. Time has been saved in the House itself because the need for debate on certain proposed legislation and certain expenditures is not so great after the careful examination in the Committees.

SAVING MONEY Another was to examine the proposed spending of certain government departments to see if a saving could be made of the taxpayers' dollar.

Another looked at possible ways to develop Canada's natural resources.

The operation of the Canadian Broadcasting Commission was carefully examined.

There was a committee on railways and canals at which much light was shed on the operational problems of Canada's two great systems.

Never in recent history have Committee rooms in the House of Parliament been so busy. Never, in recent history, has such a careful look been taken at government spending and government activities.

I am convinced that the experience of this session has proved the value of these committees. The scrutiny of proposed expenditures is much more careful than could be given in the House of Commons itself.

And an important aspect is that much of the work of committees is in an atmosphere much

NOTES BY THE WAY

Patience wives, who have braved themselves to smile when hunting husbands bring back game and fish no one else wants, must view with alarm the permission given to hunt buffalo in Canada.

"It appears to me," said the employment manager to the wife of a prospective employee, "that your husband has been fired from every job he ever had."

A man is reported to have caught a 50-pound sturgeon in Lake Ontario with his bare hands. He'll have a hard time making that fish story stick with the boys in the back room.

Twenty-five hundred miles may be a long way to go for your Christmas tree but Mexicans are ready to do that. Canadian growers have won themselves a good market in Mexican cities where the tree fad has taken hold.

OUR YESTERDAYS (From the Guardian Files) TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO (July 29, 1931)

Daniel Coughlin was elected president of the L.P.U. at a large meeting held last evening. Other officers include: vice-president, James A. Treiner; treasurer, Arthur Gormley; financial secretary James Thistle; recording secretary, Thomas Bell.

A $20,000 construction project, that of renewing and repairing a large section of the Martine Wharf was begun last week. About 23 feet on the west side of the wharf is to be repaired and the remaining 17 feet is to be replaced.

TEN YEARS AGO (July 29, 1946) Twenty-four members of the University Travel Club from Toronto arrived in the City last evening. Mr. Roy Allan, Toronto, is in charge of the group.

The Summerside air station will become completely re-activated in November with a peak personnel of about 1000 officers and men. Air Marshal W.A. Curtis, chief of the Air Staff, stated yesterday during his official visit to the station. He also said that a central heating system would be installed this summer.

The Age Old Story Surely he shall deliver thee from the noisome pestilence.

The Poets Corner FIDDLEHEAD FERN A few days after spring's return I went to look for the fiddlehead fern.

The ground was cold where snow had gone. Into it, ash air had drawn. Some of the cold up out of the ground.

And it was chilly walking around. At last I found a fiddlehead sign that looked like a sleeping porcupine.

Gray black, with nothing showing at all. On top of the mound except for a small Knuckle of brown exhibited.

That was the top of a fiddlehead. O it was wonderful to see. Where the whole fern was going to be.

I knew the hands of spring would pull. The fronds up green and beautiful. Our of the ground, out of the cold.

And when the whole fern was unrolled. It would wave in warmth till cold once more back to the earth's floor.

And snow came down and whitened the world. In which a new fiddlehead was curled.

—Elizabeth Jane Astley in the Christian Science Monitor

CUDMORE'S WEEK-END SPECIALS

Table with 2 columns: Product and Price. Includes items like Kool Aid, Molasses, Toilet Soap, Cheese, Island Honey, Eagle Brand Milk, Kam, HAMBURG ROLLS, WIENER ROLLS.

BEAUTIFUL HOUSE PLANTS

Geraniums, Coleus (Jacob's Coat) and Patience also Iveys in fancy plastic pots. 50c each or 3 for $1.00

Table with 2 columns: Product and Price. Includes Kraft Marshmallows, New Island Beets, Fresh green Pod Peas, Ripe Tomatoes, Barbour's Pepper, Salad Bowl, Kraft French Dressing, Maxwell House Reg. grind Coffee.

ARRIVING FRESH DAILY

Island Raspberries, Strawberries, Cherries, Wax Beans, Potatoes, Cauliflower and other new items. Due to daily price changes we cannot price them now.

PERFECTION SPECIALS

BUTTER, 2 lbs. .... $1.25 MILK, 6 tins ..... 79c

HEINZ HOT DOG RELISH HAMBURGER & BARBECUE RELISH 3 jars $1.00

173 Great George St. Charlottetown Ed's Slogan: "To maintain the goodwill of those whom we serve — the goal for which we strive!"