ADVERTISING RATES.

For small advertisements which are ordered for only one or two weeks the charge is 5 cents per inch for the first insertion, and 2 cents for each continuation. Rate cards are furnished on application at the office. Special contract prices at a reduced rate are quoted for advertisements four inches in size or larger, which are to run for three months or longer.

No special notices inserted unless paid for at the rate of 15 cents per line, and under no circumstances will such paid notices appear in the local column.

Special discounts made on all advertisements connected with Church Fairs, Bazaars, Picnics, etc. No notices will be inserted with the same unless the regular rate of 10 cents per line is paid.

That THE EXAMINER is considered by our Merchants and Manufacturers to be the leading newspaper in P. E. Island, and consequently the most valuable advertising medium through which to make their announcements public, is abundantly proved by the fact that in order to accommodate our advertisers we have been compelled to enlarge the paper to its present size.

THE DAILY EXAMINER is for sale by the following agents:—

THE NEW YOST combines the life-long experience of the inventor, G. W. N. Yost, who invented the "Remington" in 1873, the "Caligraph" in 1880, and the "Yost" in 1889; the latest and best improvements have been added during 1892, making the New Yost an ideal, perfect typewriter. The New Yost prints direct from steel type; its work is never blurred, but is clern cut and beautiful. The alignment is absolutely perfect and permanent. The paper is an ideal success, the best ever applied to a typewriter. The line spacing absolutely perfect.

AN INDIAN'S ORATION.

Flying Cloud's Masterly and Thrilling Speech.

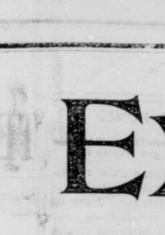
Worthy of Ingersoll, Blaine, Gladstone or Bismarck—The Bloody Past and the Peaceful Present—Presented in a Verbal Panorama—Here is a Lesson to Heed.

The Indian is the most poetic race in the world, in their relations with their own; in their habits when not on the warpath; in their customs, songs, dances; in their belief in the happy hunting ground, and in their conceptions of the Great Manitou.

The following is an extract from the speech of Flying Cloud, a famous Kickapoo medicine man:

"Children of the Great Spirit, whose form is in the air, though invisible, I am here to tell you of our wrongs and of our rights!

"Four hundred years ago a Great White Man sailed from Spain to find a New World. That World was the Red Man's. Then all went well with our Forefathers from the upper waters of the Illinois to the Great Warm Gulf that kissed the land of Fruit and Flowers, where the Simmoes hunted and fished.



Catlin says: "The word of an Indian can always be relied upon."

"The Indian welcomed the White Man, and for that welcome our people were driven step by step toward the great Salt Lake, beneath which drops the Great Spirit's Eye every day when twilight comes down upon the earth.

"We are scattered like leaves when autumn winds shake the trees of the forest.

"We, the Kickapoos, whose home was once in Illinois, later in Kansas, and is now in the land of the Sacs and Foxes, are at peace with the White Man. What we have, that we will give to our White Brother.

"Our Kickapoo Indian Sagwa makes men live to be one hundred years old.

"There are Red Men living who have used it ever since they were young men, and who are now so old that they can only sit, lie and sleep in the sun.

"Our Kickapoo Indian Oil is the foe of pain.

"Our Kickapoo Cough Cure stops the hand of death.

"Our Kickapoo Indian Salve heals and cures all wounds, and our Kickapoo Worm Killer preserves the lives of papooses.

"Our 'Sagwa'—good medicine—is from the great mother of us all—Nature. All that is best that grows in the woods, that blossoms on the plain, that hides in the earth, our Sagwa contains. It has preserved the lives of our warriors and our women.

"It acts upon the body like sunshine on the trees and flowers, and gives life and strength to all who use it. Men and women who partake of it freely can only die of old age.

"This secret which the Kickapoos alone possess, they give freely to their white brother. It is our richest offering.

"I have spoken. Let the voices of the world bear answer to what I have said!"

Without doubt the Indian has a profound knowledge of the mysterious herbs with which they cure radically many formidable diseases which baffle the greatest physicians of the world.

Those remedies can now be obtained of any druggist or wholesale dealer. The Kickapoo Indian Sagwa is one dollar per bottle. Six for five dollars. The Cough Cure is fifty and all the other remedies twenty-five cents per bottle. In using these remedies you may be absolutely certain that they are purely vegetable, that they contain no acids or mineral poisons, because the Indians know absolutely nothing of these harmful drugs.

The Kickapoo Indian Medicines are genuine Indian made. How they came to be given to the world is fully explained in our large book, which we gladly send free to all applying who care for it sufficiently to write us enclosing three 2c. stamps to pay postage. KILLED AT RIO JANEIRO.

A British Subject Shattered by a Shell from the Ships.

The New York World's special from Buenos Ayres states that during the bombardment at Rio Janeiro the flying shell killed a subject of Great Britain while he was standing at an hotel window.

In reply to official enquiries of the foreign ministers at Rio Janeiro, Peixoto's government has declared itself strong enough to put down the rebellion.

The Paris Temps says that Duke Augustus of Saxony, a grandson of the late Dom Pedro, the deposed Emperor of Brazil, has embarked at Bordeaux for Rio Janeiro.

The New York Herald's Montevideo correspondent cables: Word has just been received here from Rio de Janeiro that the bombardment of the city by the rebel fleet under Admiral Mello, which was begun on Wednesday, continued without cessation. Shot and shell from the ships were being thrown into the city, while the shore batteries, manned by Peixoto's forces, are returning the fire of the squadron. The greatest alarm prevails in the Brazilian capital, which is in an absolute state of panic. Business has been entirely suspended. Banks are closed, the bourse deserted, workshops and railways have shut down, proposals have been made to prolong all commercial transactions, and every man, woman and child who can do so is fleeing from the city.

Frightful outrages are being perpetrated by Peixoto's soldiers who are committing murder, robbery and are apparently beyond all restraint. They have killed many defenceless people and carried on a general plundering raid on stores and residences. Their excesses, which began several days ago, and which at the time drove many families from the city, have increased in ferocity during the panic caused by the bombardment of the city. Neither man, woman, child or property is safe from these lawless hands. Opportunities for their crimes are offered by the course pursued by their leaders. Squads of armed soldiers are scouring the country in search of recruits. Men are being pressed into Peixoto's service on all sides. Artisans, clerks, merchants, everybody on whom these lawless hands fall are forced into the ranks and hurried to the water front and there made to man the batteries and fight for the government. Other detachments of President Peixoto's soldiers, under the direction of the President's chiefs, are seizing prominent persons known to be in sympathy with Mello and throwing them into jail.

These expeditions abound in chances for the soldiers to indulge unchecked in the most atrocious abuses.

All the English residents of the city have been warned by the British Minister to escape from Rio de Janeiro, as the fleet has given notice of its intention to continue the bombardment.

Postal facilities have been suspended, and Peixoto is searching all the mail that enters and leaves the city.

The sympathies of the entire city are with Mello. Peixoto is blamed for drawing the fire of the fleet on the town. He opened fire from the shore batteries on the fleet which replied to his guns. It is argued that by this action the President drew the fire of the squadron on the city, for it is believed that had he kept his guns quiet, Mello would not have renewed the bombardment.

Peixoto has mounted new guns along the water front and is preparing to attack the fleet with renewed vigor. Decisive battles are momentarily expected in the vicinities of the cities of Rio Grande do Sul, Porto Alegre and Pelatas.

A discount sale of dry goods is an irresistable attraction to the average lady but it is only the wise and prudent housewife that is attracted by an advertisement calculated to provide wholesome and toothsome food at a discount, and as this advertisement is only intended for the economical housekeeper, others will please not read this.

Ripe tomatoes, 2 cents per lb.; red onions, 2½ cents per lb.; 30 cent peck celery, 8 cents per bunch, formerly 10 cents; green tomatoes, cabbages, beets, carrots, parsnips, etc., at usual market price.

For winter supplies of celery and all vegetables, send a card requesting prices, or call at our stalls in the market, Charlottetown. As it is not our intention to store celery to any extent this fall, having stripped our green house of its winter covering, we will be compelled to clear out the greater part of our stock before cold weather sets in. Celery shipped to all the Maritime provinces. No extra charge for boxes or packing. Address, J. J. Gay & Son, Pownal, P. E. I. o9 m thAwk

The reports on the commercial situation in the United States show the greatest recovery from the stagnation of the summer to be in the West and South. In the East the condition is stationary, or only slightly improved. The decline in Customs receipts at New York last month, compared with September of 1892, was $4,376,000. The collections were the smallest for any single month for over thirty years. The bank clearings, which reflect the condition of trade in the East and North rather than that of the West and South, continue to run about 30 per cent. under last year's record. The distribution of money to move the crops is no doubt the cause of the better conditions noted in the favored sections, the good influence of which will in due time be felt in all parts of the country. There is likely also to be a political effect to this peculiar business situation. The repeal of the Sherman Silver law has been demanded as a necessity for the removal of the depression. It is in the West and South that silver money has most friends and if these sections are no longer financially depressed there will be no pressure on their representatives to vote for a measure they do not like.

With Invalids.

Yes! with invalids the appetite is capricious and needs coaxing, that is just the reason they improve so rapidly under Scott's Emulsion, which is as palatable as cream. .....

Several species of moths never eat after attaining a perfect state. They have no mouths and live but a few hours.

Wasps are the most inveterate enemies of flies. Reaumur says he has known one wasp to kill a thousand flies in a day.

Two sexton beetles will bury a mole in an hour, a feat equivalent to two men interring a whale in the same length of time.

Yellowstone Park at present has 25,000 elk, 400 buffalo, 500 antelopes and a large number of moose, deer, beaver and other animals.

A meeting of 2000 persons over 70 years of age is annually held at Leicester, England, and of these over 400 die before the next anniversary.

The greatest travelers in Switzerland are the English; then come the Germans, the Americans, the French and the Italians in the order given.

Old English silverware is much in demand in the United States just now, and genuine pieces, especially those of historic interest, bring high prices.

The romantic and supposedly beautiful Mary "Queen of Scots" was cross-eyed, and had other physical blemishes that are not accounted attributes to beauty.

Butter oil is made by pressing the oil from American cottonseed. It is pure, nutritious vegetable oil, which is used in small quantities to soften the texture of oleomargarine.

Four billion nine hundred and two millions nine hundred and twenty-four thousand one hundred and twenty-one pounds of grain are annually put into beer and liquor in the United States.

Among Greek rustics the bride and groom walk around between two consecutive circles composed of young men and women of their acquaintance, who heartily kick and cuff them as they pass.

The first savings bank in the United States was the Philadelphia Saving Fund Society, organized in 1816 and still doing business. The second was established at Boston in the same year, and the third in New York in 1819.

The ancient Ethiopians salted the bodies of their dead and hung them up in a smokehouse to be dried and cured. They were thus kept for a year, when, perfectly preserved, they were turned over to the relatives for burial.

The existence of the Colossus of Rhodes is considered by some historians extremely doubtful. There is not evidence that the ancients were able to cast pieces of metal of such size as must have entered into its composition.

Many Chinese temples are provided with a bell at the entrance, and when the worshipper enters he gives the rope a pull and rings the bell in order that the deity may be notified of his coming and be on hand to attend to his business.

In the reign of Elizabeth forgery of any kind was punished by fine, by the pillory, by having both ears cut off and the nostrils slit and seared with a hot iron, by the forfeiture of all property and by perpetual imprisonment.

All the species of shellfish draw the carbonate of lime of which their shells are formed from the sea. After the death of the animals the shells accumulate at the bottom of the ocean, forming lofty mountains and vast beds of chalk.

Horseback weddings, in which the bride and groom mounted on horseback run away from the attendants, who ride after them in hot haste, were formerly common in many countries, and may still be seen in Russia and parts of Tartary.

Scolding women were formerly ducked in the nearest pond with such severity that death by drowning sometimes ensued. Scolders who were not especially vicious otherwise were forced to wear an iron "brank" or bridle, which acted as a gag.

A Roman victor was accustomed to give a great feast by way of celebration. At the feast given by Julius Cæsar after the Gallic wars the people were feasted at 22,000 tables, each accommodating ten guests, and each table was twice filled.

The mole plague in the Southern counties of Scotland, which for a time proved a terrible scourge to farmers, has now all but disappeared. This is due to the fact that owls were preserved by the gamekeepers and became extraordinarily plentiful.

Among the ancient Jews mourning at the death of a relative was indicated by tearing the clothing, pulling or cutting off the hair and beard, wearing sackcloth, covering the head with earth or ashes, going barefoot, sitting, lying and eating on the ground.

Until the year 1800 the English kings were also called kings of France, although the last continental possession was lost during the reign of Mary. Until the French revolution of 1789 the French kings styled themselves, among other things, kings of Jerusalem.

The "benefit of clergy" was a legal custom which allowed priests to withdraw their cases from a secular to an ecclesiastical court. The evidence of being a clergyman was an ability to read. If a man could read only a single verse he was entitled to the benefit of clergy.

The mace of the City of London, which is very ancient and has been carefully guarded since 1684, was carried in the wedding procession of the Duke of York. The foot knob became detached and was lost. No efforts were spared to find it. It has at length been recovered and the mace is once again complete.

One of the greatest fires that ever visited New York City broke out on Dec. 16, 1835. Before the conflagration was under control it had swept the first ward, east of Broadway and below Wall street, destroying 529 buildings, most of them valuable stores, also the Merchants' Exchange and the South Dutch Church. The property destroyed was valued at more than $20,000,000.

The sheriffs of London annually pay into the British exchequer six horseshoes with the proper number of nails as rent for a piece of ground in the parish of St. Clements. In 1234 this lot was rented from the crown by a blacksmith to build a shop on, and afterward the property came into the hands of the city corporation at the same rental. The horseshoes and nails have been annually paid ever since the date mentioned.

Beer & Goff have bought from Mr. Dillon the whole of the fine exhibit of Island factory cheese, which attracted so much attention at the late exhibition. They are now cutting them up and offering them for sale at their store. oct3 2i.
