Seeing double? Not really, for here we have Laurie and Leslie Saunders modeling smart separates. Laurie's coat is pink wool with a black panel of inverted pleats. Pink velvet flowers accent her bubble-shaped hat. Leslie's is a double-breasted bouclé frock with loose half belt, worn with a white straw stroller hat. The little pook? His name is Noel and the girls had washed him snowy white for his debut.

ELLEN'S DIARY

James' Practised Eye Measures Stored Wood

A wind-blown sparrow came to perch a moment in a haven of eucalyptus before the window, where we breakfasted this morning.

I think we won't work today, a gust just before the wind and the little drifts are driving in the rain. I'm currently building up an eye across the yard would say wisely, looking out from their new doorway to the merrily. And since we're not getting on with it, how stop with all this mess of building about?

... I don't know what that nothing is, but even the wind forms terms which, in season, seem of a more or less disturbingly over the land. Not winter itself. Time runs on sooner or later turns to sunshine, such an instance, if one can't forget her disappointment in some other interest, and continued happiness.

... How do you manage to keep your children so happy? We were overheard one inquire of a schoolteacher, whose relation with her pupils was mutually pleasant.

Clower go - together for tea, hiking, biking and all sunny fun to be had! See this streamlined set in poplin, shantung, denim.

MARY HAWORTH

Jobless Girl Day-Dreams Of Marrying Rich Man

Dear Mary Haworth I have a problem that of surviving, am a good worker but I can't hold on to a job. Always worrying where the meals are coming from. I am fed up; I am tired of people walking on me.

Love is what I want. And a rich husband. I want a home I can call my own. I think I deserve it. And I want to live in Florida.

I am 32, weigh 100 pounds and have brown hair. I am religious, don't smoke and often referred to as a nice girl. I can cook and do housework. I am prepared to exchange pictures and correspondence after you print this.

Dear D.S. Every generation has its own slang phrase. For saving face, if and when critics assail one's aspirations.

In my youth, such a phrase was "Well, I can dream, can't I?" when some unkind person would try to poke fun at another's spirited hopes of breaking the mold to attain a desired goal.

I think "dreaming" richly describes what you are doing in issuing an SOS for a job-hungry man who will give you love and a home in Florida for your very own.

In all probability that dream will never come true for you. But certainly not if you depend upon wishing to bring it to pass. A life well lived, until all the way, as the poet Christina Rossetti says. And the way in which the grade is applied to self to what can and should be done today in the spot where you are.

As of now, you seem to need two things equally: first steady paid employment, second, guidance in finding work you are fitted for. Apparently you are a drifting, unskilled laborer, expecting good fortune to overtake you in general that brand of luck has to be earned in a many times over by tireless excellence before it comes knocking at your door.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN R. BIRCH

Marriage Vows Pledged At St. Anthony's Church

A ceremony in St. Anthony's church, Bloomfield, united in marriage Eva Ann Arsenault, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvain Arsenault, Coleman, and John Reginald Birch, son of Mr. Birch, Portage, and the late Mrs. Birch.

Rev. Clarence Poir officiated at the double ring ceremony. Miss Gallant of Howland was bridesmaid.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white length gown with layered over-skirt of an embroidered lace over tulle. Her matching bolero had long, lily point sleeves. Her white length veil of French illusion fell from a sequined tiara she carried a lace covered prayer book with American Beauty roses.

Shirley Arsenault was bridesmaid for her sister, gowned in pink chiffon with matching headband and carrying white carnations centered with white red roses.

Alma Sharpe of West Devo was groomsmen.

A reception held in St. Anthony's Parish Hall, the bride and groom were the wedding guests. Mrs. Arsenault chose a town, spent the weekend with his wife and family. Bothwell, Linus Holland, returned to Sydney, Nova Scotia, having spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holland, North Lake.

Mr. Daniel MacDonald MLA spent the weekend with his wife and family at Bothwell.

The Red Point Women's Institute collected a large amount of good used books and new ones for the Riverside library which were kindly picked up by a member of the RCMP to be left at the RCMP barracks, Southport, and forwarded to the Library, Charlottetown.

Mrs. Martha Bruce, Misses Jean Bruce, Noelle Holland, Edith MacGregor, teachers from this area, attended the teachers' conference held in St. Mary's school hall, Southport, on Friday, March 13.

Mrs. Elaine Stewart, Red Point family at Bothwell, with her sister, Miss Anne Townsend, was being reading to the children of the late Mrs. Kingborough for the past several months.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wright and two young sons of Southport, recently reside in Saint John. Mr. Wright has been postmaster at Southport for the past number of years and has been transferred to the same position at Saint John. Mr. and Mrs. Wright will be widely missed as they both were capable and active in many of the up and doing activities in the town of Southport.

MONTRÉAL, March 19th - It's a "must" to keep your precious home in first-class condition. To protect your investment you must not neglect the paint... the wiring... the cracks in the oil ceiling. And there's no need to delay those necessary repairs or improvements... you can pay for them now with a BANK of MONTREAL Home Improvement Loan. You can even decorate that extra room... build a rumpus room... or install a new heating system with an H.E.L. The cost is low and you can back your loan in convenient monthly installments. Making your home really up to date may be easier than you think. Let your B. of M. manager lead!

TALK ABOUT PANCAKES, you know that Lent is here... the very best, most tender and tantalizing pancakes made with MONARCH TEA-BISK. This is a delicious fat I've proved to myself over and over again. I simply follow the package recipe on the new Tea-Bisk package... the one with all the recipes on the back. Truly, the games you've baked today. I can't recommend Tea-Bisk too highly. Ask for Tea-Bisk - the all-purpose mix - at your grocer's... in the 18-ounce size with handy pre-measured one-cup envelopes... or the 36-ounce size with convenient pouring spout.

ANY COLOR... SO LONG AS IT'S RED! An old Irish lady I once knew never missed saying this to dress shop assistants - after they were out of starched: Well, you're hot out of ear-soft, and it IS a good way to remind you. GIVE RED DAYS ARE BARGAIN DAYS! Canadian National's Red Bargain Days offers you tremendous travel savings and luxury. On both the Super Continental and Ocean Liners, you and your family are absolutely pampered! On Red Bargain days, save lots of money and have a fun trip. Don't just travel. Go CAN... Having spent the winter months with members of his family in Toronto, William Robertson has returned to Kingsboro.

Who said, "The time to save is when the barrel is full?" The new baby girl has gained almost a pound since birth. She is a good child and already in the family very dear. Will she be dark or fair? Brown-eyed or blue? Tall or short? Happy or spiteful? Quick of turn, and mind? Will she and her older sister Wendy, one day know how to "bake a cherry pie" and mix breads, and make cookies or will the haberdashery wagon call by them each day to the doors of the farmhouses whose feminine rises and privileges we know?

A day of blown sparrows and brilliant sunlight and restless drifts, this has been.

Until tomorrow - Diary - Mr. and Mrs. Art Zubko and daughter Leslie Kim of Toronto.
