THE PERJURY CASE. Evidence at the Trial in the Supreme Court.

An Interesting and Important Case.

EDWARD F. LAMONT (sworn) examined by the Attorney-General—I was cutting in a field of oats on the 20th August. This field runs to the shore. There are some trees growing on the edge of the bank, but I did not go to the river. I went to the field between five and six o'clock, and left just about sun down. I saw Alex. S. McPhee that day. I was cutting grain before the trial. I saw McPhee's boat on the shore, but I could not see her from where I worked in the field.

Cross-examined by Mr. Stewart—This was the day after the trial—at the funeral of young Hodgson. On the 20th August I saw Shaw with Lamont on McKenzie's bridge. To Mr. Davies—Young Mr. Hodgson died on the same night. I put down the date on which I saw Shaw and Lamont together. I put it down on 5th September.

Cross-examined by Mr. Stewart—I think that one of the little girls (Bertha) was with Shaw when I had the conversation with him on the bridge. I have not seen the deposition I made before Mr. Fitzgerald. I swear that I made the same statement to Mr. Fitzgerald that I have made here. I live on the south side of the river. The field I was working in runs to the shore. I was threshing the day before the trial by Mr. Hackett. I think that James McNeill was helping me. I can't remember. I couldn't swear positively. John McFadyen helped me. Tom Morrow was the man that was threshing, and I think McLaughlan was there. We stopped threshing at 3 o'clock. I was around the house for the rest of the day. I watered the cows just before milking time. I was at Lamont's Cove on last Saturday. I saw a boat with Mr. Shaw in it there in the evening. We were on the bridge road. I saw a boat right under McPhee's. I saw her, Shaw said "Do you see that boat?" I said "Shaw, the boat is not at Lamont's Cove. I did not see it above the boat; the boat was west of the bush. I was summoned on a charge of perjury. The Attorney-General told me not to appear, and he has his word for it. To the Attorney-General—I had nothing to do with the survey made on Saturday. There was quite a number of people there. The boat I saw was just at the edge of the channel, under McPhee's shore. I saw a bush there. It was on the edge of the channel. So was the boat. The boat was further out. I saw the surveyor at work. He put some stakes out near the channel. There were five six stakes at Lamont's Cove. We went round the shore up the bridge road to where the surveyor was taking his bearings. I could see the bridge. It was the one nearest the bridge.

SAMUEL BALL (sworn)—examined by the Attorney-General—I have fished all along the West River for four or five years past. I know the boat that Alex. McPhee built last summer. I saw the boat first just about the time this case originated. The row locks were on her. She had not been built. I saw her on Monday. She came over to bring me across the river. The inside of her was not painted. There was no sign of oyster mud on her. A stain of oyster mud could not be seen on the inside of her. My boat is always stained from fishing. I tried to fish in Lamont Cove from end to end. I never got any oysters there. I never noticed a place at which a man could pick up oysters with his hands. Every low spring tide goes out to the edge of the channel. At ordinary neap tides there would be three or four feet of water at the edge of the channel at Lamont Cove. It is about forty or fifty yards from high to low water. I would look for oysters on the bank of the channel or in the channel. I know of no place about where oysters can be picked by hand. Cross-examined by Mr. Stewart—I fish largely of McKenzie's Creek; and have tried three or four times at Lamont's Cove. I did not hear my son Samuel say before the Stipendiary Magistrate that he fished oysters in Lamont's Cove. I don't recollect that he said that I had fished there with him. I did not hear him swear that he fished oysters of McFadyen's.

CHRISTINA McFADYEN (sworn) examined by the Attorney-General—I am the wife of Angus C. McEachern. I know Alex. S. McPhee and his wife. I remember the 20th of August. I was at McPhee's late in the evening. His wife was sick in bed. It was half-past six when I went there. Alex. McPhee came in a little while after I came. He brought in a pail of milk. He then went out on several times. I was in the kitchen first and then went to the bedroom. He came in and lit the lamp. He went out. His nephew William where he was telling his wife away between 20 and 30 minutes. It was dark when he came back. He brought nothing back with him. He was quite dry—perfectly dry. When going to McPhee's late in the evening I met Charles McNeill. I did not stay long after McPhee came back. He sat upon the bed. I saw his boots.

FLORA McPHEE (sworn)—Examined by the Attorney-General—I am a sister of Alex. S. McPhee. I remember the 20th of August. Alexander McPhee was cutting grain that day. I was at his house. He left work about six o'clock, and drove the cows from the pasture and milked them. I saw him bring the milk and lay it on the table. He went down to the shore at early candlelight. He was away about a quarter of an hour or 20 minutes. I don't mind when I mind fishing of Shaw's shore. I have forgotten if I fished oysters off our own shore. It was three or four years since I left my father's home to live in Long Creek. I never saw my brother Alexander fish there.

HER SHAFT BROKEN. The St. Lawrence Meets with an Accident

Which Will Lay Her up for Several Weeks.

The steamer St. Lawrence, Captain Alexander Cameron, left here for Picton at six o'clock this morning with mails and freight and ten or twelve passengers. About a quarter after six, when the steamer was off Murphy's Point, the shaft suddenly broke off at the inner wheel. The shaft was broken in two, and the steamer was brought to an anchor, and a boat was sent to town for assistance. On the way into the city the boat "Bart's" large, beat the world's record of 2:15-2.5 in a mile, scratch, making it in 2:14.4. A Nelson, of Springfield, road a quarter-mile in 30-2 seconds, beating the record by two seconds.

At the point where the break occurred, the shaft is fourteen inches in diameter. The break was very sudden, and was unexpected as the shaft never showed any signs of weakness. The steamer will likely be laid up for a month or six weeks, as it will take all of that time to have the new shaft put in and have the other work performed which the putting in of the shaft will necessitate.

The new shaft will have to be imported, probably from New Glasgow, N.S. We have not yet heard what steamer will take the place of the St. Lawrence while she is laid up. We understand, however, that an effort is being made to secure the Galana, which is at present owned at Gaspe.
