

Women

6 The Guardian, Charlottetown, Thurs., Aug. 4, 1966.

HAPPENINGS

Audrey Jenkins, Women's Editor, Phone 4-8506

Donna Marie and Carolyn Murray of Chateaugay, Quebec, spent a few days as guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Murray, West Royalty.

Mr. and Mrs. James MacBeth and Cpl. and Mrs. Miles Foster and son Jeffrey of Charlottetown, recently visited relatives in and around the Boston area.

Charles Hall, Baltimore, Maryland arrived on the Island last weekend to spend his vacation. Mrs. Hall and daughter Laureen have spent the past month with Mrs. Hall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Wigginton, Montague. They will leave on return next week.

Rev. and Mrs. Robert Hutcherson and children Lorna, Nancy and Peter of Westmount, Cape Breton are vacationing at their summer home on Pannure Island.

Everett Gillis, Sudbury, Ont. has been visiting his mother, Mrs. George Gillis, South Lake.

Marion Kennedy, Kingsboro, has as her recent guest, Dr. and Mrs. A. Silver, Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fernette and Carol of Bathurst, N.B. have returned home after vacationing at Cavendish Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. J.A. Doiron and children Kelly Ann and Linsey, and Donna and Carolyn Murray of Chateaugay, P.Q. are spending their vacation at Holiday Haven.

Mrs. Mary Peters, Somerville, Mass. arrived in Charlottetown on Friday by plane and is spending a short holiday with her sister, Mrs. Howard Galant, Rustyville and other relatives on the Island.

Cpl. J.A. Frenette, RCMP, Mrs. Frenette and children Paul and Corinne have returned to their home in St. Bruno, P.Q. after spending their vacation at their cottage in Meadow Bank. They also visited Mrs. Frenette's parents, Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Murray, West Royalty.

Rosemary Trainor, Ottawa, is they will develop a gradual sense of isolation and their loneliness will become exaggerated and intensified.

Many elderly people acquire the feeling they are a burden to society, because society does not yet realize that many of them want to be useful and productive, Miss Anderson says.

"Our life expectancy is much longer now than ever before and, while we may plan for future security, we don't anticipate illness, injury or disabilities and the problems that follow."

Governments didn't do enough for the elderly! There ought to be a guaranteed income above the subsistence level and special housing which would provide independence in a "semi-protected" environment.

It's impractical to have a fixed retirement age, Miss Anderson says, because people who reach their peak of productivity late ought to be allowed to use it while those who reach it early could retire earlier.

Proper nutrition was a key to the enjoyment of life for the old.

"We suggest a five-meal-a-day plan with smaller meals at each sitting. They look forward to the meals and we also find that they sleep much better after eating."

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Payne and family, Clinton, were Mr. and Mrs. James Surette, Saugus, Mass., Mrs. George Payne and daughter, Eleanor, of West Yarmouth, Mrs. Mildred Glydon and daughter Edith of Windhorst, Sask.

Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Brennan, Toronto, are visiting Mrs. Brennan's sister, Mrs. C.C. Baker and Mr. Baker, and other relatives and friends in this province.

Bruce Kemp who has been spending his holidays at Burlington left on Thursday to return to his home in Toronto. He was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. John Kemp, who had spent the past month with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stavert, Burlington, and other members of her family here.

Luci often recalls the November day she sat in Spanish class at National Cathedral school for girls and couldn't believe the news that President John F. Kennedy had been assassinated.

"I'm not the president's daughter, I'm not," she insisted to a girl friend.

Later, she said she felt she had been "robbed of my youth and my private life."

The second daughter of a famous and busy politician, Luci was born and brought up in Washington, with constant commuting home to Texas. She and Linda Bird, now 22, often were temporary campaign orphans while their parents were off on election forays.

Like any typical teen-ager, Luci spends hours on grooming, has an "incredible array" of makeup, hairsprays and lipsticks.

She drives a dark green Corvete Stingray, likes chewing gum, movies, late pizza snacks, listening to records, piano playing and sometimes writes verse.

She will be married this Saturday in Washington to Patrick John Nugent, 23, of Waukegan, Ill.

In the two years and eight months she's lived in the White House, Luci has grown up—and slumped down. She dieted out of chubby adolescence to a trim, 110-pound size seven. She's danced and dated, pierced her ears, campaigned politically, and pleaded for privacy.

Writing Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Moase, Kensington.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Horace Paynter and family, Clinton, were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Payne, and Mr. and Mrs. James Surette, Saugus, Mass., Mrs. George Payne and daughter, Eleanor, of West Yarmouth, Mrs. Mildred Glydon and daughter Edith of Windhorst, Sask.

Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Brennan, Toronto, are visiting Mrs. Brennan's sister, Mrs. C.C. Baker and Mr. Baker, and other relatives and friends in this province.

Bruce Kemp who has been spending his holidays at Burlington left on Thursday to return to his home in Toronto. He was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. John Kemp, who had spent the past month with her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stavert, Burlington, and other members of her family here.

Luci often recalls the November day she sat in Spanish class at National Cathedral school for girls and couldn't believe the news that President John F. Kennedy had been assassinated.

"I'm not the president's daughter, I'm not," she insisted to a girl friend.

Later, she said she felt she had been "robbed of my youth and my private life."

The second daughter of a famous and busy politician, Luci was born and brought up in Washington, with constant commuting home to Texas. She and Linda Bird, now 22, often were temporary campaign orphans while their parents were off on election forays.

Like any typical teen-ager, Luci spends hours on grooming, has an "incredible array" of makeup, hairsprays and lipsticks.

She drives a dark green Corvete Stingray, likes chewing gum, movies, late pizza snacks, listening to records, piano playing and sometimes writes verse.

She will be married this Saturday in Washington to Patrick John Nugent, 23, of Waukegan, Ill.

In the two years and eight months she's lived in the White House, Luci has grown up—and slumped down. She dieted out of chubby adolescence to a trim, 110-pound size seven. She's danced and dated, pierced her ears, campaigned politically, and pleaded for privacy.

Luci often recalls the November day she sat in Spanish class at National Cathedral school for girls and couldn't believe the news that President John F. Kennedy had been assassinated.

"I'm not the president's daughter, I'm not," she insisted to a girl friend.

Later, she said she felt she had been "robbed of my youth and my private life."

The second daughter of a famous and busy politician, Luci was born and brought up in Washington, with constant commuting home to Texas. She and Linda Bird, now 22, often were temporary campaign orphans while their parents were off on election forays.

Like any typical teen-ager, Luci spends hours on grooming, has an "incredible array" of makeup, hairsprays and lipsticks.

She drives a dark green Corvete Stingray, likes chewing gum, movies, late pizza snacks, listening to records, piano playing and sometimes writes verse.

She will be married this Saturday in Washington to Patrick John Nugent, 23, of Waukegan, Ill.

In the two years and eight months she's lived in the White House, Luci has grown up—and slumped down. She dieted out of chubby adolescence to a trim, 110-pound size seven. She's danced and dated, pierced her ears, campaigned politically, and pleaded for privacy.

Luci often recalls the November day she sat in Spanish class at National Cathedral school for girls and couldn't believe the news that President John F. Kennedy had been assassinated.

"I'm not the president's daughter, I'm not," she insisted to a girl friend.

Later, she said she felt she had been "robbed of my youth and my private life."

The second daughter of a famous and busy politician, Luci was born and brought up in Washington, with constant commuting home to Texas. She and Linda Bird, now 22, often were temporary campaign orphans while their parents were off on election forays.

Like any typical teen-ager, Luci spends hours on grooming, has an "incredible array" of makeup, hairsprays and lipsticks.

She drives a dark green Corvete Stingray, likes chewing gum, movies, late pizza snacks, listening to records, piano playing and sometimes writes verse.

She will be married this Saturday in Washington to Patrick John Nugent, 23, of Waukegan, Ill.

In the two years and eight months she's lived in the White House, Luci has grown up—and slumped down. She dieted out of chubby adolescence to a trim, 110-pound size seven. She's danced and dated, pierced her ears, campaigned politically, and pleaded for privacy.

Luci often recalls the November day she sat in Spanish class at National Cathedral school for girls and couldn't believe the news that President John F. Kennedy had been assassinated.

"I'm not the president's daughter, I'm not," she insisted to a girl friend.

Later, she said she felt she had been "robbed of my youth and my private life."

The second daughter of a famous and busy politician, Luci was born and brought up in Washington, with constant commuting home to Texas. She and Linda Bird, now 22, often were temporary campaign orphans while their parents were off on election forays.

Like any typical teen-ager, Luci spends hours on grooming, has an "incredible array" of makeup, hairsprays and lipsticks.

She drives a dark green Corvete Stingray, likes chewing gum, movies, late pizza snacks, listening to records, piano playing and sometimes writes verse.

She will be married this Saturday in Washington to Patrick John Nugent, 23, of Waukegan, Ill.

In the two years and eight months she's lived in the White House, Luci has grown up—and slumped down. She dieted out of chubby adolescence to a trim, 110-pound size seven. She's danced and dated, pierced her ears, campaigned politically, and pleaded for privacy.

Luci often recalls the November day she sat in Spanish class at National Cathedral school for girls and couldn't believe the news that President John F. Kennedy had been assassinated.

"I'm not the president's daughter, I'm not," she insisted to a girl friend.

BAY FORTUNE

Mrs. Eric MacKenzie was hostess to the Bay Fortune UCW for the July meeting.

The president, Mrs. Morrow, presided and gave an interesting report on the visit to Pictou County Presbyterian, which was attended by two delegates from this group: Elma Inman, a retired missionary and a native of P.E.I. was the guest speaker.

The devotional leader for the meeting was Mrs. Clarence Dixon who used as her theme, "The loving kindness of the Lord."

She was assisted by Mrs. Eric MacKenzie who read the 103rd Psalm. Two readings, "The Fragile Moment," and "Do Not Judge Too Hard," were given by Mrs. Harold MacKenzie. 24 members responded to roll call.

It was decided to hold an afternoon tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Reid, on August third.

The social functions chairman, reported receiving six—dozen more juice glasses.

The offering was received and dedicated.

A motion was passed that a substantial sum of money be given towards the repairs of the manse in Souris.

It was decided to hold a church supper in August. Mrs. Edwin Cook invited the members for the August meeting, at which Mrs. Henry Townshend will be in charge of devotions, and Mrs. Reid Underhay, Mrs.

WORTH'S PHARMACY QUALITY DRUGS SERVICE SAVINGS

W. E. H. Worth 1915 Reg. Pharm. Free Delivery and Mail Service.

142 Prince St. Phone 4-3424 — 40 Years in Business —

Ernest Underhay and Mrs. Leslie Underhay will be on the refreshment committee.

The meeting was closed by the UCW Benediction.

ALBERTON

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Aitken and family, Charlottetown, are spending a holiday with relatives in Alberton.

Misses Mary and Maureen O'Hara, Montreal, are guests of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Underhay, Alberton.

Mrs. E. H. Underhay, Alberton, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Fraser, Alberton South and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ramsay, Alberton.

Barbara Cousins has returned to her home in Campbellton after a holiday in Toronto.

CONFIDENTIALLY YOURS

MONTREAL, August 4th — Here's a tip for a happy trip — before you set out on your travels, visit THE BANK OF NOVA SCOTIA and ask for Travellers Cheques. They'll give you a sense of security wherever you go because they're cashable anywhere in the world. If you lose them, they'll be replaced quickly. Canadian and U.S. Travellers Cheques are available in 10, 25, 50 or 100 dollar denominations. Sterling is available in denominations of 2, 5, 10 or 20 pounds. So visit your nearest Scotiabank before your trip. Remember — Travellers Cheques are as necessary a part of your luggage as your toothbrush!

HERE'S A SUMMER DESSERT IDEA YOU'LL LOVE... LUSCIOUS LEMON ANGEL... one of the many delicious desserts you can make with Shirriff's LEMON BUD PIE FILLING, the famous four bud with liquid flavour sealed in an airtight sugar shell. I prepare a 7 1/2 oz. package Shirriff Lemon Bud Pie Filling according to package directions, omitting butter. Whip 2 egg whites until frothy; gradually beat in 3/4 cup granulated sugar until stiff peaks form; fold into filling. Cool. Whip 1/4 pint whipping cream; fold into lemon mixture. Slice large angel food cake into 3 layers; spread filling between layers and over top and sides of cake. Chill about 4 hours before serving. Serves 12 and it's heavenly!

EVEN YOUR HUSBAND will want to get in on the act when you plan a barbecue... so why not let him in from the beginning? Take him shopping at DOMINION! I know he'll be more than impressed with their meats. You see, Dominion meat buyers select the prime young sides with an extra measure of quality... but they don't stop there. Any meat-loving husband will be interested to know that, because the very best meat isn't tender until it's properly hung, Dominion waits patiently for time to bring out its full, rich quality. He's sure to become a "mainly because of the meat" fan!

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM PRIEST
Campbell-Priest Wedding
At The Kirk Of St. James

The marriage of Margaret Catherine Campbell, daughter of Mrs. Donald Campbell of Charlottetown and the late Dr. Campbell, to William Robert Priest, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ernest Priest of Halifax, took place on Saturday the sixteenth of July in the Kirk of St. James, Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island.

Baskets of white flowers decorated the church.

The Reverend Malcolm A. McQuais performed the ceremony and Christopher Gledhill was the organist.

Given in marriage by her cousin, Colonel William S. Hunt, the bride wore an empire gown of silk organza with a court train; the trumpet sleeves and the skirt were appliqued with guipure lace. Her bouffant shoulder length veil was of tulle illusion with a head-dress of organza petals. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of shasta daisies.

Elizabeth Campbell attended her sister as maid of honor. She wore a full length empire gown of pale pink Swiss silk with a green and pink print head-dress and sash. Miss Campbell carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Campbell chose a street length beige and rose-tapestry brocade costume, with a Chanel jacket over a pale pink-chiffon blouse, and a hat of pink straw and organza. Her corsage was of pink roses.

Mrs. Priest, mother of the groom, wore a sheath style fuchsia chantly lace dress and jacket, with a cloche hat of blending pink chiffon and fuchsia velvet flowers. Her corsage was of white rosebuds.

The best man was Donald Hopkins of Halifax; and ushers were James MacNutt of Charlottetown and Martin Raine of Halifax.

At the reception held at the Charlottetown Hotel, Mrs. Heath Strong and Mrs. Duncan Macdonald presided at the tea table. Hon. J. David Stewart proposed the toast to the bride.

The bride's travelling costume was a three-piece A-line suit of cerulean blue-green Swiss silk with matching cloche hat, bone accessories and a corsage of shasta daisies.

Mr. and Mrs. Priest will reside in Halifax, Nova Scotia.

Foreign Students Welcomed by Toronto Couple

TORONTO (CP) — The first Canadian family home visited by hundreds of foreign students is the elegant household of Arthur and Margaret Mercer.

Their guest book shows names and home addresses from China, India, Taiwan, Australia, Trinidad, Jamaica, Ghana, Egypt, Israel, Russia, Sweden, Holland and Belgium.

What started all this, say the Mercers, was one simple question from a foreign youth: "Where are your Christians?"

"He told us with tears in his eyes he'd never been in a home here in five years."

"We wanted them to feel wanted and welcome. And we wanted to introduce them to the Christian way of living."

"When they ask why we do it, we tell them it's nothing but what you read in the Bible put into effect."

START WITH MEAL
A visit with the Mercers begins with a family meal and, after a sing-song or a chat, the guests usually wind up calling their hosts Mom and Dad.

Even after they've gone home, they still write to us as Mom and Dad."

Mr. Mercer has escorted five brides from five different countries to their weddings on his arm. The most recent was that of Sul and Angela Go, a young Filipino couple.

Shelves and walls in the Lakeshore Drive house are covered with craftwork from many countries and Mrs. Mercer has a big international collection of recipes.

They feel that their guests, when they go home, are ambassadors for Canada. "So many of the students say they are going home to do the same thing with their homes," says Mrs. Mercer.

How to be proud of your canning

BERNARDIN SNAP LID STANDARD MASON

BERNARDIN'S RED built-in sealing ring. Scientifically formulated, clutches the jar-rim until you break the seal.

THIS SNO-WHITE EXTRA COAT gives you protection against acid foods—tomatoes, pickles, etc.

THIS "HAND-HELPER" RING with specially designed threads helps you seal the lid to the jar-rim.

YOU'LL HAVE A TIGHT SEAL UNTIL YOU PRY OFF THE LID

Bernardin—Canada's own home canning cap with Snap Lids is made to fit small mouth jars, the many wide mouth jars you have on hand and standard mason jars. At good retailers everywhere.

Special Offer

Our latest edition of The Home Canning Guide contains 100 recipes, containing reference tables, methods, time-saving hints, plus over 150 recipes. Ready now for cost of handling and postage. Send $3.95 and your printed name and address to: Bernardin of Canada Ltd., 113 King Street West, Toronto, Ontario.

Home Canning Caps with Snap Lids for Positive Protection

Depend on BERNARDIN mason caps

Older People Need Interests Outside Selves

VANCOUVER (CP) — To enjoy growing older, you've got to work at it, says an editor of the American Journal of Nursing.

This means joining clubs and undertaking volunteer work. Helen C. Anderson said on a visit here from New York.

"Active women age more easily and become less lonely than those whose lives have always been very circumspect," she says.

People who busy themselves with just the family or job and have no outside interest grow older more quickly.

"They should retain their ability to make new friends and acquaintances, otherwise ly morning, as this, we had been pitting cherries from the former trees, at the kitchen table, when James commenced the mowing. It was in the near field, which then ran down to bathe its feet in the millpond.

We recalled the click-clack of the mower, the familiar sound of the pause at the turnings, and James' voice to the team. The white of the Public Bridge, which admits the stream from the west was mirrored in the ripples below, and on the nearer spillway, since washed away, a vacationist we recognized, on pilgrimage to beloved boyish haunts, again fished from there.

We had, we recalled, blessed Providence once more for the fresh and lovely world about, for fields to love; for sticks for our stove, a pump in the yard, a rain-barrel at a house-corner, home-made ice soap to be a standby of our housewifery; little sons fashioning tiny farms on the lawn, James at the mowing in a cloverly meadow, and fruits in season to preserve.

"I'm afraid" Alex said soberly, when we turned to come to the house, "I'm not going to like leaving all this when school starts to keep again."

And our days pass happily in the beautiful, summer, come days.

Until tomorrow — Diary — Good-night.

cherries were those his due? fished over cherries on small trees that in another generation of growth, have rooted at the foot of the garden. It must be, the thought came, cherries were turning a bit later this year. Time was, on just such a love-

THE SWING IS TO SINGER

SINGER ZIGZAG SEWING MACHINE $109

- STURDY • LIGHTWEIGHT • FULLY GUARANTEED
- one of the most beautiful and popular machines that SINGER* makes
  - all the features most wanted by beginners and experts
  - just flip a lever to change from straight-stitch to zigzag
  - overcasts seams, backstitches, sews over pins
  - ideal for darning, mending and freehand embroidery, too!
  - surprisingly easy to thread and operate
  - exclusive SINGER transparent bobbin, built-in light
  - lightweight aluminum construction
  - full SINGER guarantee, 3 free sewing lessons included with purchase.

SPECIAL OFFER FOR A LIMITED TIME ONLY. Visit us or phone now for free demonstration in your home without obligation.

SINGER CENTERS

164 Gt. George St. Ch'town Dial 894-4551 Keith Simmons Summerside Dial 436-2522

Model 337 as illustrated

Model 338 Automatic zigzag sewing machine by SINGER, 8 interchangeable zigzag FASHION* Discs for fancy stitching • deluxe walnut-grained carrying case (Model 547) • reg. value 229.95. SAVE $50!