DAIRYMEN'S MEETING.—A meeting of the York branch of the Farmers' and Dairymen's Association was held last night in their hall. The meeting was in every way a success. Messrs. A STRANGE BANK.—Elizabeth Dougherty, an elderly maiden lady, died at Fredericton, N. B., a few weeks ago. Since then an underskirt of hers was discovered on the inside with cotton patches. On examining these each was found to be a receptacle for bank notes, which had been sewed up there by the deceased. There was a large number of them, but of what denomination or bank it was impossible to tell. The hoarded wealth was lost in the end.

ART IN CANADA.—The Montreal evening papers report a very successful exhibition of the Royal Canadian Academy of Arts. The Witness states that Mr. Robt. Harris, P. R. C. A., contributes seven canvasses, of which the portraits of Mrs. P. A. Peterson and Francis J. Shepherd, M. D, display all his knowledge of technique and insight into character and will be especially remarked. Mr. Harris also contributes some charming little seascapes, dainty, and tender in tone and sentiment.

BURNED OUT.—As the Co-operative Farmer lost all its subscription, mailing and account books in the late disastrous Sussex fire the proprietors hope that subscribers, secretaries of agricultural societies and canvassers will kindly forward duplicate orders for the paper, giving name and address in full. As the printing department was not damaged the next issue of the paper will be out on time, so it is hoped that subscribers will lend their assistance in making up the mailing books. Mention of the date of securing the first issue of the paper would be an additional favor.

THE WEATHER.—Fair with moderate temperature to-day, followed by some rain to-night or to-morrow.

ANOTHER ISLANDER ABROAD.—The Portland Me., Press of the 14th says: Harry Buckles, who was arrested Thursday for larceny of a fur cap from Daniel Friel, has been found also to be the man who stole Rodney McLeod's valise at the railroad station March 11. McLeod, a P. E. Islander, described the man by whom he thought his valise was stolen, as wearing a cap and a pair of rubber boots. Deputy Marshal Sterling was struck by the fact that Buckles wore a cap and rubber boots, and questioned Buckles so closely that he confessed to having stolen the valise and that he sold it to a pawn broker on India street for 40 cents. The valise was identified and returned to McLeod. Buckles will come up before Judge Robinson again to-day on a second count of larceny.

THE TURKISH SIDE

Of the Armenian Troubles in the Sultan's Asiatic Provinces.

WASHINGTON, March 16.—The Turkish Legation has received from the Sublime Porte a report containing a detailed account of the Armenian troubles in the Asiatic provinces of Turkey. The report deals with the Armenian disturbances as a whole, and treats of each village separately. Beginning with Trebizond, the report opens with the statement that "The Armenian agitators, endeavoring to realize their subvertive designs by destruction and ravage, procured arms, catridges, bombs and dynamite, hoping to impress the Mussulman population by the number of their engines of war. It was thus that they caused the troubles at Talouri, Sassoun and Yozghad, and later those at Constantinople, which in turn reacted on Trebizond."

The following are extracts from the report:

"In Erzeroum it is stated that a band has as its chief one Serohe, who had a convent as his refuge, and that it is his object to create an Armenian question to provoke the intervention of Europe. The instructions which they had received from him admonished them to call themselves Mussulman names in order that they might attribute to these latter the outrages which they committed."

At Bitlis the report says: "An Armenian questioned by a commissionary of police declared that a certain Mr. George, a Protestant missionary in the services of whom he was employed, announced to them three days before the Bitlis incident that reforms were going to be affected and also wrote a letter to the Armenian bishop in which he stated that six Vilayets had already been ceded to Armenia. This of course conclusively proves that the Armeniens were allured and incited to revolt by the promises made to them by the Protestant missionaries."

Judicial inquiries were held to discover the perpetrators of the various crimes. On the sixth of December, Daniel, the famous brigand, was captured on the coast of Catchkin, the man who had plunged into abject terror the entire population of the vilayet of Sivas. Following a judicial inquest and on the avowal of his acolytes, this Daniel had been condemned to hard labor for life a year and a half previously, and this because of murders. From the advices received, Daniel assassinated in the most atrocious manner the substitute of the imperial procurator general of Kars Hissur, a corporal, the chief of the correspondence of Tchoroum and sixteen Mussulmans, of Sahar-Dagha, of whom two were women.

The value of the buildings, houses and personal property destroyed during the riot, and for the loss of which the blame must be laid at the door of the Armenians, exceeded 200,000 Turkish pounds.

In Aleppo, so runs the report, "The Armenians of Zeitoum pillaged and burned the Mussulman villages of Brehana and Khrout. They burned Mussulman alive, cut off the breasts of women and strangled the children, they caused also great massacres at Tehoukour-Hissar."

"During the night of Nov. 24th the Armenians of Zeitoum burned about 40 houses in the villages of Denir and Lari. It was shown by official advices that the number of Mussulmans killed by the Armenians in these villages and in the neighboring towns was 266, of which there were 16 women, and that the number of houses burned was about 500; that the Armenians committed horrors by cutting off the breasts of women; by strangling the children before the eyes of their parents, and then killing them after having burst their eyes with gun powder."

THE OUNCE OF PREVENTION

Little things frequently cause disastrous results. Just a chill caught in a wetting will often heap up discomfort, sickness and expense. While just a layer of Rigby proofed Fibre Chamois through a garment makes it absolutely waterproof so that a pouring rain can't penetrate it, offers protection from the wind and is light and inxpensive. Isn't it worth while?

THE FEAST OF ST. JOSEPH.

Celebration at St. Joseph's Convent To-day —Address and Presentation.

The members of St. Joseph's Sodality are to-day celebrating the Feast of their Patron Saint. In the morning there were three masses in the beautiful little chapel of St. Joseph's Convent, and all three services were well attended. The first mass was at 7 o'clock, the celebrant being Rev. Father Hogan. At this service the children attending the convent schools approached the Holy Table in a body. The second mass was celebrated at half-past seven o'clock by Rev. Dr. Morrison, and the members of the Sodality received Holy Communion at this service. The Thanksgiving Mass at half-past eight o'clock was celebrated by His Lordship Bishop Macdonald. The singing at the second service was by the children attending the convent schools. At the Thanksgiving service the singing was by the Sodality choir. The music at the services was excellent.

Nine new members were received into the Sodality at the conclusion of the second mass by the Director, Rev. Dr. Morrison. Their names are: G. Trainor, M. F. Lee, K. McQuaid, T. Macdonald, V. Arseneault, L. Murphy, W. Morrison, J. Arnold and A. Hughes. The ceremony was a very impressive one, and at the close the new members were appropriately addressed by Dr. Morrison.

After the Thanksgiving service the members of the Sodality repaired to their Hall where an address to His Lordship the Bishop was read by the President, Miss Higgins, and a purse of gold was presented to Dr. Morrison. The address reads as follows:

MY LORD,—Allow me, in the name of my sister members, to offer you our most sincere thanks for the honor you conferred on us this morning by officiating in our beloved chapel.

The many favors received from you in the past assures us of the interest you take in the advancement of this society. This morning our prayers have ascended to the throne of the Most High to obtain for you, through the intercession of our glorious patron St. Joseph, full success in the noble work you have undertaken, namely, the erection of a cathedral. And, being aware that your funds are small, we propose holding a fair in September next and offering Your Lordship the proceeds as a proof of our filial gratitude towards you.

Deign, my Lord, as a crowning favor, to bestow on us your blessing, which will help us to remain faithful and devoted clients of our Heavenly Protector.

And you, Reverend Father, words are but too feeble to express our gratitude for the great interest you have manifested in our society since coming in our midst. Fervent prayers have been offered that you may long fulfil the office of Director of this society.

Be pleased, then, Reverend Father, to accept this offering as a tightoken of our appreciation of your noble services.

His Lordship made a feeling reply to the address. Rev. Dr. Morrison and Father Hogan also delivered addresses appropriate to the occasion.

The celebration of the Feast will close to-night at seven o'clock with Pontifical Benediction. Previous to Benediction a sermon in keeping with the occasion will be delivered by Rev. D. J. Gregory Macdonald, of Summerside.

The three altars in the Convent chapel are beautifully decorated with flowers and tapers. They were greatly admired by those privileged to be present at the services to-day, and will look even better to-night.

It is gratifying to observe that the membership of this most deserving Sodality continues to increase. This is as it should be. A society that is doing so much to assist an institution like St. Joseph's Convent should be encouraged in every way possible. The Convent has done excellent work in the past, and the good sisters hope to be able to do even better in the years that are to come. In Miss Higgins the Sodality has a popular and most painstaking president, and her efforts are ably seconded by the vice-president, Mrs. J. Walsh, and the other officers. The arrangements made for the celebration of the Feast of St. Joseph this year are most complete, and the sisters of the Convent and the officers and members of the Sodality are to be congratulated.

CYCLE CLUB MEETING.

There were about twenty-five members present at the meeting of the Charlottetown Amateur Cycle Club last evening. One of the objects of the meeting was to consider the advisability of asking the Maritime Provinces Amateur Athletic Association to hold their annual championship sports in Charlottetown this year. Mr A. E. Ings, C. W. A. Consul for P. E. I, was present and pointed out many advantages to be derived by securing the championship sports for this town; it would encourage amateur athletics here for competition with athletes from the other Provinces. Amateur athletics were at a very low ebb at present on the Island, and unless something was done to revive it most of our coming athletes would be drawn into the professional ranks and that for the sake of a few dollars. Mr. Ings' remarks were endorsed by several members of the Club who expressed themselves as strongly in favor of the project. A committee of six was then named to take full information on the subject and to ascertain the number of amateur athletes available on the Island, and to report to the Club at its next meeting. A motion was also made to the effect that the Club secure the 2nd Sept., Labor Day, for its annual meet and the Secretary was instructed to secure the sanction of the C. W. A. to hold the meet on that day.

I. O. G. T. AT CHERRY VALLEY.

The Rev. Wm. Lawson, of Montague, delivered his popular lecture on "Things which I have seen, things which I have not seen, and the lessons they have taught me," in Cherry Valley Methodist Church, on Monday, March 16th. The lecture, which has frequently been referred to at length in the press, was listened to with great delight by the congregation assembled, and a good collection was taken up in aid of the funds of the Church. At the close of the lecture a sufficient number of names was secured to warrant arrangements being made for the organization of a Lodge of I. O. G. T. on Monday, March 30. A public meeting will be held on that date in the Methodist Church at 7 p. m., when addresses will be delivered by the Rev. W. Lawson, G. C. T., Rev. John Goldsmith, D. T., and others.

THANKS.—WM A P Allin, City Bill Poster, takes this means of thanking whoever returned to him so promptly the paste bucket and brush advertised in THE EXAMINER a few days ago. 11—mch19

GALLAS POINT NOTES.

THE EXAMINER continues to be the popular paper here, and when the Patriot advised Islanders to take an Island journal, it should have been consistent enough to have admitted that the paper which contains the most news and is always characteriized by its love of justice and fair play, which it shows to all, is, without doubt, THE EXAMINER.

A few weeks ago the news reached this place from Suffolk, that the beautiful young wife of our old friend Robert Young had, after a brief illness which she bore with Christ-like resignation, passed from earth to her happy home in Paradise. She made very many friends during her short stay in Gallas Point last summer, as she had a sweet and lovable disposition which made her a favorite with all. We deeply sympathise with her young husband in this the darkest hour of his life, and with her sorrowing relatives in their unspeakable grief caused by the loss of one they loved so truly and well. But it is a comforting thought for those who mourn, that their dear one is safe now in the keeping of a loving Saviour, and evermore free from all the suffering, sorrow and pain of this mortal life.
