

THE DAILY EXAMINER.

JULY 12, 1889.

Well Water.

The wells referred to by our correspondents cannot, of course, be closed until every house, or nearly every house, is supplied with pipe and faucet; and that will be a long time hence...

Professor Saunders Visit.

We have no doubt that the visit of Professor Saunders to this Province will be followed by good results. Now that our farmers are waking up to the importance of better methods, the suggestions and advice of the talented and fully informed Superintendent of the Experimental Farms will be to them as showers upon a thirsty land...

Politics apart, Grit and Tory will, we believe, agree with THE EXAMINER that the Government is to be congratulated on its selection of Professor Saunders as Chief Superintendent of the Experimental Farms of Canada.

Notes and Clippings.

Some of the U. S. papers are delightfully frank. The Cincinnati Commercial Gazette concluded a recent notice of a new breed of hogs in Indiana, by remarking that "the state need them as all the old kind were at Washington squealing for still!"

The Patriot of yesterday says: "Sanitas, in THE EXAMINER, attaches too much importance to our city reporter's approval of a suggestion made by City Councillor Horne at the Council meeting on Monday night in relation to allowing some of the best pumps to remain for the present."

This is rather a cruel "set down" for the city reporter. It is now in order for the reporter to let the public know what importance he attaches to the ideas or suggestions of the editor!

Sir Charles Tupper's suggestion for an Imperial Convention has received the formal approval of the Executive Committee of the Imperial Federation League.

The Electrical, Mechanical and Milling News, of Toronto, says: "Experiments have been made by horse-men in Western Ontario and the city of Toronto with bran and shorts as a substitute for oats, and the results are said to be of a most satisfactory character."

Experiments have been made by horse-men in Western Ontario and the city of Toronto with bran and shorts as a substitute for oats, and the results are said to be of a most satisfactory character.

On that date, 1689, three hundred French settlers were slaughtered by Iroquois Indians.

OTTAWA, July 10.—Hon. W. W. Lynch, a leading Protestant Conservative in the Quebec legislature, has been elevated to the Supreme Court bench.

New Books.

"The Western Pacific and New Guinea," by H. H. Romilly, a British official who is described as "Acting Special Commissioner for New Guinea," is a very readable, interesting book. Not only has the author a keen sense of humor, but he has a very happy way of conveying his impressions to his readers.

We are indebted to the well-known Canadian publishers, Bryce, of Toronto, and Robinson, of Montreal, for the latest novels issued by them.

The "Statistical Abstract and Record for the year 1888," published by the Department of Agriculture, is at hand. It furnishes authoritative and reliable statements concerning the population, finance, trade and commerce, agriculture, railways, minerals, and education, of Canada.

"Johnson's Canadian School Shorthand" contains the whole system of shorthand, as elaborated by Mr. G. W. Johnson of Hamilton, Ontario.

1. It has two strokes for each consonant, one of which indicates a vowel preceding, and the other a vowel following as "pay," "up," "be," "ebb." This makes it plainer than any other shorthand.

Telegraphic Odds and Ends.

PARIS, July 10.—Inquiry into the recent mine disaster at St. Etienne has established the fact that the explosion is due to the neglect of a man who failed to notice the presence of fire damp.

RICHMOND, Va., July 10.—Mrs. ex-President John Tyler died at the Exchange Hotel this evening from congestive chills.

CAIRO, July 10.—General Grenfell has arrived at Assuan. The Sheiks expressed loyalty. The Egyptians have occupied Binbah. The Derwishes are very aggressive but friendly. Shagheeh killed thirty of them at Serra, and the Egyptian picket killed eleven Derwish foragers.

QUEBEC, July 10.—The illustrious Abbe Bois, cure of Maskinonge, to whose antiquarian and historical researches the world has been so much indebted, is dead.

LACHINE, July 10.—The 200th anniversary of the massacre of Lachine will be the subject of a demonstration on August 5th. On that date, 1689, three hundred French settlers were slaughtered by Iroquois Indians.

OTTAWA, July 10.—Hon. W. W. Lynch, a leading Protestant Conservative in the Quebec legislature, has been elevated to the Supreme Court bench.
