MARY HAWORTH

Son's Choice Should Merit Mother's Respect, Loyalty

Dear Mary Haworth: We are an average family of moderate means, still holding our own, financially, after a year of serious illness and surgery for my husband. I've been working to help.

Our kinship ties include 12 families six of whom live nearby, and the others within a radius of 250 miles.

My first-born son, Jack, 23 soon, is the eldest of the younger generation in the clan, and likely will be the first to marry. He has been overseas with the Army for two and a half years; and stationed one place in Japan for the past two years.

Jack had gone steady for two years before leaving home; and broke off the affair as he left. Recently he wrote saying he has been going with a Japanese girl of fine family, for 18 months, who is 20 months older than he; and that he plans to marry her, needs our love and wants us to accept her.

The bride's mother received guests in a powder blue street-length dress of lace, fashioned with a jacket, royal blue accessories and corsage of white carnations.

The bride's gift to the groom was luggage; to her attendants, sterling silver bracelets. The groom's gift to the bride was a crystal and black rosary; to his attendants, cuff links.

For travelling, the bride changed into a grey flannel suit, worn with royal blue accessories and corsage of orchids.

Following their return from a wedding trip to points in Northern and Eastern Ontario, Mr. and Mrs. Ward are residing at 9 Wolf St., Tillsonburg.

Telegrams were received by the couple from the groom's parents; Mr. and Mrs. Ivo Cudmore, aunt and uncle of the groom, Charlottetown; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph, Clough, Summerside, P.E.I.

Guests were present from Detroit, Mich., St. Catharines, London, Tillsonburg, St. Thomas and Moultrie, Georgia.

MR. AND MRS. CECIL GRANT WARD

Wedding In Ontario Interests Groom's Friends On Island

A pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church, Tillsonburg, on Saturday, October 3, 1959, at 11 o'clock, when Ruth Ann Fitzgerald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Fitzgerald of 13 Frances St., Tillsonburg, became the bride of Cecil Grant Ward of 83 Broadway St., Tillsonburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Ward of 14 Valley St., Charlottetown, P.E.I.

Rev. Father J. H. O'Neill officiated. White mums and red roses decorated the altar. Soloist Jose Patten sang "Ave Maria" and "On This Day," accompanied by Mrs. C. Moon at the organ.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a white floor length gown of organza and taffeta, fashioned with a Sweetheart neckline and long sleeves of lace. She wore a necklace of pearls and a pill-box headdress trimmed with sequins and seed pearls that held her fingertip veil in place. She carried a white prayer book crested with two pink orchids with white streamers knotted with pink rosebuds.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Joan Austin of Tillsonburg, sister of the bride. Bridesmaids were Miss Doreen Kirkland of St. Thomas, friend of the bride; Mrs. Dolores Johnson of Moultrie, Georgia, sister of the bride; and Miss Joan Sharpe of Tillsonburg, friend of the bride.

Bridal attendants were attired in turquoise street-length creations of lace, taffeta and organza, sheath style, worn with pill-box headdresses that matched their gowns, and white gloves. They carried bouquets of white mums. Best man was Norman Nunn of Tillsonburg, friend of the groom. Joe Cocchetto, John Pitlao and Bruce Austin ushered. They were attired in white dinner jackets, with black tuxedo pants and cummerbunds.

Fifty guests were present at the wedding breakfast at Livingston Restaurant. The bride's table was offset with a three-tier wedding cake, flanked by red roses and white mums. Eighty were present for the reception in the evening.

The bride's mother received guests in a powder blue street-length dress of lace, fashioned with a jacket, royal blue accessories and corsage of white carnations.

The bride's gift to the groom was luggage; to her attendants, sterling silver bracelets. The groom's gift to the bride was a crystal and black rosary; to his attendants, cuff links.

For travelling, the bride changed into a grey flannel suit, worn with royal blue accessories and corsage of orchids.

Following their return from a wedding trip to points in Northern and Eastern Ontario, Mr. and Mrs. Ward are residing at 9 Wolf St., Tillsonburg.

Telegrams were received by the couple from the groom's parents; Mr. and Mrs. Ivo Cudmore, aunt and uncle of the groom, Charlottetown; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph, Clough, Summerside, P.E.I.

ELLEN'S DIARY

Years' Pace Leaves Youth Not Much Time For Walking

"Times have changed, Ellen" James commented this evening looking up from his reading at the sound of a machine purring up the drive way. "In our day potato-pickers weren't picked up and returned in fine cars."

We chuckled. "We walked to and from our work—or caught the odd ride on a passing farm-wagon or cart. Br-r-r! Fairly cool some mornings and evenings were too."

"It's better, I guess, as things are nowadays," he continued "though, well, I've been just reading here in this old magazine I happened to pick up, it's a pity children aren't encouraged to walk more. They miss so much by being driven here and there by machine. And, when you think of it, isn't it true?"

"But it seems as though the pace of these years leaves little time for walkings—it's always 'almost time' for school or some other appointment so it's 'Make haste and ride'."

"This says—but here, Ellen" said "read it for yourself." And there in the lamplight by the fire with a cool but pleasant night at the windows we read what we now write word for word: "How Much Our Children Miss" by Jesse Stuart, an American writer.
