RED CHINA MAKES NEW BID FOR UN

In Pact With East Germany

BERLIN, (AP)—Red China and Communist East Germany have joined in demanding United Nations membership for the Peiping regime, delivery of Formosa to the Communists and an international conference on Korea, the official East German news agency ADN reported Monday.

The agency gave the first details of the treaty signed Sunday in Peiping by Premiers Chou En-lai and Otto Grotewohl.

The pact binds the two Communist governments to consult on all important international questions, with "particular attention to safe-guarding the inviolability of their territories."

In a subsidiary clause, they agreed to promote culture and science mutually and to expand trade.

A joint statement published with the treaty text assailed the Western "policy of strength" as bankrupt, and particularly attacked American support of Chiang Kai-shek's Formosa Island stronghold.

CONSIDER GERMANY

The East German premier said in a separate statement: "We are firmly convinced that the United States will not much longer be able to use the Chiang Kai-shek clique as a puppet and to dispute the Chinese People's Republic's place in the United Nations to which it is entitled. The return of Formosa to the Chinese motherland and the end of colonialism in all Asia are an indispensable necessity."

The joint statement contained what amounted to a suggestion that East Germany also be considered for UN membership, and possibly West Germany, as a separate state.

"To promote international peace and international co-operation, membership in the United Nations must be universal. All states conforming to the conditions laid down in the United Nations charter must be admitted as member states," it said.

Grotewohl also added that he would welcome establishment of normal relations between Red China and the West German government of Chancellor Konrad Adenauer. Adenauer does not recognize the Grotewohl regime and has threatened to break off relations with any nation which does so.

AIM FOR PRESTIGE

For Korea, the two leaders proposed: "Both sides consider it necessary that for the peaceful solution of the Korean question, an international conference of all states interested be called as soon as possible."

The Chinese-German treaty was the climax of Grotewohl's tour of the Far East. He left for Outer Mongolia after the signing. The trip was viewed in Western diplomatic quarters as conceived by the Communist bloc to build up the East German prestige within the Soviet concept of "two Germanys" for the indefinite future.

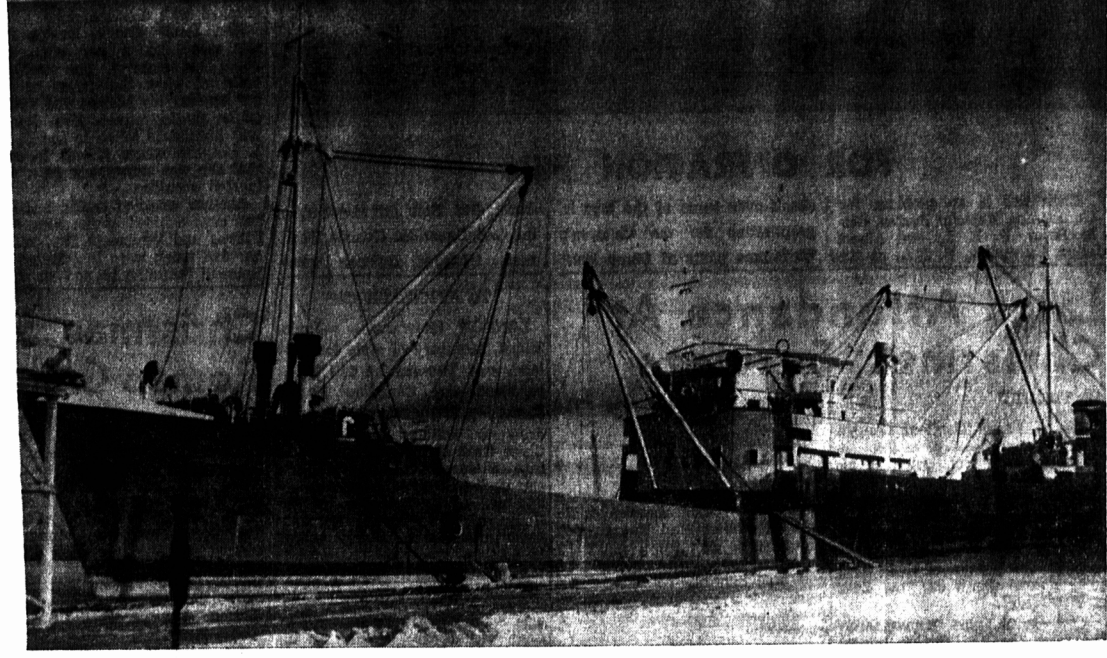

The pact is to be valid "until the re-establishment of the unity of Germany as a peace-loving and democratic state."

Snowdrifts Block Roads But Trains, Planes On Schedule

Citizens throughout the Province began yesterday to dig themselves out from a snow storm which started with a light fall on Saturday night and continued through Christmas Day. With the temperature well below freezing at all times, the fine dry snow was quickly whipped into drifts which in some instances were reported to be eleven feet deep.

Government snow plows kept up a continuous patrol during Christmas night to get visiting holiday travelers back to their homes and yesterday concentrated their efforts on the main highways. The road from St. Peters to Souris was said to be unopened at a late hour last night. The strong ground drift of 25-30 miles per hour which persisted throughout the day made the efforts of the plows rather fruitless. Last night a weary group of plow operators discontinued patrols to catch up on some well earned sleep before starting out this morning on regular flight schedules throughout yesterday.

City snowplows yesterday maintained an all day patrol. Payloads were busy removing excess snow from the intersections and from the business section of the City. Some respite from the storm is promised today. With the snowfall and the wind diminishing conditions should be restored to normal within the next 24 hours.

SPECULATION NOW by the agents and many others regarding the fertilizer boat Mexico (pictured above), is how soon it will be able to clear the harbour. The vessel which has been unloaded for several days is still ship left at the waterfront. Her departure depends on how soon the CGS Saurel becomes available to escort her through the ice. Western Floods Receding After Causing 43 Deaths

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Floods which took at least 43 lives and did more than $150,000,000 in damage in California, Oregon and Nevada were draining off into the Pacific Sunday, leaving behind a tremendous cleanup and rebuilding job.

There were still several danger areas in California and new flooding was reported in parts of southwestern Oregon but on a lesser scale than the devastating onslaught of the last week. Rain fell on the flooded areas of northern and central California for the ninth straight day but this was a normal winter rain, nothing like the torrents that sent rivers on a rampage last week. Communications were still bad and reports of missing persons remained to be checked out, indicating that the death toll might rise. Authorities fear more bodies will be found in Yuba City, a community of 8,000 about 120 miles north-east of San Francisco, where the population had only 45 minutes to move out after a dike broke Friday night.

$200,000 Fire In Vermont

BURLINGTON, Vt. (AP)—A three-alarm fire caused an estimated $200,000 damage Monday destroying 40 boats, a warehouse and a lumber yard.

Firemen from four companies fought the blaze more than 15 hours after the fire started. Damage was estimated by Lewis P. Evans Jr., president of the Lake Champlain Transportation Co. which owns the warehouse and operates ferries across the lake. Several surrounding buildings were damaged and nearby Rutland Railroad ties burned.

Strenuous Work For Saurel Clearing Icebound Harbour

The battle between ships and ice which has been going on in the Charlottetown harbour for a greater part of last week continued during the weekend, with the ships gradually winning out. The CGS Saurel, which had started out Friday with the potato boat Seagull in convoy, finally cleared the ship into open water off Cape Bear at 4:00 p.m. Saturday. She then returned to Charlottetown, arriving at 4:30 Christmas morning. Sunday was spent in taking on stores and giving the crew a chance to spend Christmas with their families.

Then it was back to the grind again Monday morning. This time it was to escort the Irving Company tanker through the ice, the vessels leaving at 7:45 a.m. At 11:15 a.m. the Saurel reported they were abreast of St. Peter's Island, and at 4:00 p.m. yesterday afternoon the ships were reported ten miles east of Point Prim. At that time both ships had been stopped for an hour and forty-five minutes while the Seekonk cleared her main engine intakes of sludge ice.

The large Irving Company tanker "Irvingbrook" which had been hoisted to St. Peter's Island, started to work herself free late Friday night and after clearing the ice off Cape Bear Saturday, proceeded to Sydney, N.S.

U. S. Holiday Death Toll Country's Worst

CHICAGO, (AP)—The worst holiday traffic toll in United States history appeared to be a foregone conclusion Monday night as highway deaths for the Christmas weekend mounted at an unparalleled rate. By 8:30 p.m. EST a total of 530 traffic deaths had been reported. In addition, 55 persons died in fires and 83 in all other types of accidents, making the over-all holiday accident figure 668.

Less Talk, Faster Work Expected In Parliament

OTTAWA (CP)—Members of the Commons are expected to talk less and work quicker at the new session of Parliament opening Jan. 10. All parties hope this will be the result of the introduction of new rules of procedure adopted unanimously last session. The rules were revised to economize on words and time and reduce the lengthy sessions of recent years.

The House's handling of business by eliminating many archaic, time-consuming procedures dating as far back as Confederation. The new rules also are expected to take away from some of the debates without impairing the right of any member to speak.

$50,000 Netted By Montreal Thieves

MONTREAL (CP)—Police said Monday three Christmas weekend break-ins and a holdup netted thieves nearly $50,000. About $200 in cash and $42,000 in cheques were stolen from a Montreal store. The Montreal Honeywell Regulator Company. Thieves also broke into the home of Mrs. Albin Turner, and took $2,000 worth of jewelry and electrical appliances after helping themselves to a meal.

The debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne will be limited to 10 sitting days and the budget debate to eight. Last session the throne speech debate lasted 16 days and the budget debate 13.

During the throne speech debate regular afternoon and evening sitting will be supplemented by morning meetings. This will permit a maximum number of members to take part in this debate in which any subject may be discussed.

VETERAN OBSERVER NOTES UNUSUAL ICE CONDITIONS
"Never in my experience have I seen so much ice in the Straits in December as this year," Capt. Angus Brown, veteran ice observer of the Department of Transport, said on Saturday. Questioned as to the cause of such condition, Capt. Brown said it was undoubtedly due to a combination of circumstances in which heavy snow mixed rapidly with the salt water ice, and with the high winds prevailing, along with the continued cold weather, created an unusual situation. "In a very brief day or two, the ice so formed became rafted and rapidly spread out into the Straits, where considerable open water is usually found until much later in the season," Capt. Brown said.
