The tight wire dancing of Evers and Dolores again proved one of the high spots of the entertainment. Outstanding feats are performed by each of these performers including the dancing on one foot by Evers, and the toe routine of his charming partner.

Eccentric dancing and comedy by the three Londons is an excellent example of team work and timing. Performing together for eighteen years, these three young people have their deadpan characters and comedy dancing worked out to a perfection that brought cries for more from the large audience.

Report Withdrawal Of Marines After Advance

(The following story on a withdrawal by U. S. Marines on the south end of the Korean war front was held in Tokyo for security reasons at the army's request. Similar ones from other correspondents also were held up.)

(When Marines were identified in action in a story today on an offensive at Changnyong, the AP—and presumably other services—requested clearance for the original story.)

(The headquarters press information officer then said "everything is released.")

WITH U. S. MARINES IN KOREA, Aug. 13—(Delayed for security reasons)—(AP)—Three and angry American marines Sunday pulled back 27 miles to new positions on the southwest Korean front.

(Presumably these are the same forces which took part Thursday, Aug. 17, in the Changnyong offensive.)

The Marines gave up virtually every inch of ground they had gained during a four-day attack. It was another shortening of the line to thicken up what few forces the United States has in Korea.

Long columns of dusty Marines out positions which were only three miles from Sachon. They had been expected to take Chingju shortly.

The order to withdraw came from the high command after the best advances recorded to date in Korea—and with small losses to themselves.

The Marines phase of the southern offensive now is virtually nullified insofar as ground gained is concerned. Army officers say, however, that Marines mauled the 6th North Korean Division, one of the enemy's crack units, and named enemy armor. To that extent, it was success.

(Spokesman for Gen. MacArthur's headquarters in Tokyo repeatedly described the purpose of the southern advance as two-fold—to seize good defensive positions on the high ground east of Chingju and throw out what is believed to be a North Korean attack in the southern sector. Those objectives were believed attained.)

Jury Finds Death Purely Accidental

A Coroner's jury at Montague yesterday found "the cause of his death from injuries caused by his automobile leaving the road on the curve at the County line on the Georgetown Road between King's County and Queen's County, causing said automobile to leave the road and we believe his death to be purely accidental."

The inquest which was held yesterday morning in the R. C. M. P. office at Montague was presided over by the Coroner, Dr. G. S. A. Inman, Crown Prosecutor was Mr. S. S. Hession. Members of the jury were: Douglas MacLaren, the foreman, A. F. Campbell, Cecil Beck, Arnold Vandertine, Leon Johnston, Douglas Coffin, and Fred MacKenzie.

Mr. Jay, a commercial traveller from Charlottetown, died late Tuesday night in the King's County Memorial Hospital from injuries received earlier in the day in an accident on the Charlottetown-Montague highway at Summerville.

Three witnesses were heard at the inquest. The evidence follows: Cpl. Doug George testified that on Tuesday afternoon, Aug. 15 at 3:15 he received information of accident at Summerville, King's County, P. E. I. He and Dr. Inman went to scene and found the truck, which jury viewed Wednesday morning, lying in ditch on right side of Charlottetown and Georgetown road at Summerville, Car., which was also witnessed by jury, was lying across ditch on four wheels. Mr. Inman, after examining Dr. Inman, and taken to the King's County Hospital by truckman from Annandale.

Cpl. George took measurements from point where tracks led into ditch to where car stopped—219 ft. From where obstruction was located to car—107 ft. From car to where it turned over 100 ft. Pavement at turn—21 ft. 4 inches. Shoulder to shoulder—31 ft. 4 inches. Curb unobstructed and not sharp. All four tires intact. Steering gear appeared in good condition.

Dr. Inman testified that on Tuesday, Aug. 15, received call from Charles Walker, Summerville, saying that he saw an automobile accident near his home in Summerville, King's County, and that a man was lying in ditch and not knowing whether man was alive or dead. With Cpl. George, Montague, he proceeded to scene of accident. Man was lying in ditch face up, beside car just out from door on driver's side. He was unconscious, breathing heavily, position not unnatural, there being no obvious necessity for emergency treatment at scene, he was placed on stretcher and brought by truck to the King's County Hospital. Examination in hospital showed heavy contusion on right side of head, superficial cuts on right side of face, multiple fractures of ribs on right side of chest. Evidence of internal hemorrhage and rupture of lung. No gross evidence of fracture of skull, spine or limbs. Patient was treated for shock and internal hemorrhage. Condition improved somewhat, died at 11:30 p.m. at Summerville, retaining consciousness. It was his opinion that death was due to shock and internal hemorrhage.

Charles Walker was standing on basement forms at his home at Albany Plains, on county line, and saw accident in Summerville in King's County. Time was about 2:50 Tuesday, Aug. 15. He was standing about 50 or 60 yards from where car went off road, and about 25 yards from where car stopped. Car stopped facing across pavement on north side of road. Car was proceeding towards Charlottetown. Curb was about 60 yards from his house. The car left the pavement and followed drain for a distance until it struck a stick in the ditch. Car swung around facing south, and turned over. He thought it rolled over four times by the marks on the side of the road. Car landed on wheels. There were no other cars in sight at the time, and no obstacles.

He ran to the car to see if anyone there and found man lying in ditch. He saw the man's right angles to car. Ran to house to call Dr. Inman, telling him to bring the R.C.M.P. He saw car coming towards him but was unable to determine speed as car was facing him. The car remained upright until it struck the obstruction.

Princess Ordered To Rest 10 Days

LONDON, Aug. 16 (AP)—Princess Elizabeth received doctor's orders today to spend from 10 days to two weeks in bed, regaining strength after giving birth to a daughter Tuesday.

Both Princess Elizabeth and her six-pounged baby princess were reported to be in satisfactory progress.

Princess Elizabeth, propped by pillows, sat up in bed for while she chatted with her husband, Prince Philip, had a few cheery words with her 21-month-old son, Prince Charles, and a short talk with the Queen.

During the chat this morning, Prince Philip and Princess Elizabeth were reported to have decided names for the new baby.

Traditional royal names such as Mary, Victoria, Elizabeth and Anne are believed on the list, but court circles said no christening arrangements have been made yet.

MOSCOW, Aug. 16 (AP)—The Russian press today made no mention of the birth of Princess Elizabeth's daughter.

Shorthorn Breeders Ass'n Holds Banquet

The Prince Edward Island Shorthorn Breeders Association held the first banquet in the Association's history at Sandy's Restaurant, Marshfield last night following the judging of the Shorthorns here yesterday.

President John DuPasquier of St. Peter's Bay presided over the gathering of breeders, their wives and families, and guests who included Hon. C. C. Baker, Minister of Agriculture, Mr. B. B. Wornica of Barrie, Ontario, who judged the Shorthorns, Mr. White from Guelph, Ont., Secretary of the Dominion Shorthorn Association, the Sanderson Brothers of Herford fame and members of the press.

Highlight of the banquet was the presentation of trays to the top winners in yesterday's competitions. Mr. White entertained the group with films of the Shorthorns, he viewed in Scotland recently.

Hon. C. C. Baker congratulated all breeders who exhibited this year. He complimented the winners and encouraged those who had no winners to continue their work. He stated that the association was doing a fine job.

Mr. Wornica told the group that he saw some very good cattle exhibited during the day. He advised the breeders to purchase some bulls and told them to improve their exhibits each year.

Mr. White stated that in order for a farmer to be successful in the purebred Shorthorn business he must spend a major portion of his time trying to improve his cattle.

He did not think that the purebred breeders throughout the Dominion spent enough time considering the marketing situation. Every breeder should study the condition in which beef is going over the counter to the consumer, he stated. The time is coming shortly, he added, when the Canadian buyer will have to purchase more meat to do away with the surplus.

He suggested that the breeders keep to either the Scotch or the Dutch Purpose type of Shorthorns and also that these classes should be shown at different times during an exhibition. He emphasized the importance of the small breeder, stating that about three quarters of the finest purebreds in the country came from small herds.

Study Teacher Training In N. S.

HALIFAX, Aug. 16 (CP)—A special committee on teacher training in Nova Scotia is considering four possibilities for such training. Dr. C. E. Phillips, chairman, said today.

The four possibilities are: retention of a degree-granting teachers' college; retention of the present Normal College; training teachers in existing universities; and requiring two year's university and two year's normal.

Mr. Phillips made this announcement at closing sessions of a two-day committee meeting here.

The question of combining the Normal College with the Nova Scotia Agricultural College was also discussed.

G. I. Smith, member of the Legislature house committee, said it was necessary for teachers to be given a better idea of rural life in order to rid people of the idea that such life is not desirable.

Estimates Import Controls Bring New Business

OTTAWA, Aug. 16 (CP)—A trade official estimated today that Canada's import controls have led to establishment of $1,600,000,000 worth of new business in Canada.

The controls, which operation since 1948 and now in the process of gradual elimination, have been instrumental in development of more than 500 manufacturing projects in this country, he said.

Though designed for the protection of Canada's dollar reserves, the controls nevertheless led to the construction of a wide variety of new businesses, from production of beer cans in Montreal to rear axle assemblies in St. Catharines, Ont.

Most of the new business has been attracted to the two Central Provinces of Ontario and Quebec, but the official said the controls spurred development in other Provinces as well.

They have led to increased production of gas, power and transportation projects in the lower British Columbia mainland, creation of a new salad and vegetable cooking oil industry in Manitoba and construction of new plants for the recovery of steel scrap in Nova Scotia.

Much of the new capital to build the industries, said the official, was tapped from American sources—business men who otherwise would not have considered investing in Canada.

Thus, United States firms have established plants for worsted weaving in Quebec, surgical dressings in Ontario and carbon dioxide production in British Columbia.

Firms from the United Kingdom and France have entered the picture, too, erecting plants for the production of toys and furniture.

The Government's policy, it was indicated, is to eliminate all the remaining controls as Canada's dollar reserves grow stronger.

Begin Salvage Of Cruise Ship

TADOUSSAC, Que., Aug. 16 (CP)—Canada Steamship Lines today began salvage operations on the burned St. Lawrence cruise ship Quebec and announced that with recovery of three bodies everybody aboard the vessel has been accounted for.

The dead: Mr. and Mrs. Norman Shapiro of the town of Mount Royal, Que., and their six-year-old son, Leonard.

Today's statement said: "Another thorough search of all parts of the S. S. Quebec, made at Tadoussac this morning, and a complete check of the passenger and crew lists, indicate that everybody aboard the vessel at the time of the fire has been accounted for."

The Quebec, tied up at the wharf, and other perishable cargoes were only a charred and twisted hull as two tugboats and their crews went to work on her. Fire swept the 7,000-ton ship Monday evening.

Company officials said they hoped to start towing the hull to Lunenburg, Que., tomorrow.

Confusion over which of the Shapiro boys was saved was straightened out when garageman Andy Levinson of Montreal, who knew the family, said he drove young Bernard from Murray Bay, 40 miles up-river from Tadoussac, to Montreal yesterday. Previously the C. S. L. had announced that Bernard was the victim.

Freight Embargo On Perishables And Live Stock

MONTREAL, Aug. 16—An embargo on all livestock, poultry and other perishable cargoes by railway freight and express services in Canada will go into effect at 11.59 a.m. Thursday, Aug. 17th. Notice to this effect was issued today by the Railway Association of Canada to all freight and express offices of the railways threatened by a work stoppage which would suspend rail operations at 6 a.m. August 22nd.

The job of selling Canada's wheat grows bigger by the day.

On top of a forecast of a bumper $44,000,000-bushel crop, experts today indicated that Canada will have a carry-over of more than 100,000,000 bushels from the 1946 harvest.

If the Bureau of Statistics confirms this in tomorrow's seasonal wheat report, it would mean a total of 64,000,000 bushels available for sale or storage.

That would be a lot of wheat. It would compare with a harvest and carry-over of 47,000,000 bushels last year and 46,000,000 bushels in 1948.

If all the wheat were sold, it could mean a take of more than $1,300,000,000 at current market prices. Chances are that Canada will not be able to sell more than 75 per cent of that amount.

Here's why: in times of emergency such as the one threatening the world, governments consider it wise always to have a little extra wheat on hand—just in case.

Added to that is the probability that Canada's flour millers and other domestic wheat buyers won't need more than 150,000,000 bushels out of the current crop—a little more than the approximate 145,000,000 bushels purchased last year, but not much more.

Another 212,000,000 bushels may be sold under the terms of the international wheat agreement, and still another 50,000,000 or 100,000,000 bushels outside the agreement.
