

Cardinal Manning on "the Influence of Women."

Cardinal Manning addressed an audience of about four thousand people recently in Liverpool on the influence of women. Of all the powers upon earth, he said, there was in the hands of mothers and daughters a power which could control the greatest strength of man, and this was the power of good example, of a good life, of a true Christian love, the persuasion of their patience in waiting until the faults of those whom they tried to win to better ways should be wiped out. Men might reason and wrangle and might convince one another, but they had not the power of persuasion that a mother or sister or daughter possessed over a father or brother. They sometimes could do what priests could not. The good Bishop of Ferns, who had gone to his rest, had told them that he had often seen women kneeling beside men and taking the pledge along with them for the purpose of giving them courage and strength to do that which many of them were so cowardly that they dare not promise to do. Many a man had been brought to heaven and the sacrament and a holy death by the influence of wife or mother or sister. It was most certain that the character of man was formed for life by the mother, and he had rarely known a good mother who had a bad daughter or a bad son. Speaking of drunkenness he described it as the sin of the Christian world, saying that among the Africans and the people of the East drunkenness only came in when we brought it. During all the time he spent abroad, in France or Italy or Rome, he never saw a drunken woman, though here and there a drunken man, but very few. When Frenchmen and Italians came over to England they often for the first time, saw men and women drunk in the streets. Toward the conclusion of his remarks he condemned the employment of married women outside their own household, saying that when a woman married she entered into a solemn contract for life that she would give her time to her husband, her home and her children, and if she did not do so, it destroyed the whole domestic life.

The new railroad bridge at Lewiston, over the Niagara River, is to be one of the finest of the kind in the world. It will be a steel-truss structure of one span with both railroad and highway track. The river at the point to be crossed is 607 feet wide. The new company has $1,000,000, and the work will be begun immediately.

The first railroad line into the great wheat region stretching north from Dakota into Canada has just been staked and is ready for grading. It starts from Castleton, Dakota, runs to the British line and beyond into a region which was supposed five years ago to be closed to all farming, but from which the report now is that the further north you go the better the wheat and the soil.

Boschees German Syrup

can now be purchased right at home, it is the most successful preparation ever introduced to our people. It works like a charm in all cases of Consumption, Pneumonia, Hemorrhages, Asthma, severe Coughs, Croup and all other Throat and Lung Diseases. No person has ever used this medicine without getting immediate relief, yet there are a great many poor, suffering, skeptical persons going about our streets with a suspicious cough, and the voice of consumption coming from their lungs, that will not try it. If you die, it is your own fault, as you can go to your druggist and get a sample bottle and try it; three doses will relieve any case. Regular size only 75 cts.

ST. MARGARET'S HALL, HALIFAX, N. S.

SEMINARY FOR YOUNG LADIES.

VISITOR: The Lord Bishop of Nova Scotia. PRINCIPAL: The Rev. John Padfield.

THIS SCHOOL offers, at very moderate cost, the advantages of a comfortable and pleasant home together with a thorough and refined education.

The course of instruction is the same as that of the best Schools in England and is founded upon the University Examinations for Women. Eight young ladies from this School passed the Local Examination of the University of King's College in June last. This is the only School in Canada that has passed pupils at a University Examination.

The number of pupils is limited, rendering the School select, and while it possesses all the educational advantages of a large public school, each pupil is enabled to receive that individual care and oversight which is so important, and which cannot be given in a large establishment.

Mr. and Mrs. Padfield are assisted by a staff of four resident governesses, besides visiting masters.

Parisienne French is taught conversationally. There are two resident French Governesses.

References given to parents of pupils. For further particulars address the Principal. Sept. 19, 1878.

CATARRH.

Constitutional Catarrh Remedy CURES CATARRH.

Hear what a Reverend Gentleman says of the Constitutional Remedy.

T. J. B. HARDING, Esq., Brockville, Ont.—DEAR SIR—It is now two years since your "Constitutional Catarrh Remedy" was introduced to me. I have waited this long to see if the cure would remain permanent before doing this, my duty, to you, as at first the happy effects seemed to me to be "too good to be true."

I was afflicted in my head for years before I suspected it to be Catarrh. In reading in your Circular I saw my case described in many particulars. The inward "drop" from the head had become very disagreeable, and a choking sensation often preventing me from lying long. I would feel like smothering and be compelled to sit up in the bed. My health and spirits were seriously affected. When your agent came to Walkertown in August, 1876, I secured three bottles. Before I had used a quarter of the contents of one bottle I found decided relief, and when I had used two bottles and a third, I quit taking it, feeling quite cured of that ailment, and have not used any since until of late I have taken some for a cold in my head.

A sense of duty to sufferers from that loathsome disease, Catarrh, prompts me to send you this Certificate, unfeignedly, with leave to make what use of it you may see proper. Yours truly, W. FINDALL, Methodist Minister. Port Elgin, Ont., Aug. 24, 1878.

Ask for Littlefield's Constitutional Catarrh Remedy and take no other.
