23-Year-Old Man Abandons Family, Poses As Woman

MONTREAL (CP)—A 23-year-old man who fooled his landlord and hospital officials by masquerading in women's clothes was ordered held for a mental examination when he appeared in court Thursday charged with failing to support his wife and child.

Andre Gagnon was brought to police headquarters in feminine attire, claiming he was gradually changing into a woman. He even fooled Det.-Lieut. William Phillips, head of the missing persons bureau.

"If I hadn't known I would never have guessed that Gagnon was not a woman," Phillips said. Gagnon told police of the masquerade which began April 12. On that date he said he rented an apartment for "my sister from Quebec." Gagnon then went home, put on a dress and returned to the apartment.

He baffled the janitor of the apartment, who said he never doubted that Gagnon was a woman.

Gagnon said he also got a job as a waitress in the Ste. Anne de Bellevue military hospital. He claimed he underwent a cursory medical examination but the doctor never suspected his real sex.

After Gagnon's 22-year-old wife swore out a warrant for his arrest police began a search for him.

When they tracked him down he appeared at the door as a woman.

Help For Tired Morning-Risers

NEW YORK (AP)—Do you feel tired in the morning but peppy at night. That can be one sign of a not uncommon trouble apparently caused by a lazy thyroid gland.

Dr. Bernard A. Watson of Clifton Springs, N.Y., said Tuesday.

"Taking small doses of thyroid hormone for a few weeks usually overcomes the condition, he told the New York State Medical Society meeting here. He reported on 200 patients who had this condition, a twilight zone between being normal and having a true slow-down of the thyroid gland, the so-called pacemaker gland of the body.

Most felt tired in the morning even after a good sleep, and felt best of all at night. They also had one or more other signs, such as feeling cold or becoming cold easily, brittle or scalling nails, dry skin lack on perspiration, and frequently menstrual troubles in women.

He admitted he was really Gagnon and was taken to headquarters. Judge Roland Paquette set trial for May 20.

That Adams tried to sponge a free prize-tight ticket from Schine and did accept free theatre tickets from Cohn. Adams testified he paid Cohn back for the theatre tickets and "never asked Dave Schine for a stick of gum."

4. That Adams tried to walk a $25,000 a year law partnership through Cohn. Adams said such a thing never was mentioned except in a "for amusement only" vein and he said Cohn knew this perfectly well.

The high-strung but low-voiced army lawyer did accept the truth of one allegation—that he telephoned Maj.-Gen. Kirke Lawton at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., and asked him to withdraw security risk charges against nine persons.

Adams said he did so because army department screening officials felt there wasn't enough evidence against these individuals to justify a case before a loyalty-security board.

The meat of Adams' testimony came in a three-hour afternoon session, after he had freely acknowledged going out of his way to be nice to McCarthy staff members but insisted he did nothing to hamper their probe of alleged Communist infiltration in the army.

But Adams testified, as Army Secretary Robert Stevens did before him, that they wanted the "type of hearings" McCarthy was conducting ended. Stevens has said

U. S. Army Counsel Denies He Sought To Buy Off Probe

By ED CREAGH
WASHINGTON (AP)—Army counsel John G. Adams denied under oath Thursday he ever tried to buy off a McCarthy investigation on homosexuality or subversion in the navy or air force as "bigger bait."

This is one of the more serious charges hurled at Adams by Senator Joseph McCarthy (Rep. Wis.) and his aides. Calmly, in a day of rapid-fire cross-examination, the army lawyer denied that one and also a volley of similar charges, among them:

1. That army officials gave special treatment to Pte. G. David Schine to curry favor with the McCarthy committee and halt its investigation of alleged subversive activity at Ft. Monmouth, N. J.

2. That Adams "leaked" to the press a series of charges against McCarthy aides—mainly against Roy M. Cohn—to block subpoenaing of army security-loyalty board members. Adams acknowledged, however, he discussed these charges with five reporters.

No Thrills For Russian Graduates

By TOM WHITNEY
NEW YORK (AP)—Graduation Day approaches in Russia as in other countries, but in the Soviet Union this occasion is often one of weeping as parents hope to prevent their sons and daughters from being sent to Siberia.

Each year as they complete their courses and become specialists, thousands of young men and women are sent to take up work in the less-habitable regions. Their parents don't know when they'll see them again.

A recent issue of Pravda throws light on the attempts Soviet parents make to keep their offspring from this involuntary exile.

Pravda told about a letter sent by a scientific research worker in the Moscow planetarium to a highly placed friend in the Moscow prosecutor's office. The scientist, Konstantin Shistovskiy, asked Peter Petrov, his friend, to try to arrange that Shistovskiy's daughter Marina, about to finish the course at the Moscow Juridical Institute, could get work permit-ing her to stay in Moscow. In this particular case, Pravda reported, the person asked refused the assistance.

But, said the paper, its investigation revealed that many graduates of the Institute had received help in avoiding what are called duties to the state. Ten graduates last year, the paper said, had succeeded in staying in Moscow against the rules.

The government considers that graduates who have benefited during their education from state scholarships—this means the overwhelming majority of students in higher educational institutions—lack the right to decide themselves where they will work.

University graduates before completing their courses are called before a committee which decides where they will work. The student has no right to appeal from this decision.

Once he accepts his assignment, say, in some Far East village, he is stuck there. Soviet laws provide criminal penalties for those who leave their jobs without permission.

The question of students attempting to avoid the obligation to go wherever they will work is a perpetual one in the Soviet Union. Newspapers write about it every year and every year some parents and students find their way around the stiff laws.
