

PC's In Atlantic Region Release Election Manifesto

HALIFAX (CP)—A Progressive Conservative manifesto released here Monday pledged the party's Atlantic representation to continue pressing for improvements in transportation facilities and attainment of "fair and just freight rates."

It was a reiteration and expansion of points and resolutions outlined in a manifesto produced at the first Progressive Conservative Atlantic conference in Moncton last May.

The policy report Monday was the result of a weekend confer-

Pearson Promises 90 Per Cent T.C.H. Costs To Nfld.

By HAROLD MORRISON
Canadian Press Staff Writer
ST. JOHN'S, Nfld. (CP) — Lester B. Pearson Monday night pledged that a Liberal government would pay 90 per cent of a Trans-Canada Highway in Newfoundland.

He said also that as prime minister he would extend federal benefits so that fishermen may obtain boats and gear at low cost.

Federal deficiency payments also would be continued for fishermen who cannot obtain fair returns for their production.

Mr. Pearson said Prime Minister Diefenbaker maintained the Liberals did nothing for Newfoundland.

"This is a travesty of the truth,"

Plant Disease Expert Retires

OTTAWA (CP) — The man who for years helped farmers fight diseases that attacked their apples, pears and potatoes, has retired.

The agriculture department said Monday that plant pathologist H. N. Racicot, 65, has left his post as head of the horticultural crop disease section of the science service branch in the federal agriculture department. He had been in the department 35 years.

A native of South Stukely, Que., Mr. Racicot has written more than 40 publications delving into plant diseases.

He helped solve problems of fire blight in apple and pear orchards in western Quebec and isolated the organism responsible for bacterial ring rot in potatoes. He developed control measures to fight the diseases.

Acting Tough But Has Own Satisfaction

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—"I've always lived a little bit beyond my means. Then I can have the things I enjoy and I'm forced to work hard. I don't mind work; I think it's good therapy."

This theory could set the economy on its ear, but it has worked in the case of Edward G. Robinson. For three decades he has labored steadily on the stage and screen, meanwhile enjoying what he loves best, great art.

Robinson is back in his Beverly Hills home here after a couple of years absence. He is in his third year of playing in the gruelling drama Middle of the Night. Here for a two-week run, he will close the play in San Francisco.

"Yes, it has been tough," he sighed as he relaxed in his art-laden den. "Even walking across the stage becomes an exertion because you've got to project all the time. But there is an enormous satisfaction in it, too."

What happens after the play closes?
"Perhaps another picture, he said. "I feel I should make some movie to live down some of the old ones that are playing on television. Fortunately I'm in the theatre every night, so I don't see them. But I know what they must be like."

Middle of the Night is impressing Hollywood anew that Robinson is one of the screen's fine performers. He does a moving portrayal of a love-starved middle-aged manufacturer, about as far removed from his gangster roles as he could possibly get.

"Actually, I only played gangsters in about 10 out of 30 pictures I've done, he said. "I've gotten stuck with that gangster tag because of night club imitators with their okay, you guys, I'm boss around here — see. They don't even imitate me; they imitate other imitators."

Newly married, Robinson is back in the home where he and his former wife, Gladys, once housed their fabulous art collection. The great paintings went with the divorce settlement, but Robinson was able to buy back four. He's again buying more masterpieces as fast as he is able.

Pawnee Indian Army Scout Dies

PAWNEE, Okla. (AP) — Rush Roberts, last surviving member of the Pawnee Indian scouts for the U.S. army, died Monday night. He was 99.

Roberts on Sept. 3, 1876, was the youngest of 100 Pawnee chosen as scouts for soldiers assigned the job of avenging Gen. George A. Custer's death in the battle of the Little Bighorn.

Severe Storm Strikes Naples

NAPLES (AP)—A storm struck this Southern Italian port Monday, ripping ships from their moorings.

A 15,000-ton cargo ship being fitted in the naval shipyards here was ripped from its moorings and pushed aground by stormy winds.

A smaller cargo ship, the 1,241-ton Antonio, was thrown on rocks. The 17-man crew was forced to abandon ship.

Several other ships put out to sea to avoid a similar fate.

Lobsters are everybody's business!

You might think the lobster catch is just the lobsterman's business. But it's your business too. Here is why. If the lobsterman has a good catch, the whole community feels his success . . . the grocery store, the dress shop, the appliance store, the doctor, the dentist, the insurance agent and many others, all benefit. A poor catch means poor business—hard times.

So good catches (and good business for you) next year, and in future years, depend on conservation now.

These 2 important conservation steps should be taken to protect your future—shorts should be put back; "berried" lobsters should be put back. The shorts will increase 50% in weight in a year, and bring a better price. The "berried" lobsters will have the chance to hatch their eggs and increase the lobster population. And lobsters don't migrate. They stay put. The lobsterman will find them next year right about where he left them—only bigger, heavier, more profitable.

The man who keeps just "the keepers" is thinking smart, thinking ahead. He's the man who expects to make a decent living for his family for a long, long time. Remember his living is yours, too.
