A Jolly Row.

SOCIALISTS CAPTURED BY THE LONDON POLICE. There was a serious disturbance in the vicinity of Tottenham Court Road, London, about midnight, Saturday. Four or five men ejected from the European club raised a cry that they had been swindled and assaulted in the club house, when a mob of roughs quickly collected and smashed in the windows of the building. The police soon arrived, and while some surrounded the building others proceeded to search the premises. The police failed to find the alleged gamblers, and jumping to the conclusion that they had escaped to a neighboring social Democratic club, the police hastened thither and forced open the door. While the police were searching the upper floors of this building the mob smashed in the windows below and looted the refreshment bar in the basement, taking liquors, cigars, and even umbrellas belonging to members of the club. The members, among whom were socialists of all nationalities, resented the intrusion of the police, asserting there had been no gambling in the club. A free fight with the police ensued, many members being badly injured. Fifty were arrested and arraigned this morning, when all but six were liberated after their wounds had been dressed. The men detained will be charged with hindering the police in the execution of their duty.

R. K. BRACE will give twenty-five dollars to any one that will prove to him that a drop of milk has ever been spoiled by Plaster of Paris, Putty, or any Rubber Bushing, in any Creamer that he has ever sold. He does not use Rubber Bushing, as Plaster of Paris or Putty is much safer. He does not run other Creamers down, rather tell the good points in his own. It is time enough for others to write poetry and blow about their goods when they have stood the test for four years. One of his friends has gone out of his way to make a false impression about his Creamers, at the same time they have had to get a new style every year, as they could not go to the country the second year with the same. Let others take warning as they may fare no better. The day has come when foreign markets must have "gilt edge butter," and to make it R. K. Brace has the only reliable creamer for the purpose. Don't be deceived, but get the best. They are the cheapest; he has been selling them for four years, and will give any person a new one that will show him a can that, with fair play, is worn out. He guaranteed them for one year, but now the look as though they would last ten. The reason is this, he is determined to have the best tin and give the best value to his customers.
