Frozen Food Vending Is Being Introduced

VANCOUVER (C)—Now its frozen food from a vending machines right in your apartment block—and on credit too.

A Vancouver firm has signed a $50,000,000 franchise for installation of a new Canadian-made frozen food vending machine in apartment buildings in British Columbia and northwest U.S. states.

Other will be going in at Calgary and Edmonton said Fred Wise, president of Creditmatic International Vending Corporation Ltd. of Toronto, which holds world patents on the vending freezer.

He told interviewers that besides North American installations, the company has licensed the manufacture of 5,000 units in West Germany for the European Common Market.

The Vancouver franchising concern, Capilano Canning Company Ltd., and its wholly-owned subsidiary, Pacific Creditmatic Incorporated, expects to install 50 of the freezers in 50 of Vancouver's largest apartment buildings in the next two weeks.

SAYS MACHINES HANDY

The machines combine convenience and credit, said Mr. Wise. They offer a selection of frozen meats, vegetables and TV dinners. Apartment tenants can operate them with a key and "credit card" — a coded plastic token instead of coins.

Customers are billed by Creditmatic at the end of the month and given a new supply of tokens. The apartment landlord receives a commission on sales from the machines in return for permitting their installation on his premises.

"Prices will be competitive with supermarkets," said Mr. Wise. He predicted total sales could touch $100,000,000 this year.

Besides the Vancouver installations, Calgary and Edmonton will get the new food freezer-vendors next week and the week after.

W.J. Bell, president of Capilano Canning, said the company will distribute the automatic food vendors in six northwestern states. He predicted installation of 3,000 machines in the Los Angeles area alone and thousands more in other major northwest cities.

Mr. Wise predicted the "store on the doorstep" freezer will become as commonplace in apartment buildings as laundry rooms.

TB Treatment Of Refugees Has Outstanding Success

By JOHN E. BIRD

OTTAWA (CP) — The Canadian medical profession and provincial tuberculosis sanatoria have had almost unbelievable success in the treatment of 225 tubercular refugees plucked from displaced persons camps in Europe.

The same high degree of accomplishment has been achieved by the federal immigration department in the integration into society of the 826 refugees involved in this humanitarian movement.

Of the 325 tubercular refugees brought to this country as one Canadian contribution to World Refugee Year, only four still are in hospital receiving treatment.

Of the total of 826 refugees involved in the movement, only 64 still require federal finance assistance, with 29 receiving only partial help.

"It's an absolutely wonderful success story of a humanitarian venture," Immigration Minister Bell said Friday.

CAME BY AIR

The 325 tubercular refugees arrived in Canada by air between December, 1959 and March, 1961, after languishing for years without proper medical attention in camps in Italy, Austria and Germany.

Most, if not all of them, had reached the point of utter despair when Canada decided to accept European refugees suffering from tuberculosis and nine provinces agreed to participate in a treatment program.

Of the four refugees still in hospital, three are in sanatoria in Quebec and one in Ontario.

Under the program, the federal government paid the cost of transportation from refugee camps in Europe. It also agreed to pay maintenance costs for one year or until the family became established.

Provincial governments all except Newfoundland, made space available in their sanatoria and hospitals and provided free medical and hospital care.

Redble

Opening lead — seven of diamonds.

Players who bid psychics experience results not enjoyed by ordinary mortals. Here is a strange hand played in the Masters Individual in 1955 where a psychic opening bid ran into a semi-psychic double. As usual, when this situation arises, there was a violent reaction.

South was a well-known expert whose name I forget. West was Edgar Kaplan. North was a well-known expert whose name South is trying to forget. East was Ruth Sherman.

Kaplan started the ball rolling with a diamond. North doubled, presumably to head off a game he thought the opponents might have in view of South's initial pass. Miss Sherman decided to listen to find out what was going on, rather than redouble to identify her powerhouse.

South stretched a point or two to jump to two notrump, compounding partner's sin, and then redoubled when East doubled.

At this point, Kaplan had plenty to think about. He knew he lacked the values for the opening bid he had made, but he didn't know whether partner knew it.

Miss Sherman's double might have been based on the assumption that Kaplan had a valid opening bid, in which case disastrous consequences could follow if he passed the redouble. A three diamond bid didn't look especially attractive with his hand but neither did the pass.

However, upon thinking it over, Kaplan decided to pass. He concluded that Miss Sherman already knew he had bid a psychic and had doubled two notrump in the face of it. This meant that she thought her hand was big enough to beat the opponents single-handed.

The key was East's failure to redouble on the first round. Apparently, Miss Sherman's hand was so much above the 10 points required for a redouble that she suspected a psychic. She couldn't have just 8 or 9 points; other wise the opponents would not have stopped at two notrump.

So Kaplan passed and the declarer went down four — 2,200 points!

Halifax Mayor Has Tax Plan To Aid Industry

HALIFAX (CP) — Mayor J.E. Lloyd has suggested an improved municipal tax system for Halifax that he believes will further attract industry and encourage new industry in the city.

The suggestions are contained in a new city charter bill that will be presented to the Nova Scotia legislature this week.

Among recommendations to the provincial legislature are single general tax rates that will be fixed annually by city council. It would be used to calculate:

1. Real property tax payable by owners of non-residential real property at the general tax rate on 100 per cent of the assessed valuation;

2. The real property tax payable by the owners of residential real property at the general tax rate on a minimum of 45 per cent of the assessed valuation for the year 1964 with the minimum percentage increasing one puer cent a year for an initial period of 10 years.

3. The business tax payable by the occupier of real property for business purposes at the general tax rate of 50 per cent of the assessed valuation terminating at the end of the 1965 fiscal year.

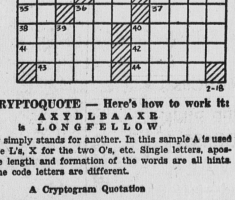
Saturday's Answer



DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X E is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.
