

The Quaker Way

Down in Pennsylvania, the home of the Quakers, there is a lady named Hester Price. She knew that the Quaker method of putting up preserves and relishes was just a little better than the usual way, so with the aid of her friends, she began preserving for export. Some of the good things that have reached us are:

- Sweet Cucumber Rings .55
Colonial Chutney .70
Yellow Tomato Jam .40
Red Currant Jelly .40
Crab Apple Jelly .40
Prune Marmalade .50
Strawberry Jam .60
Sweet Orange Jam .60
Quince Marmalade .75
Grape Jelly .75

Big generous bottles, with a flavor all their own.

Everything That's Good to Eat

THE CENTRAL GUARDIAN

THE STOCKING SALE at Paton's Limited will be continued on Monday and Tuesday of this week.

HE DRAGGED HIS BROTHER through the streets to make him ask forgiveness at his mother's knee. This is one of the outstanding incidents of the William Fox special production "Over the Hill," which will be shown at the Strand for four days commencing today at 2.30.

A GRAND ORCHESTRA will be one of the many excellent features at the Musicale, May 10th at Notre Dame Convent. Drills by the little ones and vocal and instrumental numbers of high excellence will also be enjoyable features.

THE BARBER-CROAKES CASE—in the report of the judgment delivered in the Supreme Court, May 2nd in the case of Geo. Barber vs. J. W. Croakes, it was erroneously stated that the judgment of the Court dismissed the appeal. This should have read: Judgment was given making the order for certiorari absolute and in effect restoring the judgment of Stipendiary Magistrate Wyatt.

GRAND MUSICAL Notre Dame Convent, May 10th. Tickets 50 and 35 cents.

PIE SOCIAL and dance in Fort Augustus Hall tonight (Monday) evening. Admission 25 cents. Ladies with pies free. Everybody come.

THE BLACK SHEEP of many a family has been in reality its most lovable member. This is certainly true of the black sheep in the William Fox production "Over the Hill," the starting photoplay exhibition of all human kind's faults and virtues, visualized with the living prototypes of William Carleton's imaginative genius in his remarkable "Farm Ballads," from which the film play was made. "Over the Hill" will be shown at the Strand for four days commencing today at 2.30.

A WONDERFUL programme is prepared for the Musicale to be given Wednesday evening at Notre Dame Convent. Music lovers will have a treat.

"HOW SHARPER THAN A SERPENT'S TOOTH" it is to have a thankless child? King Lear's immortal plaint, finds vivid demonstration in "Over the Hill," the William Fox production which is being shown at the Strand Theatre, beginning today at 2.30. This is the picture that has such a remarkable Broadway run—breaking all records—and which has not had a single derogatory criticism written concerning it.

MR. JOHN BURKE.—The death occurred Friday morning at the residence of John Burke, Brighton, of John Burke. The deceased had been in poor health for some time and was stricken with paralysis last fall, since then he was confined to his bed. The deceased leaves to mourn two sons John F., employed at Reddin Bros., City and Patrick in Boston; and four brothers and four sisters: Michael of this city, Patrick of New Glasgow, N. S., and Charles and Joseph in Boston. The four sisters are also located in Boston. The funeral took place from the residence of his son John F. Burke, Brighton yesterday afternoon at 2.30 to St. Dunstan's Cathedral thence to R. C. Cemetery.

THE FILM SENSATION of the day, the William Fox special production "Over the Hill," a pictorialization of two of William Carleton's celebrated poems in his "Farm Ballads," comes to The Strand for four days commencing today at 2.30. Comedy, character-drama, romance, sentiment, drama, all have their part in the big theme, which is written about the divine love of a mother whose devotion and self-sacrifice knows no limit.

Provincial Legislature

other arrangement ought to be made to let them get away sooner. MR. LEPAGE: They missed that pig of yours there last year. MR. BRODIE: You have a great snap on that pig, haven't you? But West River didn't get back from you will not have a tail on you left long enough for a pig. (Laughter.)

MR. KENNEDY: If you wish us to continue on these items we will go ahead. If you wish to adjourn and carry it over till tomorrow I will be all right, but this is no matter that is not going through as easy as the Premier imagines. Here we are asked to vote away $24,500 of the people's money.

THE CHAIRMAN: What item do you wish information on? MR. KENNEDY: I wish information on the Department of Agriculture from start to finish. In the first place this department is not necessary to the tax payers of the province at all. So far as I can understand if I say it is a pre-annulment. Here we have the Commissioner of Agriculture, $1,000 for "part salary" and the next "part" is another $1,000. We must all remember the record of this gentleman when he was looking for this position. Is it for the good of the province that he is doing this work or for any friendship that he has for the farmers? No, it's the work of this little item, $1,000 plus another $1,000, plus $450 "travelling expenses" and don't know what else. We have heard all about his little trips. If he goes away to do any kind of a job he has to be paid for it. Has he got the right to take his sporting trips at the expense of the province? If he doesn't carry a railroad pass he ought to.

HON. MR. LEA: Not outside the province. MR. KENNEDY: Well, they have got suspicious about certain classes of people on the other side and they won't allow them to travel on a pass. But whether you have to pay or don't have to pay, who was asking you to go in the first place, or what good did you do when you did go?

HON. MR. LEA: That is the question. MR. KENNEDY: There is no question about it. If you can explain that you have been of any benefit to this country in any shape or form I would like to hear it.

HON. MR. LEA: I can't convince you, I know that. MR. KENNEDY: Never mind me, I want you to convince the people.

HON. MR. LEA: The people know it. MR. KENNEDY: They are convinced that this department yourself are a proper joke and the hon. gentleman knows it as well as I do. Here is $450 for the Commissioner's travelling expenses. If that did four and a half cents' worth of good to this province, then I say let the matter go through. If it is all right to soak the poor tax payers but it is all other thing to show where you have earned one dollar of it.

After some further discussion it was decided to hold over the agricultural estimates and at 11.45 p.m. the Premier moved that the House adjourned until 10 a.m. the following day.

Funeral Yesterday of Late Mr. A. Williams

The funeral of the late Mr. Albert Williams took place from his late home, 24th Avenue, to the People's Cemetery yesterday afternoon. The Sons of England of which the late Mr. Williams was for many years a member, paraded in a body and the funeral services were held under the auspices of this society. The funeral was largely attended as the deceased was very widely known and respected throughout the city.

The pall bearers were Messrs. E. T. Higgs, Theo. Semmer, R. A. Day, W. J. Drake, Henry Worthy, and John Proud.

MARSHAL HAIG AND SIR JAMES BARRIE WERE INSTALLED

GLASGOW, May 6.—Field Marshal Haig and Sir James M. Barrie were today formally installed respectively as chancellor and rector of St. Andrew's University, with the ceremony and incidents customary to such functions. These included the bestowal of honorary degrees on Ellen Terry, Squire Bancroft, Thomas Hardy, John Galsworthy and others. Sir James M. Barrie, in delivering his inaugural address which he described as his first and last public speech, chose the inculcation of courage in youth as his theme. He read, as an example, a letter written to him by Captain Robert F. Scott, commander of the British Antarctic expedition of 1904-05, found in the explorer's tent in the Antarctic after his tragic death there.

"We are pegging out a very comfortable spot," said the missive. "Hoping this letter may be found and sent to you. I write you a word of farewell. I want you to think well of me and my end." Then, after private personal instructions, which Sir James describes as too intimate to read, Scott's letter continued:

"Good-bye, I'm not at all afraid of the end, but it is, sad to miss many a simple pleasure which I had planned for the future in our long marches. We are in a desperate state, feet frozen, etc., no fuel and a long way from food. But it would do your heart good to be in our tent, to hear our songs and our cheery conversation."

Here, Sir James said, the writing, which was made with a pencil and hitherto quite clear, was becoming difficult to decipher. As made out, it said: "We are very near the end. We did intend to finish ourselves when things proved like this, but we have decided to die naturally without."

Sir James's comment on the letter was: "I think it may uplift you all to stand for a moment by that tent, and listen to their songs and cheery conversation."

A Life for A Dollar

NEVER was human life so cheap as it can be bought today in the famine districts of Russia. $1 will save a child's life by providing food for a month. $10 will save ten children from starvation. $500 will establish a kitchen and feed 100 children until the next harvest.

Will you save a life with a dollar? Could any other dollar you have—or ever hope to have—bring such soul-satisfying returns?

Wouldn't you sleep better—feel better—be better—if you knew that a dollar of yours saved a child's life?

Only—anything you do to save the children of Russia in their desperate fight against death from starvation, must be done at once. Won't you send the dollar NOW? A child's life depends on it.
