Bus driver Henri Bruneau, 33, of Ville Lasalle, Que., when released from his crumpled seat where he was pinned by the steering wheel, was taken to hospital with fractured legs, internal injuries and shock.

Truck driver Valere Plante, 29, of Windsor, Ont., was also rescued from the wreckage of his cab and was in hospital with a severely injured leg and hand and face lacerations.

How the accident occurred was still not clear. Police said it happened on a stretch of road clear in the centre and icy on the sides. The night was clear.

After the collision there were a few wisps of smoke and then the bus burst into flames trapping most of its occupants.

Molotov Presents

Turning to the French foreign minister, Molotov declared: "M. Bidault has expressed his belief in the treaties between the western powers and West Germany. Yet in France, the resistance against these treaties is growing daily. The most eager followers of the idea of a West European army are, as is known, the American ministers. That is very easy for them, since the United States makes no move to include its troops in this community."

Officials of all three western delegations agreed later Monday night that the conference had foundered on the issue of a German settlement.

The West is adamant in refusing to commit Germany to Soviet-style "neutralization." It will not compromise on free elections as the first step in unifying this divided country.

Federal Health

But the vaccine, now under test in the U. S., held promise. Dr. Carpenter said he does not want to raise the hopes of Canadians too high, lest some unforeseen flaw make the vaccine a disappointment. Reports so far were "encouraging," but the degree of permanency was unknown.

But Canada is on the ground floor in the vaccine production. The culture's first stages are produced at Connaught, where Canada had one of the top men in the field, Dr. Andrew Rhodes, well versed in polio vaccine production methods.

TB Down, Cancer Up

The health report touched on other health matters. The death rate from tuberculosis, once man's greatest killer, fell in 1952 to a new low of 18 for every 100,000 persons. But cancer has made new inroads on the human body. In 20 years the death rate has increased to 123.6 for every 100,000 persons in 1951 from 92.4 in 1931.

The fact that cancer campaigns have not reduced the death rate is "indeed a sobering thought," the report said. Support must be given to critical evaluation of large and increasing expenditures on cancer control programs.

On the brighter side was the reduction in maternal and infant death rates. The maternal rate was reduced in 1951 to 1.1 for every 1,000 live births. The infant rate was 38 for every 1,000 live births.

Longer Life

Man's life span has increased. The average life expectancy in Canada in the 19th century was 40 years. In 1947 it had increased to 65 years for men and 70 years for women. But longer life brought increased medical problems.

Trend in life expectancy, said the report, "calls for a new emphasis in our health program." The department also reported progress in controlling influenza. It had made several tests of a vaccine, but the results were not disclosed. It said, however, that the World Health Organization had set up a chain of flu information centres which had been tested.

TB still persists as the scourge of Canada's Indians and Eskimos, but some heartening advances were made in 1952 in TB control. For Canada's natives the latest figures showed a death rate of 262 for every 100,000 in 1951—11 times greater than the population as a whole—but a marked contrast from a 579 rate in 1946.

There was no "apparent" increase in Canada's drug addict population in 1952-53 but the problem of juvenile addiction became more noticeable. However, the RCMP and other law-enforcement authorities were concentrating on persons contributing to juvenile drug addiction to such an extent, "that we have good reason to believe that the problem of addiction among juveniles will not become an important one in Canada."

Would Give

be changed to give individual members a chance to reject the extra pay.

Mr. MacInnis, absent from the chamber when Mr. Low spoke, said the increase would put MFAs among the top one per cent of income earners while thousands of Canadians go to bed hungry.

"We are not suffering," he said. He said he believes in the welfare state but it should include more than members of Parliament and senators.

Ask Commission

The discussion followed last Tuesday's debate on a preliminary resolution covering increases to both MPs and cabinet members.

The bill covering the cabinet pay increase—$10,000 for the prime minister and $5,000 for other government members—has not yet been debated.

The resolution was opposed by Progressive Conservatives, who want a royal commission to study the increase, and 14 CCF members. Some CCF members opposed any increase and others said it should not be so large.

Besting the $4,000 indemnity boost, the legislation covers the following increases: Commons Opposition leader, $5,000; Senate and Commons speakers, $3,000; deputy Commons speaker, $2,000; government leader in the Senate, $3,000; Opposition leader in the Senate, $2,000.

Prime Minister St. Laurent said the indemnity boost will mean that Canadians will not have to be well-off to run for Parliament.

The two-thirds increase was in line with other boosts since Confederation. In 1867, members received $600 a session. This was increased to $1,000 in 1873; to $1,500 in 1900; to $2,500 in 1905, and to $4,000 in 1920. The $2,000 expense allowance, tax-free for members of Commons, was introduced in 1946.

Standard Practice

Mr. St. Laurent, noting criticisms about increasing senators' indemnities, said this has been the practice since Confederation. The Senate should receive the same pay increase because it must pass all legislation. He never had heard a serious complaint that the Senate did not give proper study to all legislation.

Opposition leader Drew said he opposes the bill because the government has not shown how it arrived at the figures. There should be some increases but these should be justified by "figures and facts." He agreed with the prime minister that it was necessary to have "adequate sessional allowances" to make it attractive for the best possible men and women to seek a place in the House of Commons.

Up To Parliament

Mr. Low disagreed with Mr. St. Laurent's view that senators should get the same sessional indemnity as commons. However, he was not prepared to say there should be no increase for the Senate.

In suggesting earlier that a royal commission should be appointed, Mr. Drew said he does not want to pass off responsibility for increases on such a body. It would still be up to Parliament to assume its responsibilities and act upon the recommendations.

Mr. Low said the bill is not intended to increase the personal indemnities of parliamentary institutions. There would be strong resentment among needy Canadians.

Montague High, West Kent Split Doudleheader

Montague High School and West Kent School split a doubleheader at the Montague rink last night with the local girls blanking the visitors 3-0, and the visiting boys winning by a comfortable margin of 6-3.

The girls game drew the attention of a large number of fans who were treated to a fine exhibition of girl hockey. The locals were slightly faster than the visitors and capitalized on their goal chances. The visitors strong on the attack, were repulsed by the faster Montague School girls and soon the play had moved to the Charlottetown zone. Through continual effort the locals were able to score three times on the visitors' goal to win the game.

The boys' game was fast, rugged, but clean. The Charlottetown lads held a strong edge in speed and combination which was the major factor in their win. For the first two periods the locals withstood their pressing attack, but gave way in the last session when the visitors opened with a sustained attack to net five goals.

Lineups: West Kent Girls—Goal, Kennedy, defence, Houston, Mills, MacDonald, Owen; forwards, Smith, Burden, Stewart, Clark, Taylor.

Montague Girls—Goal, MacLean; defence, Wigington, Llewellyn, Burke, McHerron, MacLeod, MacDonald, MacEwen; forwards, Prosper, Yeo, Lanigan.

West Kent Boys—Goal, Taylor; defence, Lidstone, MacArthur; forwards, Simmonds, Crabbe, Pasher, Currie, Reid, MacKenzie, Johnston.

Montague—Goal, Stewart; defence, Watterworth, J. Sullivan, Reynolds, R. Sullivan, DesRoches, A. Stewart; forwards, Clair, Annear, Murphy, Poole, Ballem, MacLeod, Scrimgeour, Balderson.

Summary: 1—Montague, Watterworth (J. Sullivan) 2—W. K. Simmonds (Pasher)

Second period: 3—Montague, Murphy 4—Montague, Sullivan Penalties—J. Sullivan.

Third period: 5—W. K. Crabbe (Simmonds) 6—W. K. Pasher 7—W. K. Crabbe (Pasher) 8—W. K. MacKenzie 9—W. K. Crabbe.

He was justified by "figures and facts." He agreed with the prime minister that it was necessary to have "adequate sessional allowances" to make it attractive for the best possible men and women to seek a place in the House of Commons.

But that did not eliminate the belief that information was needed along with an "inquiry" to show the "digesting process" of the indemnity figures were reached.

Greater Competition

Besides, there would be greater competition for a seat in Parliament and a member would work harder to keep his seat.

In increases for senators, however, perhaps should be considered in a different way than Commons' indemnities. Senators did not have to face the cost of elections and their indemnity was "in the nature of a pension."

Mr. MacInnis said the increase could have only one result, a lessening of public confidence in Canada's parliamentary institutions. There would be strong resentment among needy Canadians.

A review of the year's work revealed that a total of $23,209.74 had been received from all sources for the expenses of the council, the largest on record, but still short of actual requirements. The council plans to make greater efforts in 1954 to secure sufficient funds to meet its growing budget.

Roosevelt May Give Up Hopes For Congress

LOS ANGELES, (AP)—James Roosevelt, urged by Democratic leaders to give up his hopes for election to Congress as a result of his wife's charges of adultery, Monday released his supporters "from any further obligation."

He left the door open, however, for a "final decision" on his candidacy later.

Roosevelt is accused of intimacies with 12 women in his wife's suit for separate maintenance.

Counsel Samuel B. Picone quoted Roosevelt as saying: "I have released all my friends and supporters from any further obligation to me in the 26th District congressional campaign. I will not present my name to the 26th District council for endorsement nor will I allow my friends to present it at the Feb. 11 meeting."

The district Democratic council meets Feb. 11 to consider endorsing a candidate.

The loophole came with a further statement by the attorney quoting Roosevelt that the candidacy filing time doesn't begin officially until April 10 and continues until April 2, "which gives me plenty of time to make a final decision."

Speaks on Mental Health Treatment

"I am confident that within a year will be able to do as much for the mentally ill in this Province at the new Centre to be built at Falconwood Hospital, as is now experienced in the most advanced treatment areas in Canada," said Dr. John C. Theriault in speaking before the Rotary Club at their weekly luncheon at the Charlottetown Hotel yesterday.

Dr. Theriault who spoke briefly by way of introduction to the sound film on loan from the Mental Health Authorities of Canada, produced at Esplanade Hospital in British Columbia, stressed the need for early treatment and the high percentage of cures obtained through modern methods. He suggested that people should take their problems to the clinic rather than worry themselves sick. "It is wrong, he said to keep the eyes shut to something the individual cannot cope with when trained and experienced medical men are available to bring the resources of science to individual cases."

The film, which was shown by Jack Ready of the National Film Board, traced the illness of a young girl as it developed in her home and social life, culminating in hospitalization and her ultimate restoration to good health through the co-operation and experience of Doctors and Nurses, aided by modern methods of treatment.

The speaker, who had been introduced by Chairman Wallace Scantlebury, was thanked by the co-chairman, Canon J. T. Ibbott, who said he was greatly impressed by the opening remarks of Dr. Theriault and the picture indicating the great work being done for the mentally ill, which he understood was practically being done here by the doctor and his colleagues. "The Nation is under a tremendous debt of gratitude to those who have met and overcome problems in this respect, to which we can look back only a few years ago."

Dr. Theriault, who is assistant director, Division of Mental Health in the Department of Health and Welfare, received his B.A. degree at St. Mary's College, Halifax, and graduated from Dalhousie Medical School in 1949. He took post-graduate studies in Psychiatry there until coming to his present position here in 1951. Last year he was certified as Psychiatrist by the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada.

Guests of Rotary were: Dr. Brian O'Meara, Dr. J. R. McCrea, Montague and Col. E. W. Johnston, Esplanade. Greetings and best wishes were extended Club President Bill Reid on the occasion of his birthday.

Answer Tabled Re Immigration

OTTAWA, (CP)—Canadians of French descent comprise nearly the same proportion of the total population here as they did at Confederation, while those of British descent have become a minority.

The information was tabled Monday in the Commons for J. Wilfrid Dufresne (PC—Quebec West), who asked if government immigration policy is to maintain the balance between the two groups which existed in 1867.

The reply did not give a direct answer, but said immigration laws, admitting those who can be absorbed easily into the Canadian economy, apply equally to immigrants from the British Isles and France.

It said that in 1871, people of British origin in Canada comprised 80.5 per cent of total population, and in 1951 were 47.9 per cent of the total. Those of French origin comprised 31.1 per cent in 1871 and 30.8 per cent in 1951.

Annual Meeting Of Ch'town Legion Auxiliary

Mrs. Thomas Corrigan was elected president of the Charlottetown Ladies Auxiliary Canadian Legion at the annual meeting held last night at the Legion home. Other officers named were: Patroness, Mrs. T. W. L. Prowse; honorary president, Mrs. A. B. Cosh; past president, Mrs. J. T. Davies; 1st vice president, Mrs. Russell Roper; 2nd vice president, Mrs. Arthur Guindon; secretary, Mrs. Tony Gallant; Treasurer, Mrs. Kin Hughes. Members of the executive committee were: Mrs. S. J. Peppin, Mrs. Roy MacGillivray, Mrs. J. S. Walker, Mrs. J. W. F. MacCallum, Mrs. Anthony Burke, Mrs. H. R. Vessey, Mrs. Pearl Van Buskirk, Mrs. Warren Houston, Mrs. Weston Whitlock, Mrs. H. J. Hobbs, Mrs. R. E. Sutherland, Miss Edna Gordon.

Mrs. J. T. Davies, the retiring president reported a most successful year of activities for 1953. A hearty vote of thanks was moved to Mrs. Davies for the splendid work she had done while in office. In reply, the retiring chief executive assured the Branch that her work was indeed a pleasure and wished the best to her successor.

In her annual report the retiring president, Mrs. T. J. Davies said: "The first outstanding highlight of the year was the presentation, by the Branch, of Life Membership pins to nine of our active members which took place during our last annual meeting. Mr. C. E. Sinclair, President, made the presentation while other members of the Branch were in attendance."

"Then on February 27th His Honour Lieutenant Governor T. W. L. Prowse unveiled a photograph of our first President, the late Mrs. Augusta Stewart. Our Patroness, Mrs. Prowse, accompanied His Honour, Major T. E. MacNutt gave the Commemorative address to a large audience of members and guests. Refreshments served by a committee brought a memorable evening to a close."

"In May the Auxiliary attended in a body the V. E. Day services at the Basilica and St. Pauls Church. In June we had, I would say, the largest attendance of any ladies organization attending the Coronation ceremonies. On Armistice Day the service at the Cathedral was well attended. Mrs. John Dickie laid a wreath representing the Mothers who had lost sons or daughters in all wars. The usual wreath was placed by your president, Mrs. T. J. Davies placing the one in memory of the late Mrs. Stewart. The veterans on parade this day were served coffee, sandwiches and doughnuts—there were so thoroughly enjoyed I would recommend we make this a practise."

"The hospitalized veterans have been exceptionally well remembered this year, the needy veteran and his family too has been given clothing and food when needed. Activities of this nature should be some of the reasons for the Auxiliary's existence. Monies raised from catering on a large scale has helped greatly to enable us to carry on this work. Other assistance was given to the European Flood Relief Fund, helping with the purchase of a hospital bed for a disabled veteran, a veterans family whose home was destroyed by fire, Red Cross, Playground Commission and the Walter Calow Fund. The Island boys in Korea were not forgotten either. "The poppy wreath campaign was carried on very successfully with a good increase in the sales and collections."

"The equipment purchased for the kitchen represents a large amount of money raised to say nothing of the voluntary work done by the members to make this possible; and too the appearance of our room is an accomplishment worth mentioning. "As your retiring president, I would like to express my appreciation to you all for the co-operation and assistance given me while in the chair which made possible the accomplishments mentioned. "To the new president and her incoming executive—the best of luck."

The reports of the various committees were read and showed that marked progress was made in the Auxiliary. The treasurer's report, submitted by Mrs. Thomas Corrigan, showed that the expenditures for the past year were almost $2,000 with a substantial bank balance. A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. A. B. Cosh who was kind enough to audit the books during the year.

Mrs. Ira Brown in reporting for the ways and means committee revealed that a great part of the income to the Auxiliary was realized by catering to various organizations. From this source alone the sum of $1,493 was raised. Mrs. Russell Roper reported for the refreshment committee. Mrs. A. E. Wilson and Mrs. W. M. Forsythe for the relief committee.

Overseas boxes were sent to several of our boys in Korea and letters of thanks from two soldiers were read. This was contained in the overseas report submitted by Mrs. H. M. Tidmarsh. Mrs. Russell Roper gave the report for the sick committee and the membership report by Mrs. D. K. MacLeod revealed that the Auxiliary now has a membership of one hundred and fifty.

Following the business part of the meeting a social hour was held during which a delicious lunch was served. The meeting closed with The Queen.
