The English Elections.

The result of the elections held up to the present time has disposed of the probability that Mr. Gladstone would be re-elected to power by a sweeping majority.

From present indications it is not possible to expect that the Grand Old Man will have a majority sufficient to continue a working Government, even with the support of both sections of the Irish party.

Perhaps one of the most surprising features in the campaign is the manner in which the Labor Party has come to the front.

The New York Herald of the 9th publishes a cable review by Archbishop Walsh of the campaign up to that date, and it bears out the opinion that Gladstone's majority if any will be too slender to secure Home Rule.

"An analysis of the English election returns reveals little to warrant any sanguine hope of an early settlement of the Irish question on the basis of home rule.

"The Grand Old Man" is committed to a plan of home rule on the lines of his declarations of 1886, and if he finds his majority too slender to carry the measure he will boldly appeal to the country, and the next general election may take place before the end of the year, and the campaign will be fought solely on the issue of home rule.

"The elections in England have been somewhat of a surprise to both Tories and Liberals. The Irish question was not as absorbing as it was expected to be, while organized labor succeeded in making the industrial and social problem the burning and cardinal question of the day.

City Council Meeting.

The regular monthly meeting of the City Council was held last evening. There were present: His Worship the Mayor, His Honor the Recorder, Councillors Crabbe, Hooper, Hogan, McKay, Beer, Hughes, Robertson and Taylor.

Amongst other routine business was a bill from A. B. Warburton for $25 for drawing up a bill abolishing the office of Water Commissioners. On this account there was some lively discussion, several councillors objecting that, as the city had a recorder, the work should have been done by him.

Councillor McKay stated that the Recorder had expressed himself as against abolishing the office of Water Commissioners, and he did not consider that it was proper for the Recorder to draw up the bill on that account.

The Recorder explained that in his official capacity he had never refused to draw up, nor had he expressed himself against the bill; but, as a private citizen, he may have done the latter.

The Mayor considered that they had established a bad precedent by contracting debts not allowed for in the estimates.

Memorials were read from William Weeks, George Morgan and M. McCullen, stating that they were only receiving one dollar per day, which was not enough. They asked the Council to raise their salary to $1.25 per day. They also presented bills for the balance of their salary at $1.25 per day. It was ordered that Weeks and Morgan be paid the required amount.

Councillor McKay gave notice that at the next meeting he would move that Mr. A. B. Warburton be paid $20 for drawing up the Water Commissioners Bill.

A Memorial from D. Small, Esq., Harbor Master, was next read, stating that the dock at Queen's Wharf, into which had fallen a quantity of ballast and stone, besides having several piles striking up from the bottom, was unsafe for vessels coming to the wharf. The memorial stated that the west side of Pownall dock was in a similar condition and asked that something be done to Pownall Wharf immediately.

Councillor Crabbe moved that the subject be referred to the Public Property Committee, explaining at the same time that nothing could be done to Queen's wharf dock until the services of the dredge could be obtained, which would probably not be until the autumn. Motion carried.

Councillor Beer, in accordance with a notice at last meeting, moved that the sum of $20 be paid to the Citizens' Band to enable that band to purchase new music, and as an inducement for them to play in the Gardens in the evenings. He said that hundreds of citizens gather there, it would be better for the Council to assist the band than that the citizens who really wished for the band to give these evening concerts should have to contribute the necessary funds out of their own pockets.

Councillor Taylor did not think the Council had any right to vote the citizen's money away in that manner. It was true enough that there were hundreds of citizens who resorted to the gardens in the evenings, but again, he said, there were thousands who did not, and he did not think that taxpayers in general should pay for the amusement of a few.

Councillor Crabbe said he would like to know out of which fund the $20 would be drawn to pay the band. There being no estimate for the amount he could not see where the money would come from.

The motion was then put and lost. The vote was as follows:— Ayes—Beer, McKay, Hughes. Nays—Crabbe, Hooper, Hogan, Robertson, Taylor.

Councillor McKay seconded by Councillor Hooper, moved that from July 1st, 1892, the salary of the Water Commissioners be reduced to $300 per year to be divided between them as they thought proper.

Councillor Beer said that it was ridiculous to ask men to give bonds for $10,000, and then offer them a salary of about $100 each.

Councillor Hughes considered the usefulness of the Water Commissioners a thing of the past. As to pay, there were men in the Council who did far more work than the Commissioners and received no pay whatever.

Motion was then put and carried. Yeas—Hogan, Hooper, McKay, Hughes, Robertson, Taylor. Nays—Crabbe, Beer.

A resolution was introduced by Councillor McKay to dismiss the Assistant City Clerk.

In connection with this motion, His Worship the Mayor expressed the opinion that one clerk could not do the work well. The last minutes of the Council recorded were of March last; and when two clerks, working hard, cannot keep up with the work on hand, how could one? He hoped, if the Council dismissed the Assistant Clerk, they would remember at a future date what he had now said to them on the subject.

The motion dismissing the Assistant Clerk was carried, Crabbe, Beer and Hooper voting against.

His Worship brought to the notice of the Council that the hospital now being moved on Water Street was a source of grievance to the citizens thereabouts and was also a great extent impeding traffic. He said that advised by the Surveyor, he had granted a license covering four weeks. The building was over four weeks in moving already and therefore now is a nuisance to the city. Besides, he was doubtful whether the building would go down Water Street.

The city surveyor thought there would be no trouble in moving it if the poles on each side of the street were straightened up. The small trees which lined the streets would bend over enough to allow the building to pass.

On motion, all present who were interested in the matter were asked to come to the bar and speak for themselves. Mr. P. P. Archibald, proprietor of the Queen Hotel, and T. C. James, Esq., representing the Anglo-American Telegraph Company, addressed the Council.

Councillor Crabbe moved that no further license be granted for the removal of the building. Motion carried.

Councillor Hughes, seconded by Councillor Hooper, moved that the salary of Wm. Maher, city teamster, be raised to $400 per year. Carried.

The lease for market tolls expiring on the 16th inst., it was ordered that tenders be called for at once.

Councillor Crabbe informed the Council that the amount voted for improving the streets, $5,000, had been all expended.

Councillor Hughes said that the money had been very economically used and complained that the amount voted had been far too small. If the citizens complained of having no sidewalks on the street they must know that the committee had no funds to pay for making them.

Moved by Councillor Robertson, seconded by Councillor Hooper that D. Farquharson be re-appointed a member of the City School Board.

The Mayor and Councillors Crabbe and Beer explained that the Provincial Government appointed four and the City Council only three. Therefore, Mr. Farquharson being a member of the Government that body would have a representation of five in the board, while the city of Charlottetown would have only two. While speaking in the highest terms of Mr. Farquharson's ability as a school trustee they thought it was not fair that the local Government should have so many members on the board.

Hon. D. Laird and Dr. McLeod were nominated in amendment but the main motion was carried.

The report of the committee appointed to investigate the manner in which the personal property of the city was cared for was then read, together with the examination of certain officials.

A heated duel of words took place between Councillors Taylor and Crabbe in connection with the report.

Councillor Crabbe announced that he wished to resign his position as chairman of the Finance Committee. On motion the resignation was not accepted.

Councillor Hughes reported progress on the work on the drain on Richmond Street. Council adjourned sine die.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Letter to Mr. Hamilton.

"I love everything that's old. Old friends, old times, old manners, old books, old wine.—GOLDSMITH.

MR. EDITOR.—Permit me briefly to reply to the "open letter" of my good friend, Mr. Hamilton, which appeared in THE EXAMINER of the 9th inst:

TO JOHN HAMILTON, Esq., DEAR SIR,—On behalf of the Pioneer Committee, I acknowledge with thanks your interesting and humorous letter, in reply to our circular. I regret to learn that so few relics of the olden time are to be found in your locality. Those in your own family, the "Scranny leather pocket-book" and your good old maiden aunt's "kirtle" would find an honored place in our collection of "old nick nackets" I am happy, however, to inform you that from other sections of the Island we are daily receiving contributions from those who have not forgotten their ancestors, but on the contrary have sacredly preserved mementos of the old pioneers, whose memories will be celebrated at the approaching gathering of the class.

I proof of which a few extracts from replies already received will show—the Queen, over a century old; iron hinges (for the door of our log cabin) taken from Scotland to this Island in the year 1772 by a noble family of pioneers; horn spoons, wooden spoons, drinking shell, old time piece, lamp, window fan, winder, reel, spindle, distaff, spring wheel, old snuff box, old Gaelic and English books, ledgers about 100 years old kept in Charlottetown, oak ches with wooden hinges used in the Highlands over two centuries ago, chopping axe, weapons that did service on Hamper and Barket, flail, reaping hook, and the "Caschrom."

These are among the articles already secured by the Pioneer Committee, and as we have extended the time for receiving contributions to the 25th inst., we are assured that our list by that time will be greatly augmented.

You will, therefore, my quondam friend, see that "primitive implements of hand labor," though not now in use, have been preserved as heirlooms in Scottish families who revere the memories of their ancestors. Thanking you for your valued verses, and trusting that you will again draw from your well stored literary resources further evidence of your desire to aid our Commemorative celebration, I remain yours very sincerely,

JAS. MACDONALD, Sec'y of Pioneer Committee. Charlottetown, July 11, 1892.

Courtesy in the City Council.

Sir,—Very properly His Worship Mayor Haviland insisted upon courtesy being extended to the chair at the last Council meeting. But His Worship, I am sorry to say, must have forgotten his courtesy when a councillor, wishing to stop an altercation between the Chancellor of the Exchequer and Councillor Taylor, and proceed to business, asked for a report on certain committees, which was sharply told by His Worship to "report away." Now, if His Worship wishes the Councillors to extend to him the courtesy due him he must set the example and extend the same to them.

CITIZEN.

—THE city of St. John's has been a great sufferer from fires. On the 12th June, 1846, what has up to the present time always been alluded to as the great fire broke out at eight o'clock in the morning, and in spite of all the endeavors of the firemen, spread to such an extent that almost all the city was consumed. The Governor of the Colony attempted to check the fire by blowing up a number of houses with gunpowder, in performing which work an artilleryman was killed. But the fire crossed the break and ignited a number of oil vats in which were over 25,000 seals. The first news which reached Charlottetown about this fire was contained in a letter from Pictou, published in the Islander of the 26th June, 1846, just fourteen days after the fire. In those days news did not travel as it does now. Another Island paper, the Constitutionist, of the 27th June, 1846, in its account of the fire says that "at seven o'clock in the evening the fire was all over, and the moon rose in cloudless splendor, throwing her mild blue light on a homeless population who stood viewing with intense anguish the smoking ruins of their habitations." Many of the homeless people spent the night in the open fields and many in tents pitched in front of Government House. Every mercantile establishment but one was destroyed, and such fears were entertained lest food should run short that the Governor of the Colony issued a proclamation forbidding the export of provisions.

SUCCESS.—Mr. Henry Waller, who is well known in Charlottetown as a musician of rare skill, and who, when Mrs. Scott-Siddons visited here, gave some musical recitals that are yet pleasantly remembered, has sold to the "Bostonians," an opera company in New York, the opera entitled "The Scout." This work is the composition of Mr. Waller, and the words are written by a clever young St. Louis editor. It is quite a compliment to Mr. Waller to have his work accepted by a company like the Bostonians, who have been playing "Robin Hood" with great success in the Madison Square Theatre. "The Scout" will be produced in November at Madison Square.

THE BAND CONCERTS.—In the days gone by, Queen Square used to be a dingy, forlorn wilderness, where no man cared to linger. Then a private citizen took it in hand, and with the assistance of his fellow-citizens, transformed it into the beautiful garden which it is at present. Now, people may be found in the square morning, noon and night, enjoying the attractions of the place. It is very doubtful if all this would have come to pass, had it not been for the energy and perseverance of one or two men, and it is because no man has been found to take the matter in hand, that we have this summer been deprived of the promenade band concerts, which were such an attractive feature last summer. Last night at the City Council, Councillor Beer moved that the sum of $20 be voted to the Citizens' Band for new music, so that the concerts in the gardens might be continued this summer. But the motion was defeated. Twenty dollars! Well, perhaps this is too large a sum to pay out in order that thousands of our citizens may have the additional enjoyment of band concerts in Queen Square Gardens.
