Battle Shapes Up

A great battle appears to be shaping up for The Gold Cup and Saucer classic which goes this Friday night at Charlottetown Driving Park.

Bob Brook and Willie's Adios split the dashes last Monday night in The Evening Patriot Invitational and both will have many supporters in Friday's big go. June Byrd looked mighty good in both outings and had loads of steam in the homelane in each trip. She nearly caught Bob Brook in that final mile and there are plenty who will tell you that she will head the parade come Friday.

Edgewood Scott displayed plenty of talent in that second trip of the feature. It took a great drive by 'Roach' MacGregor to get June Byrd by Edgewood in the final yards.

Then Tammany Hall will be there fighting it out for supremacy this Friday. The pacer owned by Stan Mayhew and Jack Brown has been training great of late and seems certain to start in this $2500 classic two nights from now.

Just who the rest of the pack will be, we weren't sure at the time of writing but we have the idea that folks are going to see the most thrilling Gold Cup and Saucer yet presented.

CONSIDERING the adverse weather conditions Monday night, that was a pretty fair turnout of people and healthy pari-mutuel betting. Neither the attendance nor the betting reached the proportions of the corresponding night a year ago, but things were a great deal better than promoters hoped for when the rain started to try and spoil the show. It rained a lot in the western sections of the province and many persons figured the race would be cancelled. We had calls ourselves from folks wondering if there was any chance of the race program going ahead. At that time it wasn't even raining in Charlottetown.

So the CDP folks were fairly lucky at that. They went through the affair without a hitch and everybody present appeared to enjoy themselves to the fullest.

There'll be greater fun as the week progresses.

We're keeping one eye on that National League race and we'll have a few comments on those Dodgers and Giants tomorrow.

Good Playoff Opener

The first play-off game between the Pontiacs and Junior Legionaires which the Legion won 4-3 was a good one in spite of the fact that rain showers kept falling at about ten minute intervals. They were not heavy enough to have the game called, but the ball and the field kept getting a little sloppier, and finally in the sixth inning a harder shower did suspend operations for a while. In spite of this, the fielding looked sharp, but in our opinion the batting was somewhat anemic. 19 strikeouts was a lot of whiffing the breezes for 7 1-2 innings. Either we have some budding Sandy Koufaxes in our midst, or the boys need more batting practices. They have decided to play nine-inning games, which, as August moves along may be pretty difficult to finish, and you all know what headaches this can cause the umpires. Besides, when the darkness gets to a certain stage, the game looks more like "button, button, who's got the button" than it does like baseball.

Our apologies to Enman Drug and RCAF Softball teams, their Wednesday evening's game, with its dramatic finish, through inadvertence did not get into print. Enman Drug, down 8-0 coming into their final inning, staged a rally that almost snatched victory from what looked like overwhelming defeat. Coach Whiston started the bombardment placing himself in the line-up as pinch-hitter and rapping out a single, the boys decided to play "follow the leader" and before the batting spree was over pitcher John Sandilands was shelled from the slab, and Bob Hopper, though mauled a bit also, managed to get the side out with the score 8-7. Had Enman's won the game, it would have been similar to a sensational hockey victory here some years ago, Windy Steele's team, down 8-0 at the end of the second period, came back in the third to win 9-8.

A Fine Showing

Speaking of golf (and we do so these days in a low voice when nobody is listening) Mary Ellen Driscoll of Saint John left little doubt in anyone's mind of her skill in directing that little dimpled projectile. She won the final for the ladies golf crown 12 up and 11 to go, a score which, we believe, is not too often seen in match play. In the semi-finals it was much the same. So, let's admit it. Mary Ellen has a little too much "savoir fairway" for the other golfing ladies of the Maritimes. At least, since Rita Lohnes went to Florida. We think, however, our queen of the links, Blanche Hogg, made a fine showing, and her game with Cairine Wilson, which ended one-up, could easily have gone the other way and projected Blanche into the finals. So a couple of hip hips for Blanche, and may she go on to further honors.

Congratulations to Enzor Campbell, who was chosen with Lyall Huggan of Charlottetown to represent Prince Edward Island youth in the tennis tournament in Ottawa. Congratulations also to Miss Pat Pickard, who has got tennis, which had been sleeping in a cocoon of disinterest in Summerside, flying higher than it has for a long time.

Great Finishes

Rarely has there been such spine-tingling finishes as the horses and drivers have been dishing up to us recently at Summerside Raceway. When Eric Johnston says "Here they come!" they're usually bunched like grapes on a vine. The weather has been ideal for harness racing, and large crowds are taking advantage of it.

There. We've given you something about five of our popular summer sports. If anything's doing in track and field, horse shoes, or hop scotch, no reports have come in to us.

Alberta Takes Canadian Interprovincial Ch'ship

By W. R. WHEATELY

SAINT JOHN, N.B. (CP)—John Poyen, 47 - year - old oil company executive who plays golf for the fun of it, shot a two-under-par 69 Tuesday over Saint John's Riverside course to spark Alberta's four - man team to the Canadian interprovincial golf championship.

It was the second win for Alberta since the Willingdon Trophy was put up for competition in 1927. The Albertans' previous win was in 1960, after a playoff with British Columbia.

In wrapping up their victory Tuesday in the second 18-hole round of the 36-hole competition, the all-Calgary team finished with an aggregate medal score of 583, seven strokes better than the second-place British Columbia four.

The defending Ontario team was third with 598 and Manitoba, in fourth place, was only one stroke back at 599.

The New Brunswick - Prince Edward Island combination and Quebec's quartet were deadlocked for fifth place with 618. Nova Scotia followed with 627 and Saskatchewan trailed with 636.

PLAYOFF LIKELY

The qualifying round for the Canadian Amateur was played simultaneously and as the field straggled in late the qualifying figure was still not established and a playoff was likely.

Where Doug Silverberg was the hero of the piece for Alberta Monday with a one-under-par .., Poyen took over Tuesday. His 69 was seven strokes better than his first round and gave him a 145 total for the 36 holes, the same figure as posted by Keith Alexander whose rounds were 73-73.

Joe Ferguson shot 72-74 for the Alberta team and Silverberg wound up with 147. He finished the first nine Tuesday with par 36, but his game suddenly went back and he was six over par with a 41 coming home for a 77.

It was the consistency of the Alberta team that carried it through. When the firing was all over, there was only a two-stroke difference among the four players.

Alberta started the final round with a 291 total for the first 18 holes, only two strokes ahead of British Columbia's team who were helped by Bert Ticehurst's 69.

Ticehurst started poorly Tuesday, taking a seven at the par-four first hole, but settled down and finished with 73 for a 142 total, low man on the B.C. team with even par for the 36 holes.

Bill Wakeham of Victoria was second low with 74-72—146.

Ontario, in fourth place after 18 holes, moved up a notch at the finish to beat out Manitoba by a single stroke.

The veteran Nick Weslock of Toronto put together two fine rounds of 72-71 for 143 and Gary Cowan of Kitchener shot 75-71.

RUNS INTO TROUBLE

Bob Ptashnik of Toronto had two 75 rounds, and Mike Whitney of Kitchener ran into heavy trouble on the opening nine with a weird 45 and finished with 83 for a 159 total.

Ted Homenuik of Winnipeg shot a par 71 in his final round to lead the Manitoba team with 148, a stroke ahead of Harry Critchley and veteran Bill Pidlaski.

Bill Bishop and Ed Reevey of the host Riverside club led the N.B.-P.E.I. team with 148 each. Quebec's best was 150, on rounds of 77-73, by Harry Boychuk of Montreal.

Lawrence O'Hearn led the Nova Scotia team with a pair of 74s for 148 and Jim Scissons was low for Saskatchewan with 72-79—151.
