Beloved Pastor Of St. Andrews To Retire On Oct. 1st

Rev. Terence Campbell, who for the past fifteen years has been Pastor of the Church at St. Andrews, will relinquish his charge on October first, and retire from active parochial work, thus bringing to a close a Priestly career replete with productive activity.

Father Campbell, whose vigorous, hearty handclasp and mental alertness indicate a physical fitness seldom found in a gentleman who has passed the four-score mark, was born at Mill Cove, near Curran Ban, the son of Michael Campbell of that place, and Mrs. Campbell, formerly Katherine O'Brien of Wheatley River, who was a sister of Archbishop O'Brien of Halifax.

After teaching school at Souris for a short time, Father Campbell began his advanced studies at St. Dunstan's University, where he graduated in 1893 as a member of the first class on whom the honor of Bachelor of Arts was conferred at that seat of learning.

Continuing his studies both in this country and in Europe, Father Campbell was ordained at Rome on June 5th, 1898. On his return to Canada he joined the staff of St. Dunstan's University where he taught until 1904.

In that year he was assigned as Pastor at Kelly's Cross where he ministered until 1909 when he returned to St. Dunstan's University as Rector, a position he filled with unusual success for six years.

It was here that his scholarly attainment coupled with a kind and gracious manner won for him the deep and lasting regard of the students under his tuition and care.

In 1915 Father Campbell began his pastorate at Alberton when he remained until 1897, when his appointment to St. Andrews was announced, and where he has remained until the present time.

In the late 20's he visited Europe for several months in company with Monsignor MacLellan, terminating his tour with an extended stay at Rome where he was privileged to enjoy the scenes and reflect on the incidents of his student days.

On Sunday, June 8th, 1948, Father Campbell was signally honored by the parishioners of St. Andrews as he celebrated on that occasion the fiftieth anniversary of his ordination. At that time he celebrated a solemn High Mass and the sermon was preached by Rev. R. V. MacKenzie, Rector of St. Dunstan's University, after which there was an address and presentation made on behalf of the parishioners. On June 8th, the jubilarian was the guest of His Excellency the Bishop of Charlottetown and Clergy of the Diocese at a luncheon at the Charlottetown Hotel.

While Father Campbell has been relieved of the care and exacting responsibilities incident to a parochial charge, he will no doubt continue to find occasion to exercise his outstanding qualities of mind and heart while in residence at St. Dunstan's University, where it is understood he will make his home in the future.

Friends of Mr. Gifford Bain, Cornwall, will be sorry to hear that he has entered the Provincial Sanatorium and wish him a speedy recovery.

The numerous friends of Mrs. Leo B. Doyle (Georgie) will be pleased to know that she is recovering nicely after recently undergoing an operation in the Charlottetown Hospital.

The many friends of Mrs. Lorne MacNeill, Cavendish, are pleased to know she is making a satisfactory recovery after undergoing an operation on Thursday in the P. E. Island Hospital.

Mrs. Annetta Houston, accompanied by her daughter Leitha of Charlottetown, left by bus Thursday for Rothesay, N. B., where they will visit with Mrs. Houston's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Barwise.

The many relatives and friends of Mr. E. O. Beagan will be pleased to learn that he is up and about again following his recent illness at the City Hospital. Mr. Beagan, a well known engineer of the C. N. R., hopes to return to his post in the next few weeks.

Mr. Wendell MacInnis of Boston, is vacationing on the island, with relatives and friends in Kings County. A former resident of Lorne Valley, Mr. MacInnis has been living in the United States for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard H. Hays, Riverside, California, arrived in Charlottetown yesterday for a short visit. Mr. Hays is part owner of the two papers in Riverside and as a newspaperman became the close friend of Senator W. A. Buchanan of the Lethbridge Herald who like Mr. Hays spends his summers at Waterton, Alberta. They are registered at the Charlottetown Hotel.

LONDON—(CP)—British toy manufacturers are speeding manufacture of what is expected to be the most popular toy this Christmas—a model coronation coach complete with horses and outriders.

Potato Picking Season Slightly Later This Year

Potato picking on a Province-wide scale will commence a bit later this year than usual. Because of weather conditions many fields are still green and growers are delaying crop gathering a week or two.

The National Employment Office in Charlottetown has advanced orders for only fifty pickers, which is considerably below the total of an average year. Most of the orders specify that the men will be required in the second week of October in the second week of October in the second week of October.

As in other years the Kinkora district will take most of the outside labor, and already the Summerside National Employment Office is preparing to supply this potato growing center with about two hundred men.

Cape Breton will provide much of the manpower for lifting the tuber crop and for the movement from that island will be carried out by bus.

Through arrangements made by the Charlottetown and Summerside Employment Offices, the potato pickers from the mainland are brought to this Province only as they are needed from day to day. No pool of pickers is maintained in the Province from which men can be obtained on short notice.

However after four or five hundred men arrive, and a proportion of them finish up with the farmers with whom they have been working, it is possible to transfer these men to other farms.

More local people are applying for potato picking jobs at the Charlottetown Office than has been the case for a number of years.

Miss Elsie Gallant, South Rustico, left recently to begin her second year at Normal School, Montreal. This school is conducted by the Notre Dame Sisters.

Mrs. Marie Blanchard who spent the summer at her old home in St. Martinville, has returned to Saint John, N. B.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Iken of Montreal are glad to welcome them to Rusticoville and vicinity while they are enjoying their honeymoon. Mrs. Iken is the daughter of Mrs. Ben Gauthier, Rusticoville.

On Sunday, September 21st Mr. and Mrs. Frank Doucette, Hunter River, accompanied by their two sons, Louis and Eric, motored to St. Joseph's, New Brunswick, and also visited relatives in Moncton, N. B. Louis is attending St. Joseph's University, N. B.

Hospitality Of P. E. I. Appreciated By U.S. Ambassador

High praise for the hospitality of the people here was given by United States Ambassador Stanley Woodward in a letter to Premier J. Walter Jones. The Ambassador visited this Province last week.

On his return to the Embassy at Ottawa he wrote the Premier thanking him "for the hospitality extended to my wife and myself and to the members of our party during our recent visit to Prince Edward Island."

"We were all impressed by the cordiality shown us on every part of the province, I think that the north shore at Stanhope is one of the loveliest places I have ever seen."

Wilf Carter and Hillbilly Jewels Well Received

Wilf Carter and his four Hillbilly Jewels made their initial appearance in Charlottetown at the Rowley last evening and left no uncertainty in the minds of the capacity audience regarding their ability to entertain in a first class manner. The singing of their leader, of modern popular songs to the accompaniment of the clever artists who are with him, left nothing to be desired in this type of entertainment. Many of the songs were of his own composition, and familiar to his audience through R.C.A. Victor records, which Mr. Carter has been producing for more than 20 years.

Members of the entertaining party include Freddie L. A. G., world's champion old time fiddler of 1950, Vivian Brown, talented vocalist and musician and Joe Brown clever on the accordion, Randy Stewart, comedian and "Tiny" complete the party with Ken Reynolds of Ottawa as business manager.

Mr. Carter, who has just returned from a tour of Newfoundland regretted very much that his two young daughters who did several ballet and tap dancing numbers, had to leave the party and return to high-school in Calgary, before coming to the island. The Hillbilly Jewels appear in Summerside this afternoon and evening.

Reopening Dance At Clover Club

A house-warming reopening dance at the Clover Club last night gave the veterans and their wives an opportunity to see just how cozy and inviting the renovated quarters are, and indicate the possibilities for developing regular monthly meetings of this nature during the winter months.

In the short ceremony of welcome to the veterans and their wives which preceded the dance, President Charles Sinclair complimented and thanked Frank Morgan, chairman of the Clover Club committee and Frank Rush chairman of the house committees for the splendid work done on the quarters during the summer months. Remarks of approval from the ladies present, evidenced their appreciation of the new lay-out and color scheme.

Fifty new tables with matched chairs of metal done in black and stainless steel with red tops and seats, are invitingly arranged around three sides of the re-surfaced dancing area.

A large red and black canopy six feet wide runs the full length of the West side of the hall giving an intimate but not crowded appearance on the outskirts of the dance floor.

The walls are of Robin egg blue, interspersed with mirrors at regular intervals on the panels. The windows have been improved greatly by the curtain arrangement which fits in nicely with the color scheme and were made and draped by Mrs. Sutherland MacLean a new piano, presided over by Jackie Doyle, who with the orchestra provide the dance music, is also a welcome addition to the Club.

The get-together of the veterans last night is to be followed by a public dance this evening to which many have been looking forward with anticipation.

Harvesting The '52 Potato Crop

The attention of all potato growers is drawn to the last of the weekly potato bulletins which states that "weather conditions during the past week have been conducive to the development and spread of late blight." The greatest danger now lies in the too hasty harvesting of fields which are green or even partly green.

Late blight-spores which cause the rot for perhaps two weeks or more even after the tops have been killed. Therefore, if the tubers are brought into contact with this top soil during harvest, or worse yet with green tops which may still carry the blight spores, then trouble is sure to develop later on in storage or after the stock has reached destination.

Unless a killing frost occurs between now and October 1st every green spray should then receive a good field of top killing chemical. This by all means allow at least two weeks before attempting to dig.

Still another item on harvesting. We hear from many sources that the plants this year have set fewer tubers than normal, in many cases only three potatoes per hill. This means the average size will be larger than if more tubers per hill had developed. It stands to reason a large tuber will cut or bruise much more readily than smaller ones so that extra care must be exercised this year at actual digging time.

One third of our total acreage is Sebago and this variety in particular is very subject to Fusarium rot. This disease, however, will not develop except through a bruise or cut. Every person handling our potato crop from the time the tubers leave the ground until it arrives at destination should be made to realize they are handling a perishable product which bruises very easily and that such bruises might eventually result in total loss. This applies in equal measure to growers, pickers, truckers, graders, dealers and all others who handle potatoes.

Our future trade in both seed and tablestock depends to a great extent on the appearance and condition of the packed article when it arrives at final destination.

Street Sweeping Problem Discussed

The City Street Committee held their regular weekly meeting yesterday afternoon under the chairmanship of Councillor Johnstone, with Couns. Gilmour, Farmer, Gormley and Keefe also in attendance. Progress reports were submitted indicating that street operations were being kept strictly up to schedule.

Other Councillors present in consultation discussed the situation regarding the effectiveness of the new street sweeper. Although their talk was quite informal, the opinion was expressed that a resolution at the next Council meeting calling for all motor vehicles to be off the streets between 1 a.m. and 7 a.m. would be seriously considered. Attention was called to the effectiveness of such a by-law in other cities where sweepers were operated successfully, as it would appear that a street on which cars are parked overnight could not be adequately covered.
